

CHAUTAUQUA TALENT

COMMENTS ON A FEW OF THE LEADERS.

The Following Are Among The Best To Appear During The Assembly.

DENTON C. CROWL.

Denton C. Crowl entertains by reproducing the original lectures of Samuel P. Jones, in voice, manner, style, pathos, fun and good hard sense. Mr. Crowl is the only person who ever received permission from Sam Jones to use any or all of his lectures or sermons. This entertainment will be unique as well as most pleasing. Mr. Crowl will appear on August 11.

PROF. M. L. BOMAN.

Prof. M. L. Boman of the Iowa State Agricultural College is one of the very best speakers in his line, and is sure to be a drawing card for farm day, August 8. He will visit the local corn fields before the lecture, and after studying the stands of corn, the insects, pests and diseases and the methods of farm management, will give an address, which should be heard by every farmer in this section.

The Midland Jubilee Singers will furnish music for Saturday, August 8, Farm Day. They will give a concert both afternoon and evening, which will be high class in every respect. These singers are a great favorite at Chautauqua gatherings, and never fail to please.

HON. J. G. CAMP.

Hon. J. G. Camp, who will be a feature of the day's program for August 13th, is an ex-member of the legislature of Georgia, and is highly recommended by both press and public as an orator and educator. He has been styled "The Orator of The South," and in the past four years has delivered more than 1000 lectures.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for swollen, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar 50c. Sold by all dealers.

CHINAMEN AS RUG MAKERS

Their Product, Long Known in Eastern Markets, is Now Being Largely Exported.

Chinamen as rug makers are new to the western world but not to the eastern. In Peking more than 1,000 persons are employed in the production of rugs of all kinds of material, silk, sheep's wool, camel's wool, felt, jute, hemp, yak hair, and even the hair of the cow. The industry recently has been introduced in several of the industrial schools for the employment of the poor. The silk carpets are like those from India, Turkey or Persia so far as colors and quality of material are concerned, but they are vastly different in design, unless a pattern from abroad has been submitted for copying. The foreign designs are faithfully reproduced when furnished. The wool rugs are used throughout China, Japan and the orient. They are also exported to Europe. The popular Chinese patterns for carpets are floral, geometrical and dragon designs. The carpets are fully half an inch thick. The Chinese carpet industry originated in saddle cloths and trappings made for horses used in processions and by Chinese of high rank, developing into the rug and carpet crafts on the advent of the foreigner. The saddle blankets still are used and often are highly finished in the most elaborate designs and patterns.

THE MATHEMATICAL MIND.

A literary worker who wished to do a large amount of reading by proxy advertised for an assistant capable of digesting the contents of a tremendous quantity of books in a very short while. While weighing each applicant's qualifications for rapid, assimilative reading he inquired carefully into his mathematical acquirements. Finally he chose the man who was most skillful at untangling arithmetical problems. "On the surface that seems an unnecessary accomplishment in this case," he said, "but experience has taught me that anybody who is expert in figures can read any kind of literature put before him with greater accuracy and speed than the person lacking in mathematical acumen."

IN THE BRITISH ARMY.

Among those offering to enlist in the army last year it was found that 27,921 unskilled men came forward, against 13,022 skilled tradesmen, in addition to 15,223 men classified separately, such as fishermen, boatmen, stewards, barmen and clerks. About one-fourth of each category was rejected, the unskilled having a slight advantage in the numbers passing. In the army Englishmen predominate; there are 178,240, against 3,588 Welshmen, 18,129 Scotsmen, 22,836 Irishmen, 9,014 Colonials and 25 aliens.—Westminster (Eng.) Gazette.

CLIMBING RECORD.

The "Alpine Journal" contains a full account of the recent ascent of Kabru, near Darjeeling, by two Norwegian climbers, Messrs. Monrad-Aas and Rubenson. The height of the peak, according to the Indian survey measurements, is 24,015 feet. The oncoming of darkness turned the climbers back before they could quite reach the top; but they report that they pitched their highest camp at 22,000 feet, and succeeded in attaining an elevation of "about 23,900 feet." This, so far as is known, is a record.

LOVED FOR HIMSELF ALONE.

"I saw little Tommy Bangs at the circus."
"Who was with him?"
"That's the point. He is the only, only child, and the devotion to him is really touching. The whole family connection came with him just to enjoy the dear child's pleasure, and they were awfully distressed when it was over because they couldn't find him."

IMPERTINENCE.

"Yes; I gave a million last year to charity."
"I want to know!"
"How I got the money, eh? That's my affair."—Exchange.

HE DIDN'T TAKE THAT.

"Don't you think he is a very taking sort of a man?"
"Not if I judge by the way he received my proposing hint the other day."
