Stomach trouble would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny inside hidden nerve, said Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one of the kidneys. When these inside nerves fail, then the organs must falter.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to those failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain.

THE SLEEPING SICKNESS WHICH MEANS DEATH

How many readers have heard of this terrible disease? It prevails in that far-away country—Africa—especially the Congo district. It is caused by the bite of the tsetse fly. When it bites a person, the sleeping symptoms begin and finally the sufferer sleeps until death occurs.

Contrast this with the peaceful, balmy sleep of health. Is there anything more wearing than to lie awake at night, tossing about, nervous, with cold feet, hot head and merrcy knows what else? Short of letting the tsetse fly bite us we would do almost anything for relief. How can we prevent it? Mr. George Hayes, of Union City, Pa., writes: "I had lost my appetite, was all run-down, could not sleep nights. I had tried everything without relief. Vinol was recommended, and to my surprise, it helped me at once; gave me a splendid appetite, and now I sleep soundly."

What Vinol did for Mr. Hayes, it will do for every run-down, nervous and overworked person who cannot sleep. A. G. WANNER, Falls City, Neb.

TO REPUBLICANS

A Few Timely Suggestions by One Interested

It's time to bestir ourselves if we expect to accomplish the end for which our candidates were nominated.

This is a crisis in our nation, as our friend the Hon. Hoke Smith told us, and if we do not wake up to the issues of the day and the level headed conservative men of our country will not put their shoulder to the wheel, "the people will rule." And it will be the class of people too who are carried away by just such oratory and catchy, slushy doctrine as was advanced by Mr. Smith. We heard him from an unprejudiced standpoint and must admit that he is an orator, a forcible speaker, and an earnest politician and we think that whatever Mr. Bryan may say in behalf of himself and his own cause, will sound very tame in comparison. Mr. Smith is a large powerful built man with a heavy voice and a good flow of language but actually devoid of the chivalry of grand old southerners, whom we have been privileged to listen to before. In speaking of our president, he never once had the manliness to call him President Roosevelt but invariably called him Mr. Roosevelt or Roosevelt. While in the old days of President Cleveland's administration our own speakers, though denouncing his policies, never failed to give the proper title of president to the man ruling a great nation like ours. He spoke of the legislation favoring the few. 'Twas the merest bosh for we knew that President Roosevelt has done more for the common people and against the trusts and monopolies than any other man living. He said "how much Mr. Bryan had aged that he was wearing his life out for the people." If he has aged and is breaking down it has been done in making his own fortune and in his own aggrandizement. He also spoke of the tariff for revenue only which was tried to our sorrow from 1892 to 1896, and of buying our farm implements abroad under free trade with nothing to buy with. He spoke of the bread line in New York City caused by the panic. How misleading! There always has been a bread line there, and always will. In a city of over 4,000,000 of people there are many who cannot work and many more who will not, who would starve or beg if it were not for charity of the city rulers who established this plan. In other large cities on the globe pedestrians and especially visitors can scarcely walk a block without being accosted by beggars and street waifs while you may walk for miles in New York City and see no more of such things than here. We who were privileged to hear Mr. Scott, chairman of the Bureau of Agriculture know that he answered the whole argument of free trade when he said "That the difference in farm products in purchasing power between then and now is this: The farmer then might buy the binder. Now with the same number of bushels of grain he could buy the binder and a nice surry and have $60 left. And so like the closing remarks in a clear field what would we do in the brush, tariff tinkering, finance tinkering, etc. Be up and doing republicans, while it is day.

We bespeak for these meetings a good attendance and we assure the people they will be well pleased.

REPUBLICAN CEN. COM.

Pleased With the Panhandle

Those who visited the Panhandle country during the past week with A. H. Rife, of the Rife Land Co., have returned and are more than pleased with the prospects there, finding splendid crops and conditions even better than they expected.

Those who went from here were George Trefzner and John Schipe, who made their selection of land and expect to buy later, while John King and Mr. Hanika of Shubert went down to lease their land already purchased, which they had no trouble in doing. Whitaker Bros. were so favorably impressed with the country that they have decided to co-operate with the Rife Land Co., and hereafter on the first and third Tuesdays of each month will furnish special low rates to those desiring to visit the Panhandle country.

Notice.

Owing to the advanced prices of produce and other conditions we are obliged to advance our meals to home people the rate of 35 cents and also raise the price on our meal tickets. Thanking you for past patronage Sincerely
