Saved his Boy's Life

"My three year old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Crino Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Crino Laxative saved his life." A. Wolkush, Casimer, Wis. Kerr's Pharmacy.

Prof. William Harnack says that he was for Bryan every other time that he ran but this year he is for Taft, first, last and always. Harnack, like others, is beginning to see just how much of a four flusher Bryan is. Bryan has done nothing, knows nothing of governmental management, and is nothing more than a great orator and a hot air vender. Taft, on the other hand, has had the experience of a lifetime in working governmental machinery.—Hiawatha World.

—Washing the family clothes is women's hardest work. Many women suffer untold pains resulting from using the wash board or heavy clumsy out of date wooden washer. Try an Adams washer free. It has no contraptions to it.—W. L. Sears.

H. C. Smith, Miss Martha Stockman, Miss Lillian Oswald and Miss Beck made up an automobile party Sunday that went to Rulo and spent a very pleasant day the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones. The quartet feel honored that they were the guests of this couple who have celebrated their 75th wedding anniversary, possibly the oldest married couple in the state. Mr. Smith secured a picture of the couple and had the pleasure of taking them an automobile ride.

Mr. Bacakos of the Candy Kitchen has his work rooms so arranged that any one so desiring can visit them at any time and receive a hearty welcome. To those who have never seen the workings of a candy kitchen we will say it is worth your time to visit this one, as it is very interesting to watch the workmen prepare the various kinds of sweets.

Mrs. C. B. Elliott received a telegram Thursday, stating that her brother-in-law, J. W. Snider had been killed Wednesday evening at Spokane, Wash., in an automobile accident. Mrs. Snider, wife of the unfortunate man, is well known in this city being formerly known here as Miss Mollie Munson.

—Blue Monday is no more. The Adams washer puts the clothes on the line in half the time that is taken with the old style wooden washing machine, and they are never torn out boiling or rubbing. Don't take my word for it but come and get one on trial.—W. L. Sears.

Mrs. C. B. Elliott spent a day in Oneida, Kas., last week, returning Friday accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Munson, who visited here until Wednesday, when she went to Herndon, Ia., to spend some time with a daughter.

Saturday brought one of the largest crowds that Falls City has witnessed in some time and they were all spending their money. It is needless to say that the advertisers enjoyed a fine trade.

Monday was clean up day and every merchant was out bright and early doing his share of the work. For general cleanliness we will compare Stone street with any of them.

Joseph Crook, an old Falls City boy, but now one of those awful traveling men with headquarters at Omaha, spent Sunday in this city with his uncle, G. J. Crook and family.

The great Horace K. Turner art exhibit will arrive next week and be on display at the library Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening.

—The Adams washer washes easier, faster and cleaner than any other in town. Costs but $8 and is guaranteed for five years. That's but three cents per week for its guaranteed life and it saves enough soap to pay for itself.—W. L. Sears.

Quite a number of our Knights of Columbus went to St. Joe Monday to attend the celebration given by the Knights of that city in commemoration of the landing of Columbus. It was an elaborate affair and the Falls City delegation report an excellent time.

Women Interrupt Political Speaker
A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaking recently by continually coughing. If she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly and expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Kerr's Pharmacy.

NOVEL AND PLEASING SIGHT

Novel and Pleasing Sight Devised for International Exhibition in England.

One of the most novel and fascinating sights among all the fascinations of the Franco-British exhibition is the soap bubble fountain in the British Hall of Textile and Chemical Industries.

The fountain consists of a double basin surmounted by a graceful figure; concealed under the base is an electric motor, air blast and pump; the first drives the two latter, which force soapy water through a pipe connected with 87 different outlets, each one of which emits thousands and thousands of bubbles, which in ever changing hues fall like a kaleidoscopic cascade round the base.

In the daytime it is a marvelous sight, but at night, when innumerable electric lights beneath the bubbles are turned on, it is the most dazzling scene possible, and, borrowing an expression from the "Arabian Nights," one might most aptly speak of it as the "fountain of a thousand jewels," so sparkling, so radiant is the effect.—Gentlewoman.

MOTORING IN PALESTINE.

Apropos of the trip of American tourists who were the first to enter Palestine with a motor car, the consul at Jerusalem, Thomas R. Wallace, reports that the tour was made with ease, even roads that had been pronounced impracticable for motor cars being traversed without difficulty. He says that great interest has been aroused throughout the district, and that a number of people are talking of investing in cars. He recommends a light, strong car, with good clearance, a good hill climber, and of medium price, and suggests that a repair and supply shop would add greatly to the chance of sales. At present permission from the Turkish imperial government must be obtained to travel through the country in motor cars.

GIRL SEIZED BY SHARK.

Milena Sgambelli, a Dalmatian fishergirl, was bathing near Zara with other girls when two sharks rushed into the midst of them.

Milena ran to the beach, on which she found an iron rod. Seizing this, she rushed boldly into the water again, striking at the sharks with the rod in order to save her companions.

She overbalanced herself and fell at full length in the water, when one of the sharks seized her leg in its mouth and bit it off above the knee. Her companions dragged Milena out, but she died from loss of blood.—London Express.

DOG RESCUES KITTEN.

George W. Da Cunha, an architect of Valley road, has a dog which prevented the drowning of a kitten that has been its companion since its birth. Mr. Da Cunha's hired man took the kitten to a pond with the intention of drowning it. The dog accompanied the man, and when the latter tossed the kitten into the water the dog jumped after it. When Mr. Da Cunha heard how persistently the dog had interferred to save the life of the kitten he refused to have it killed.—Montclair dispatch to N. Y. Tribune.

CHEERFUL IGNORANCE.

"You'd be surprised," said the woman who is supposed to be wise, "how many people are perfectly ignorant of the correct way to write acceptances and regrets when they are asked to entertainments. If would pay some enterprising woman to go around writing them for those who don't know how. You'd be amazed to see the people who come to me to ask how it is done or to get me to write them. And," she admitted, "if the truth must be told, I don't know so awfully much about it myself."

HAS FINE APRICOT CROP.

With trees bending under the burden of the heaviest crop in years—perhaps the greatest in the history of the state—the harvest of apricots in California is at its height.

It is estimated that the green crop will total 120,000 tons and that the return to growers will be $1,250,000. The pie and sauce possibilities are appalling. Because of rapidity of ripening possibly ten per cent. of the crop will not be gathered. The fruit is exceptionally luscious.
