Heart Strength Heart strength, or Heart weakness, means Nerve strength, or Nerve weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves. This clearly explains why as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is also directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it cures real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with Dr. Shoop's Restorative (ALL DEALERS)

FROM HAWAII.

Items of Interest Taken From The Honolulu Star.

Through the kindness of Archie McCoy, we this week had the pleasure of scanning a newspaper published at Honolulu, and sent him by his brother, Thurston, who is in that city with the great American fleet, being on the battleship Georgia. It is the fleet edition of the Hawaiian Star and is composed of twenty-eight pages. It is replete with good reading, bearing on the many industries of that country, and as to advertising, well it would put most of us to shame, as almost every known business is advertised in its columns. After reading the paper and noting the many improvements already accomplished there, and realizing how little is known of that country by our readers, we will take from that paper the following facts about the city of Honolulu.

- Honolulu has: 45,000 inhabitants, including 14,000 Hawaiians, 12,000 Japanese, 6,300 Chinese, 5,400 Portuguese, 4,300 Americans, British and Germans, 800 Porto Ricans, 1000 Koreans, 1,200 other nationalities. 170 miles of streets. 26 miles of electric car service. Telephone service, with 1,500 subscribers. Five public parks. Aquarium. More Mail-Order Business.

To Business Men— Every local merchant in Nebraska has felt the unfair competition of the eastern mail-order house. There is a state association of merchants, the object of which is to make sentiment antagonizing the mail order business. The local merchant contends that it is unjust to him, a local taxpayer to permit a company paying no taxes in the state to ship into a Nebraska community merchandise at prices less than the local merchant can afford to sell for, because of the insurance, tax and rental rates he is compelled to pay for the privilege of doing business. He is casting about for some means by which the mail order business may be stamped out.

In this connection, it is interesting to cite one phase of the situation in Butler county, brought about by some of the towns whose people voted not to issue liquor licenses. A David City banker writes that immediately upon the adoption of the dry policy, there sprang up an active mail order business in wet goods. The same is true in Beatrice. All such money, of course, leaves the county, and while as much liquor as formerly may be consumed, the volume of local money is depleted. It is said on good authority that every Saturday night trains from Kansas City to Topeka carry many mail order original packages of wet goods for the individual consumer at Topeka.

A well known citizen of Cook, Nebraska, writes of the mail order business in wet goods as applied to that town as follows: "In one month there has been shipped into Cook seven and one-half barrels of wine and whiskey and twenty barrels and five cases of beer."

The Chamber and Commerce of Savannah, Georgia, has issued a circular stating that the new prohibition law of the state has created an immense mail order traffic in liquor amounting to something like $200,000 a month, which is leaving the state, and in return for which liquor is received for local consumption.

During the days when the policy of prohibition was sought to be enforced in Iowa, the mail order business from the Omaha houses into the various towns of western Iowa was enormous; the money of course, leaving the local communities of Iowa to enhance the profits of the Omaha dealers. The enactment of the Mule tax law in 1894 put a stop to most of the traffic.

These instances are few compared with the large number within the knowledge of the people of Nebraska towns which have gone dry. The Federal Supreme court has, in three notable cases, decided that no valid law could be passed to prevent a citizen of one state ordering liquor shipped from another state for his own use; therefore the original package mail-order traffic in wet goods is strictly legitimate from a legal point of view, or, at any rate, the right cannot be abridged by law.

It is a question for local merchants and taxpayers to decide for themselves whether or not they shall favor a local policy which would be certain to build up an immense mail-order business, thus creating a constant drain upon the money of any town adopting that policy.

THE TROUBLES OF "BUNCH"

Hiawatha's "Bad Nigger" is in a Heap o' Trouble.

"Bunch" Alexander blew into town from Falls City on a side door Pullman early on the morning of the Fourth. He wandered around town and Sheriff Seaman arrested him, on a warrant sworn out by Officer Zeiber, charging him with stealing a ride on a train. When he came up before the justice at 10 o'clock Monday he was asked time to get some of his friends to help him out. He was given until 11 o'clock and failed to find one. He then plead guilty and was sentenced $25 and costs and committed to the county jail. He would also have been handed 30 days but he promised to go to work in the country. If he does not keep his promise he will be jerked up for vagrancy and given time to leave town. "Bunch" has got to leave town or get all the punishment coming to him. On account of being held here he could not attend justice court in Falls City Monday morning where he is to answer to the charge of burglary. It seems that "Bunch" has become enough of a criminal to have two court engagements at one time. He did not count on being detained by the Hiawatha end of the business, and not daring to again steal a ride on a train it is doubtful if he was able to get to Falls City. He says that walking doesn't agree with his health.—Hiawatha World.

Knockers' Just Desert.

Do you know what we think is the best story in the Bible? It may surprise you, but it's about Noah and the flood. We say this even in the face of educated folks, who turn up their noses and declare this story a fake. You remember Noah had to work a long time on that ark. It was uphill business, too, at best, to go on toiling and sweating day after day in the hot sun, building a boat away out on the dry land while the local anvil and hammer club sat around, spitting tobacco juice upon his lumber, whittling up his pine boards with their jack knives and telling him what a fool he was to expect a big rain in a country that was too dry to grow alfalfa. But he kept at it. Finally the flood came, and every mother's son of the croakers were drowned. This is the only instance we know of, either in sacred or profane history, where a bunch of knockers got exactly what was coming to them.—Dawson News Boy.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course, you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless, feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a falling appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.
