Even Bryan hasn't the nerve to predict that he could make times better; it is as far as he dares go to assert that they would continue as good. Don't experiment.

Those who saw and heard Mr. Taft last Thursday, have nothing but the kindest words for him. He not only looks like a great man, but he in fact is great of brain, physique and ability. He is of presidential size.

Have you heard a man say that he wants a change in times and prices? If so, the surest way to get it is to vote for Bryan. If we wish to have the present good times continued, the surest guarantee is to vote for Judge Taft.

There is not a word to be said against any of the republican candidates in this county. They are worthy of the hearty support of every republican voter. Do not be deceived, but vote for the ticket which the people nominated.

Have you ever thought about it? Great orators are never elected president. Think this over. The people want a man for president who reflects over the great issues before the people. They want sound ideas and sane policies. Many words are not proof of wisdom.

The candidate who wants the people's votes and is afraid to trust them on other matters which concern them, acts as if he has not much confidence in the voice of the people. Do you know of any such men? Will you vote for candidates who are afraid to trust you?

The local democratic paper says that the democrats showed every courtesy to Judge Taft during his short stay at Falls City as "suggested by Mr. Bryan." The Tribune thinks too highly of Richardson County democrats to believe it required a suggestion from any source for them to be courteous to a man whose patriotic service to our common country in Rome, the Philippines, Porto Rico, Cuba and the Isthmus of Panama makes the most splendid record of modern times.

The democratic platform promises labor immunity from injunctions and Bryan says such promise settles the labor question. The labor question is solely a question of employment and wages. What will it profit labor to be immune against injunctions if it is out of a job? The democratic platform promises the farmers to reduce the tariff on beef, pork, horses, corn, wheat and barley, and to publish campaign contributions before election. What the farmer wants is a continuation of the present prices for farm products. What will it profit the farmer if he knows ten days before election who is paying Bryan's bills, if his corn, wheat, beef and pork go down in price to the scale that was obtained in the good old democratic days? The American farmer knows a good thing when he sees it, and the present is certainly a good thing for him.

Some laboring men in the east are supporting Bryan because the democratic platform promises an immediate reduction in the tariff on the necessities of life. The democratic speakers tells them that will cheapen their flour, beef and pork. This is true, but these self same laboring men have been able to pay higher prices for flour, beef and pork under republican administrations. Under the tariff framed by the democratic party and written in part by Bryan who was in congress and on the ways and means committee which wrote the bill, laboring men by the tens of thousands were fed at charitable soup houses. However, these laboring men are voting for what they conceive to be their best interest. Where does the interest of the Nebraska farmer lie on the question of cheaper flour, beef and pork?

When you hear any man howling against county option, mark him down as a man who is afraid of the farmers. If he is not, why does he object to letting the farmers vote? Those who favor county option are willing to trust the farmers. Those who oppose it are afraid of their vote and voice. Mr. Farmer, how do you feel about it? If you want a voice in this matter vote for the republican legislative ticket.

Nebraska never had a better legislature than its last. They redeemed every pledge made to the voters of Nebraska. They passed more wholesome laws than any legislature which Nebraska has had in a generation. Will you now turn down the republican candidates and elect a democratic legislature after this splendid record? Certainly not. Vote for Cain, Bolejack, Zook and Ward.

When a democrat tells you that the high price for farm products would continue even if Bryan was elected, just bear in mind that he is only offering you his guess that his article would be just as good. You know what the republican party is giving you. It is your knowledge against his guess.

The democratic platform promises a guarantee for deposits. The republican party promises your deposits and a continuation of the present prosperity which is the best guarantee possible.

The visit of Judge Taft to Falls City was a source of gratification to our people and the splendid impression made by him will find expression at the polls this fall.

JUST SUPPOSE

Our democratic friends say that the farmer will be as prosperous under Bryan as he has been under Roosevelt.

This is merely an assertion. The farmer certainly never has been prosperous under democratic administrations, but—suppose you used a certain kind of cultivator, and suppose it had given you splendid satisfaction, and suppose you wanted another and the dealer told you he couldn't supply your wants but could give you another "just as good."

Suppose, just suppose, that the dealer across the street could sell you the kind you knew was good.

Don't you suppose you would buy the old reliable cultivator?

But suppose you had tried the kind the dealer told you was "just as good," and had found it to be inferior and of no use?

Don't you know you would go across the street and buy the good kind.

Suppose you apply the illustration to the political situation.

Where Are You?

The following letter has been mailed to each of the legislative candidates on the democratic ticket, the past week, by a committee from the county option league. They feel that as the republican candidates have already declared themselves in favor of the movement, that the voter has a perfect right to know where the opposition stand. Here is the letter:

DEAR SIR:—At a meeting of the Richardson (Co.) County Option League held at Falls City, on the 5th inst., the undersigned were appointed a committee to ascertain how the several legislative candidates, who were not present at said meeting to declare their position upon the question of county option; whether or not they are for or against the passage of a law popularly termed a "County Option Law."

We were further instructed to make this inquiry by letter. Please let us know as to your position on the above question at your earliest convenience by letter to the president of our organization, Mr. V. G. Lyford, or by publication of your reply in the local press to which we had a copy of this letter. Hoping that you are with us in this matter and awaiting an early reply, we are

Very Truly Yours,

Lost All in Fire

W. R. Cade returned the last of the week from Osborne, Kas., bringing the news that his son, Wm. Cade, had lost his home and all its contents in a fire recently.

The fire occurred at about 10 o'clock p. m., and is supposed to have started from a piece of match which was dropped while Mr. Cade was lighting a lamp. Everything was consumed, some of the occupants escaping with only their night clothes. Miss Ethel Cade, who was visiting her brother at the time, lost all her clothes except the suit she was wearing, and about $150 worth of jewelry.

There was no insurance and the loss is a heavy one to Mr. Cade, who has the sympathy of many friends in this city.

Are You Sick?

Much sickness is due to a weak nervous system. Yours may be. If it is, you cannot get well until you restore nerve strength. Your nervous system is nature's power house; the organs of your body get their power from it. If the power is not there, the action of the organs is weak, and disease (sickness) follows. Dr. Miles' Nerveine cures the sick because it soothes the irritated and tired nerves and gives the system a chance to recuperate. Try it, and see if you do not quickly feel its beneficial effect.

"I was given up to die by a leading doctor. Got one of Dr. Miles' Nerveine books and found that Dr. Miles' Nerveine fit my case. From the very first dose I took I got better. I am better now than I have been for years, and do all my own work on the farm. That's what Dr. Miles' Nerveine has done for me, and I am glad to recommend it to others."

CLUB NEWS

Information As To City Federation of Women's Clubs

The idea of a City Federation, was born in the Sorosis Club, and was so persistently talked up by its president, that early last fall the club authorized the president to confer with the presidents of the other clubs, to sound their feelings on the subject, and if they deemed it advisable, to have their clubs take action upon it—Sorosis having already voted as a body for a federation.

After much deliberating, and much time having gone by, the other clubs reported ready for a City Federation. The Friends in Council sending in their report, followed by the Shakespeare Club, and then the Woman's Club.

Accordingly the president of Sorosis called a meeting of all the clubs to be held in the court house which was put in order for the delegation of women, and they observed with amusement that the cuspidores were unusually bright on that occasion.

This was before Christmas, a very busy time and a very disagreeable day, consequently there were not enough of the members of each club in attendance to form a quorum. As the meeting adjourned indefinitely—Mrs. Isham Reavis making a motion that the president of Sorosis (Mrs. Charlotte M. Banks) who had brought the movement thus far should call another meeting whenever the time seemed propitious.

In the early part of the new year then the matter was brought up again, and another meeting called in accordance with the motion above mentioned, and the attendance at this meeting did not warrant action: Still later and early in the spring, a third meeting was called, and held at Mrs. Charles Hargrave's residence, in which the results of persistent effort were satisfactory; culminating as they did in the organization of a City Federation of Women's Clubs. The object of which is, that the united clubs, each member of each individual club being a bonafide member of the Federation, work together as one body, for the betterment of our city, morally, ethically and educationally.

Matters of individual clubs that demand more attention than the separate clubs can give it, can be brought to the Federation to be adjusted, and receive help.

It is not expected that the individuality of a club shall be lost in the Federation, but each club carry on its affairs according to its rules and by-laws—and its own social features, according to its standing and custom; being assured that the Federation is back of every movement that is for the good of all.

The Federation in turn demands the support of each club, just as the physical body demands that one of its members—an aim for instance—reach out its hand when the eye sees the need of, and the ear hears the cry for, help.

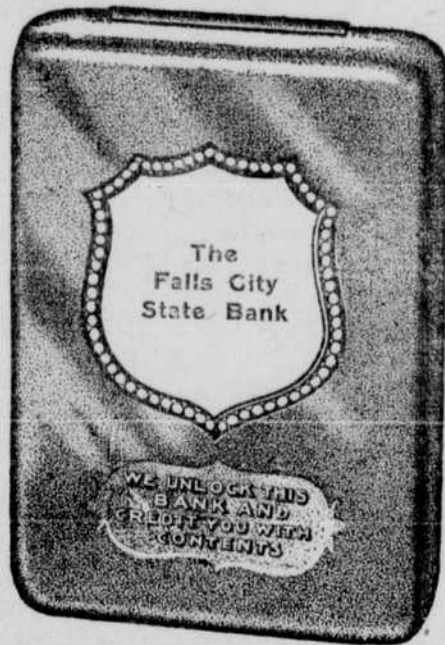

It is earnestly desired that each member of each club make herself familiar with the purposes of the City Federation and attend its meetings, and exercise the right to a voice in its decisions—otherwise put up with its rulings.

It is not the desire of the writer to be conspicuous in this matter, but it is her desire, as it should be every club woman's, to see this organization a power in our town just as the City Federation of Kansas City is becoming a power. To be sure that federation is composed of men, but we do not all have to be men, to do things, as was demonstrated in Boston, when two thousand women held sway there in June last.

Council Meeting

The City Council met in regular session on Monday evening, but aside from the regular routine allowing bills, etc., not much was accomplished. The sidewalk question was discussed at some length, but nothing definite was decided upon and the matter was carried over until another meeting. It was decided to lay additional water mains which have been asked for, and after much talk on the subject the meeting adjourned.

The Benefits of Ripe Experience

are what you profit by, when you purchase a Timepiece from a watchmaker who has demonstrated that he is competent.

Long years, spent in the manufacture and repair of Watches, have familiarized the watchmaker-dealer with many intricacies and details, of which the ordinary watch salesman is entirely ignorant.

The knowledge of these details is just what makes your new Timepiece keep correct time or become a source of annoyance.

There is one place in Falls City where you can profit by this ripe experience—and that is at Jaquet's.

Jaquet has spent an entire lifetime at watchmaking and will advise you sincerely and honestly in making your purchase.

What's more, the advantage of this experience costs you nothing extra and the selection of watches is equal and probably superior to any in the city.
