If you have an ear for poetry, how would a verse ending with Haskell and Raskell sound?

Don't worry about Nebraska, the last two weeks makes it absolutely certain that Taft will carry the state.

Mr. Bryan got more than he was looking for when he butted up against Teddy Roosevelt. He finds the presidents pen to be a "big stick."

Jack Windle says he is afraid Hearst will accuse him with business relations with the Standard oil next.

The enforced guarantee of bank deposits is being shown up in its true light. It is like the other Bryan issues in that it sounds good but will not bear investigation.

No cleaner men have ever been nominated for the county offices than Cain, Ward, Zook, Bolejack and Wiltse and every one of them is entitled to the laurels of their party.

Frank Reavis put the issue as follows: "The voters will choose between the party that will give deposits without a guarantee and the party that will give a guarantee without deposits."

A prominent eastern democrat announced his opposition to Bryan last week, "Not because I fear Bryan so much as I do his associates," he said. Haskell, Dahlman, Sullivan, Murphy, Connors, and men of like character for instance.

John Wiltse is making a splendid canvass. His record as a lawyer is clean and able. His industry and faithfulness to his profession is universally recognized. Under his supervision as county attorney the interest of the county will be fully protected and the criminal business will be administered without fear or favor.

Zook, Bolejack, Ward and Cain forms one of the best legislative tickets this county has ever nominated. Each is a good business man, each is honest and courageous, they understand the needs of the people and have the ability to further the interest of Richardson county. This ticket stands squarely for the spirit of the times as exemplified by the administrations of President Roosevelt and Governor Sheldon. These men favor home rule in fact as well as in theory. The consent of no Omaha brewer was asked that they might aspire to represent the people of this county. If elected they will represent the citizens of this county and not the retail liquor dealer's association of Omaha.

Judge Taft was told that he could have Ohio without a struggle if he would compromise with Foraker. He replied that his differences with Foraker were not personal but that they involved the question of right and wrong, "and," he added, "I will not sacrifice a principle for any office." Bryan repudiated Sullivan and others in 1904 when he was not a candidate and made his peace with them in 1908 when he is a candidate. As a result the exposures of Haskell and his crowd will probably make his defeat even greater than it was in 1900 while Taft's character shows to such advantage by the contrast that President Roosevelt predicts for him the greatest majority ever given in the nation's history.

George Watkins is too good a democrat to give The Tribune the privilege of publishing his letters very often, but on another page of this issue, you will find one of his characteristic utterances which indicates clearly that he considers county option an issue and that he doesn't intend to permit the retail liquor dealers' association to cast his vote.

Since the inauguration of Governor Sheldon in Jan., 1907 the state debt has been reduced from $1,917,000 to $536,986. The payment of one and one-half millions of the state indebtedness in less than two years speaks well for the republican state officials.

It is time for Richardson county to take a forward step in the world and help in the election of the next president. Its record for voting with Arkansas, Missouri and Texas is no credit to its people. Wake up and vote the republican ticket straight.

Mr. Bryan asked President Roosevelt for proof and he got it in abundance. But how will Bryan explain to the American people, Haskell's appointment as treasurer of the Democratic National committee after the proof of Haskell's record had been furnished him. Let him answer.

Can it be that those who oppose county option are afraid to trust the farmers on that question? If they are willing to trust them and permit them to have a voice in the matter, then they should withdraw their opposition and declare themselves in favor of county option.

In selecting your candidates for the legislature and for county attorney, compare the men and their records on the questions in which you are interested. It is only in this way that you can cast your vote intelligently.

No young man in the county has a cleaner record or a cleaner character than John Wiltse. As county attorney he will carefully attend to the duties of his office and will prove a credit to the office.

Mr. Cain is one of the brightest men in the county. As state senator, he will be a credit to his constituents.

Reports that come in from the various counties of the First Congressional district point to the re-election of Congressman

Pollard by the largest majority he has yet received. Especially in the agricultural sections of the district is the sentiment strong for him. The farmers appreciate the importance to them of a representative who, himself a farmer, knows what they need and is able to get it for them.

County option will not be an issue says the local democratic organ. Issues, however, are made by conditions and not by newspapers. Hundreds of democrats who intend to vote the republican legislative ticket are doing so because county option is an issue. The republican saloon keepers who voted the democratic primary ticket, did so because they thought county option was an issue. The tons of literature being sent to the voters of this county by the brewers of Omaha, Kansas City, and St. Louis shows what these interests think of county option being an issue. The local democratic organ means that it doesn't want county option to be an issue, only this and nothing more.

COUNTY OPTION

A Few Questions Asked by William Thompson

Falls City, Neb., Sept. 27, 1908
—To the Hon. Henry Gerdes:—
Are the whiskey sellers anarchists? Would they, with determination, break and defy the laws of their country, even a law sanctioned by the popular vote of the people? Nay; had we not better stop and ask, could they or any other element do this? If so, is it not time to stop and consider where we are at? If, as asserted, the farmers are so in favor of the saloon, they would boycott any town which had no saloons, why not give the farmers a chance to vote for the saloons? If the whiskey seller could and would sell more whiskey after or with the saloons closed than with them open why is not the whiskey seller in favor of closing the saloons? He could then take his license money and buy an automobile. And if it is a fact that the whiskey drinker could get his drinks just as easily and could get just as much of it, why is he not for the closing of saloons? With no licenses to be paid he ought to be able to buy his drinks cheaper.

Now, Mr. Gerdes, shall the people rule, or if elected would you act as if it were not safe to let the people decide for or against? We call on you and the other candidates to let the voters of this county know how those who propose to serve us stand on this proposition, as well as on all others that will probably come up in the next legislature.

Weak Heart Action

There are certain nerves that control the action of the heart. When they become weak, the heart action is impaired. Short breath, pain around heart, choking sensation, palpitation, fluttering, feeble or rapid pulse, and other distressing symptoms follow. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a medicine especially adapted to the needs of these nerves and the muscular structure of the heart itself. It is a strengthening tonic that brings speedy relief. Try it.

"For years I suffered with what I thought was stomach trouble, when the doctors told me I had heart trouble. I had tried many remedies, when the Dr. Miles' almanac came into my hands, and I concluded to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I have taken three bottles, and now I am not suffering at all. I am cured and this medicine did it. I write this in the hope that it will attract the attention of others who suffer as I did."

Charley Zoeller returned yesterday from the Texas Panhandle country, where he has been making improvements on his recently purchased land. Charley expects to leave next month for that country having decided to make it his home. He is very enthusiastic as to the future of the Panhandle and thinks that in time it may be as good as old Richardson. Of course we hate to see Charlie leave us, but hope he will experience all the hopes he anticipates.

Broke His Arm

Herman Zoeller is carrying his arm in a sling, the result of being kicked by a horse several days ago. At first the injuries were not thought to be very bad but in a few days after the accident his arm was discovered to be broken. He is getting along nicely.

A Coming Artist

It is not generally known that Falls City has among her rising generation a little artist of more than ordinary ability, but such is the case. It is Albert Crouse, and while he is but eleven years of age, his drawings are attracting much attention. In last Sunday's St. Joe News-Press appeared one of his pictures, which was far ahead of any other in that issue. Albert has a natural talent, which if properly cultivated will surely bring him fame.

Sells at $200 An Acre

Col. M. W. Harding has sold his farm of 56 acres adjoining Humboldt on the north to Grant Parsons for $200 per acre or $11,200. We believe this is the record price for farm land in the state and it is an indisputable fact that Richardson county is entitled to hold this record. It's the best county in the state.—Humboldt Standard.
