Farmers Prosperous

A very strong follower of Wm. J. Bryan came into the implement establishment of one of Burt county's thriving towns one day last week and purchased a lumber wagon for which he paid $70 cash. After paying for it he remarked: "Let's see, didn't I buy one of these same wagons of you a little over fourteen years ago for $60?" The dealer replied, "I think you did."

"That shows what the trusts are doing to the farmer," said the purchaser. The dealer studied a moment and said: "If you remember you hauled me 600 bushels of corn to pay for that wagon, too, didn't you? Now if you will haul me 600 bushels of corn this week or next I will let you have this wagon, give you a new two seated carriage, a new two seated spring wagon, a cream separator and give you back the $70 you just paid me."

The farmer had nothing more to say. He went out and hitched his team to the new wagon and drove home to get another load of 60 cent corn.—Omaha Bee.

GOVERNOR SHELDON SUMS UP PROGRESS

What the Republican Party Has Done For Nebraska Since 1906

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEBRASKA:

I submit for serious consideration the following statement showing what the republican party under the present administration has done in Nebraska since 1906 for good government and the public welfare:

Reduced the state debt from $1,917,000 to $600,000.
Reduced passenger fares to two cents a mile.
Reduced express rates 25 per cent.
Reduced freight rates on grain, live stock, fruit, lumber and coal 15 per cent.
Saved shippers and passengers in reduced rates $6,000,000, without reducing wages of employees or preventing reasonable earnings on capital invested.
Increased the value of railroad property for purpose of general taxation $5,674,441.
Increased the value of railroad property for municipal taxes in cities and villages, by means of terminal taxation law $18,627,525.
Passed an act to prevent corrupt lobbying and corrupt practices affecting legislation.
Abolished the free pass evil by enacting and enforcing the anti-pass law.

Enacted a state-wide primary law requiring political parties to nominate their candidates, including congressmen and United States senators, by direct vote of the people.
Controlled railroads and fixed rates through the railway commission.
Put an end to rebates and discriminations in transportation of freight and passengers.

Compelled the railroad companies to get permission from the railway commission before changing rates.
Established the right of the state to enjoin corporation from violating state laws to the injury of the public.

Placed telephone, telegraph, express and street railway companies under the supervision and control of the railway commission.
Stopped the sale of short-weight packages and adulterated food, by enacting and enforcing the pure food law.

Increased the rate of interest on state funds deposited in banks one per cent.
Increased the state revenue by fees imposed on foreign and domestic corporations $40,000.

Increased the rate of interest on bond investments of the permanent school funds one-half of one per cent, or $10,930 a year on investments since January, 1907.

Abolished speculation in unpaid state warrants and increased the permanent school funds with the interest thereon.

Kept the state institutions in a first-class condition, provided the best of care for the wards of the state and managed the institutions economically.

Passed and sustained in court a law to prevent unfair discrimination in trade for the purpose of driving a competitor out of business.

Made railways liable to employees for injuries resulting from negligence of fellow-servants and other employees and repealed the statutory provision limiting to $5,000 the amount recoverable for death by wrongful act.

Enacted laws to create a juvenile court with power to provide proper care for neglected children; to provide free high school privileges, normal training in high schools and to assist weak school districts in maintaining school at least seven months each year; to prohibit pooling by bridge contractors and compel them to produce books and papers; to remove officers for wilful neglect of duty and failure to enforce laws; and to require railroads to furnish equal facilities to all shippers of grain and other commodities.

Care has been taken to have the laws of the state properly observed, and caution has been exercised in the use of executive clemency.

This is the record briefly given of legislation and administration during the last two years, through the republican party. All this has been done in the interest of the people of this state. The republican party continues to stand for those things, is legislation and administration which will promote good government and prohibit any person or corporation from enjoying special privileges at the expense of the public. Our concern is to deal with all questions as they arise in a way that will best promote and conserve the general welfare of our state. There shall be no retreat.

I ask that the record of the republican party of deeds done in this state during the last two years be placed for consideration beside the democratic promises of the past and the present, and appeal to the people of this state to stand by the new deal and for the party and the men who steadfastly with honesty of purpose and without malice have done so much for the common cause of good government.

GEORGE LAWSON SHELDON.

THE FARMERS' POCKET-BOOK AND POLITICS

If the Pocket-Book is to Remain Filled The Farmer Must Protect it With His Vote

The farmer vote has always been the backbone of republicanism. New York state has always been a pivotal state. New York City has always been democratic. The Tammany tiger has dominated the city. Repeaters, and other fraudulent practices, have kept the big city democratic. What the state would do has depended upon what the honest farmer vote of the up-country did, and this influence has nearly always favored the republicans, so that only twice in forty-eight years have the democrats won. The great agricultural states of the west have always been Gibraltar of republicanism.

This year, more than ever before, in the history of the country, the farmer finds reason for supporting republican policies. He never was so prosperous. Never did he receive such high prices for his products of every kind. He will therefore, not vote for a change, for he doesn't want a change.

The Tribune herewith gives some figures that contain overwhelming arguments on the farmer's side, showing why he doesn't want a change.

The farm value of the corn, wheat and oat crops of 1907 was TWO AND ONE-HALF TIMES LARGER than of the same crops of 1896. In 1907 they were worth $2,258,000,000 and in 1896 they were worth $943,000,000.

The value of the corn crop alone for the four years of the first Cleveland administration (1884-88) was $2,570,000,000, for the next four years under Harrison, $2,831,000,000—an INCREASE of $261,000,000; for the next four years, under Cleveland again, $2,182,000,000—a DECREASE of $649,000,000; for the next four years, under McKinley, $2,434,000,000, an increase of $252,000,000.

For 1907 alone the value of the corn crop was the enormous sum of $1,337,000,000. Four years of that kind would make it worth more than $5,000,000,000, or more than twice as much as for any previous four-year period.

Let the comparison be reduced to a simpler form, involving merely prices, and not the incomprehensible figures showing total values, and the matter of the farmer's present splendid condition becomes the more easily understood.

Taking Fremont, Neb., prices as a fair average for all Nebraska inland markets, as quoted in the Tribune for the date of October 10 in three different years the contrast is so marked as to be startling.

Fremont prices Oct. 10, 1896:
Wheat ..... 39
Corn ..... 12
Oats ..... 10
Hogs ..... $2.65

That year Candidate Bryan said: "I cannot understand how a man living upon a farm can be deluded with the idea that the gold standard has anything but misery and suffering for him. Haven't you independence enough to leave your party in order to save your homes and your families from the gold standard?"

Fremont prices Oct. 10, 1900:
Wheat ..... 59
Corn ..... 30
Oats ..... 18
Hogs ..... $4.65

That year Bryan for the presidency again and prices of farm products going up steadily. But that year imperialism threatening to "change the form of our government," as he said, and no more 4th of July celebrations if the democrats lost.

Fremont prices Oct. 10, 1908:
Wheat ..... 89
Corn ..... 66
Oats ..... 40
Hogs ..... $5.60

This year "Shall the people rule?" Bryan again, and the farmers getting 550 per cent more for corn, 230 per cent more for wheat, 400 per cent more for oats, 210 per cent more for hogs than they did under the last democratic administration when Bryan warned the farmers they would go to the poor house if they didn't elect him president.

The farmers know they are a long ways from the poor house. Neither the gold standard nor imperialism has captured their home or their families. They know their safest course to be in supporting Taft and the policies under which they have prospered as never before.—Fremont Tribune.
