

THE FALLS CITY TRIBUNE

Entered as second-class matter at Falls City, Nebraska, post office, January 12, 1904, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1879.

Published every Friday at Falls City, Nebraska, by

The Tribune Publishing Company
E. F. SHARTS, Manager

One year $1.50
Six months75
Three months40

TELEPHONE 226.

Hurrah for Taft and Sherman. We told you so.

Save your Bryan pictures. They will be appropriate in 1912.

What is the matter with Nebraska? Has she gone to the a— (democrats) entirely?

You have heard the democratic promises in this campaign. Watch for their fulfillment.

Nebraska has beaten one of its best governors, or rather the railroads and brewers did it.

Let us settle quietly down to business now and cease to be partisans and let us be citizens.

Richardson county treated Mr. Bryan royally. What it will do in 1912 is not yet known.

It is better to have been on the right side and lost than to have been on the wrong side and won.

Senator Cain, we will call him now. While he lost Richardson county, he won nicely in the district.

We are assured four more years of republican rule. The result is a compliment to the judgment of the American people.

Our highly esteemed can now safely return to its former motto: "For President in 1912, W. J. Bryan." It's a good thing to tie to.

What do you think of Missouri going republican and Nebraska going Democratic? It is quite a change for these two states. Hurrah for Missouri.

It has been fully illustrated that a pony keg and a tin cup can work miracles about election time. It was a barrel of democrats to a keg of beer in this county.

The splendid vote given John Wiltse in the county, while it did not elect him is a compliment to him. He and Cain led the county ticket and got more votes than the republican electors.

The legislative candidates in this county simply blazed the trail for the next campaign on every option. The issue that appeals most to the voters today will be most popular at that time.

At the time of going to press it is impossible to give more complete returns than will be found in tabulated form on the first page of this paper. This will be corrected to accord with the official count next week.

The election of Chas. Hughes as governor of New York state and Herbert S. Hadly as governor of Missouri is a splendid tribute not only to the men elected but to the good judgment of the voters of those two states. Still the people rule.

While Robert Cain passed through the fire in Richardson county, where he was reared to manhood, slightly singed, the good people of Pawnee county saw his worth and placed him at the head of the ticket. We can assure them that his acts in the next legislature will never give them cause to regret it. Mr. Cain is one of the cleanest, ablest and most worthy young men in the county and had it not been for the fact that he stood squarely for county option would have received a splendid majority in his home county.

The two cent fare law, a law creating a railway commission which reduced freight rates 15 per cent on coal, grains, lumber and fruits and 25 per cent on express rates, a direct primary law, the reduction of the state debt $1,300,000 were not pleasing to the railroads. For that reason Governor Sheldon was turned down.

The railroads went after the hide of Railway Commissioner Williams. Nebraska never had a better officer than he.

New York gave William H. Taft a plurality of 200,000. Who was it that was to deliver the labor vote to Bryan?

The Roosevelt and Taft policies have been endorsed. Look for four years more of staple business conditions.

Nebraska is democratic. Now look for guarantee of bank deposits, etc.

It is just another "crown of thorns!"

HURRAH FOR TAFT

According to Hoke Smith, this was a crisis in our Nation and it is past. The affairs of our country will still be in the hands of those who have been tried and not found wanting. Thanks that the general apathy of republicans, and the Bryan mesmerism, which prevailed this state did not extend to some of the others.

The old adage of "A Man of Words and not of Deeds," has surely been demonstrated in this campaign. This nation has nearly always chosen for its leaders men of action, men who have achieved something and they surely have made no mistake this time. Even Grover Cleveland had been governor of the great state of New York. While in the words of our J. Sterling Morton, Father of Arbor day, "They did not choose to elect as president a man, who as a lawyer never had a client, as a statesman never framed a bill, as a colonel never fired a gun."

Thanks, that as a nation we say "Protect our home industries, keep our home markets, have good prices for our products and our labor, and last but not least a full dinner pail."

HUGHES

The campaign just closed has created one national figure in addition to those already before the people—Chas. Evan Hughes of New York. Taft and Bryan, of course, were already known. The development of the canvass did not materially change the estimate in which they were held. But events revealed Hughes to the nation as he had been known before to only a single state.

At the beginning of the campaign the New York governor was widely regarded as an able but austere, frigid and snobbish man of narrow mind and limited range of ideas. With his great speech opening the canvass at Youngstown the nation began to open its eyes. His wonderful campaign through the West and the brilliantly aggressive fight with which he closed in New York completed the transformation of public opinion.

The country knows today that it has in Hughes a powerful, hard hitting and progressive leader, of wide sympathies and clear vision, who rank with Roosevelt and Taft as an exponent of the Square Deal. He has not only carried New York state. He has conquered the nation.—Kansas City Star.

Raw Lungs

When the lungs are sore and inflamed, the germs of pneumonia and consumption find lodgment and multiply. Foley's Honey and Tar kills the cold germs, cures the most obstinate racking cough, heals the lungs, and prevents serious results. The genuine is in the yellow package. Kerr's pharmacy.

Political Mass Meetings Forbidden. China strictly prohibits the holding of mass meetings for political purposes in all parts of the empire.

BOLD ROBBERY

STELLA VISITED BY BURGLARS LAST FRIDAY EVENING

Drug Store and Jewelry Store Entered and Large Amount of Goods Taken

The following report of the burglary at Stella last Friday night is furnished by our regular correspondent:

A robbery took place here about 1 or 2 o'clock Friday morning in the Adams & Martin drug store. Theo. Schutz had his jewelry shop in the store and it was his business that suffered. The safe was blown open and the contents taken. The goods and trinkets which were in the show case were untouched. The loss was about $1560. Adams & Martin lost about $100 worth of their best china which was broken by the explosion. The robbers broke into the store from the front door by breaking out the lower part of the plate glass door. They went out the back door. On their way to the depot they dropped many articles which were found the following morning. No one heard the noise of the explosion and several slept near the store. One young man who came in town about one o'clock, says that he saw two strangers standing in front of the blacksmith shop, and thinking it might be some of the boys when he first saw them, he tried to meet them, but they kept their backs turned towards him. He became suspicious and went to his store to see if had been broken into and then watched them for a few minutes, and when he went to the hotel the men dodged behind the corner.

The young man could not understand their actions but did not summon anyone. Four men suspected have been arrested and taken to Falls City, where they are lodged in jail. Monday Mrs. O. E. Higgins telephoned that a man was near a rock quarry acting very strange and wanted the marshal to bring some help and investigate the matter.

A bunch of men headed by the marshal went out and found where he had been but no man could be found. One man was arrested at this place, at the depot Saturday noon by Sheriff Fenton and kept in jail until Sunday noon. A party of masked men and boys took the prisoner from the jail Saturday night and attempted to make him own to the robbery of the store or who did it. They called the deputy marshal out and overpowered him taking the keys and getting the prisoner. They proceeded to a telephone pole where they placed a rope around his neck and hung him up. They went through this performance three times, and unable to get anything out of him he was returned to the cell. This report came to us from one who appeared to know what he was talking about, and it is thought that every member in the gang is known who took part.

A Big Surety Bond

Morgan & Co., of Bellefontaine, Ohio, today filed their bond for $205,107.00 covering their contract for drain ditching. The bond is signed by Clyde W. Drew attorney in fact for The Title Guaranty & Surety Co. of Scranton, Penn. H. N. Kennedy and Geo. E. Turner represented Morgan & Co. and the Surety Co., was represented by Clyde W. Drew of Omaha, manager of Surety Dept. of H. E. Palmer Son & Co., state agents of The Title Guaranty & Surety Co.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. Kerr's Pharmacy

CHEAP AND WHOLESOME FOOD

Three Square, Palatable Meals That Can Be Provided for Nine Cents a Day.

The health board's experience last winter with the unemployed in the lodging houses and improvised shelters has led it to the firm conclusion that, given careful management, wholesome, palatable meals a day may be furnished for less than nine cents a day. On the nine-cent basis the blessings of a bath, a doctor in case of need and a clean bed were added to the solution of the food problem.

An examination of the daily menu prescribed causes no disappointment. A breakfast of bread and butter, coffee (with sugar), and molasses is decidedly satisfactory. It is, in fact, the most-praised "continental" breakfast slightly modified, and the question of its sufficiency resolves itself into one of quantity and quality. Where these are adequate the reasonable man will be entirely reconciled.

The same may be said about the dinner and the supper. Of course, man does not live by meat stew alone for dinner, or mutton soup thickened alone for supper. He craves some variety. But no doubt science and art are equal to the solution of this problem, too, after their success with the paramount problem of cost.—Chicago Record-Herald.

LOOKING AHEAD.

"Now that I have provided you with a good dinner," said the kind lady, "will you saw some wood for me?"

"Madam," replied the hobo from Boston, "nothing would afford me more pleasure than abbreviating timber for you, but in behalf of posterity I am compelled to decline."

"But what has posterity got to do with it?" queried the k. l.

"It's like this, madam," explained the self-conducted tourist. "With the revolutions of the whirligig of time my grandchildren may become multimillionaires, and if their daughters have occasion to purchase titles it will be so much more pleasant for them to be able to say that their great-grandfather was a gentleman of leisure instead of a common wood sawyer."

COTTON SEED OIL INDUSTRY.

In the great cotton belt of the south are 848 mills engaged in crushing cotton seed for its oil and other products. In these mills are 2,698 presses and in connection with them 2,752 gin-stands and 3,126 linters. It is estimated that in the production of cotton seed oil and by-products more than $85,000,000 is invested.

The mills annually use about 4,000,000 tons of seed, costing about $60,000,000. When made into oil, cake, hulls and linters and other products its value is about $90,000,000. At the present time but little more than half the total seed product of the country is crushed.—Popular Mechanics.

ALMOST AS BAD.

Mr. Auto—Was that your automobile that ran away?
Mr. Gasoline—No; but it was my wife that ran away in that automobile.

UNDOUBTED FACT.

"Jim's boy is home from college and he's that smart nothin' or nobody frustrates him," said the boy's aunt, admiringly. "The other day when old Mrs. Fluster asked him what caused such unusual heat, he said right off it was due to a surplus of caloric in the atmosphere."

LITTLE WALDO.

"Oh, baby!" exclaimed the Boston mother, "what does make you cry so?"
"I really cannot say," was the unexpected answer. "I have never indulged in introspection."

WANTED TO KEEP A CUTTING

High Compliment Paid Visiting American Cleric by English Gardener.

A clerical correspondent of the Church Family Newspaper vouches for the following: A distinguished American bishop, a man of fine physique, preached a very powerful sermon in an ancient parish church in the midlands of England the other Sunday morning. One of the features of this church is an old beadle who is noted for the quaintness of his sayings and the trim appearance of his garden. After the morning service the vicar said:

"Well, what did you think of the bishop from across the water?"
"Ah, sir," was the beadle's reply, "one of the best sermons ever preached in this church. He is a grand 'un; pity we can't strike some cuttings from him before he goes back to America."

THE DIFFERENCE.

Doctor—You are certainly in a bad state. Go to bed at once. I shall have to visit you about three times a day.

Patient—It's a good job I joined the club, then.

Doctor—A club patient—why didn't you say so? Um, there's not much the matter, after all, take a glass of cold water every morning. Good-day?

LARGEST MOUNTAIN LION.

The largest mountain lion ever killed in southern California was shot recently by William Dewey of Riverside.

Dewey, who had been staying at Camp Baynham in San Antonio Canon, was walking on the trail to "Old Baldy" with two companions. When about two miles from camp, as the party approached Telegraph Peak, Dewey saw the huge beast standing on a ledge 15 feet above them. Without a word to his companions Dewey raised his rifle and fired with deadly effect and the lion rolled down the slope to the trail, lying at Dewey's feet almost before his surprised companions had time to turn about.—Claremont correspondence Los Angeles Times.

WOMEN OYSTER GATHERERS.

The work of oyster collecting and culture is most unsuitable for women, but in France, owing to its tedious nature, it does not appeal to men.

Often from an early hour in the morning till late into the evening the women are standing up to the knees in water, with a strong sun beating down on them. The result is that never a year passes without some of them going mad and having to be hurried away to the asylums.

The work is well paid, as indeed it ought to be, while in the case of the few who own beds the profits are large and small fortunes are quickly amassed.—Woman's Life.

OUT OF HARMONY.

"The sounds of the city streets are like the sounds of the country," said the woman. "The screech of the pulleys as the washerwomen draw in the lines is like the song of birds. The whirr of the elevator if you listen enough, is like the waterfall over the mill dam. The electric fans at the cafes are like the humming of bees. The cry of the 'E cash clothes' man has the guttural sound of the bullfrog. But the yell of the 'line-up' man is like nothing on the earth, above the earth, or under the waters thereof."—N. Y. Press.

LARGEST KNOWN FLOWERS.

The largest known flowers are those of the rafflesia, a plant which grows in Java. This cuplike flower is over a yard in diameter, each of its five round, bright red petals being about a foot across. The flower weighs over 14 pounds, smells like putrid meat and is visited by carrion loving flies. The rafflesia is a parasite on the roots of other plants. Instead of stems, leaves and roots, it has a fungus-like network of fine threads running through the "host" plant, and the huge flowers burst out and appear above ground.

Finding Money

is not to be depended upon

If you spend all you earn, what are you going to do when Sickness, Accident or Lack of Employment causes extra expense or stops the income?

You Can't Pick Up Money

to meet such emergencies. Put a little away each day in a Vest Pocket Bank which we loan you—FREE. Cut out some of the little extravagancies and deposit the money thus saved with this Bank.

THE Falls City State Bank

The Youth's Companion for 1909

The amount of good reading given to subscribers to The Youth's Companion during the year is indicated by the following summary of contents for 1909:

50 Star Articles
Contributed by men and women of wide distinction in public life, in literature, in science, in business, in a score of professions.

250 Capital Stories
Including six serial stories; humorous stories; stories of adventure, character, heroism.

1000 Up-to-Date Notes
On current events, recent discoveries in the world of science and nature, important matters in politics and government.

2000 One-Minute Stories
Inimitable domestic sketches, anecdotes, bits of humor, and selected miscellany. The weekly health article, the weekly woman's article, timely editorials, etc.

A full announcement of the new volume will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address on request. The new subscriber for 1909 who at once sends $1.75 for the new volume (adding 50c for extra postage if he lives in Canada) will receive free all the remaining issues for 1908, including the Double Holiday Numbers; also The Companion's new calendar for 1909, "In Grandmother's Garden," lithographed in 13 colors. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley, St., Boston, Mass.

GEHLING THEATER

One Night Only Fri., Nov. 13

PORTER J. WHITE'S
Complete Production of Goethe's Immortal

Faust

with Miss Olga Verne as MARGUERITE

The following Electrical Effects will positively be produced here:

- The Rain of Fire
- The Midnight Stars
- The Mystic Lightning Bug
- The Morning Glories
- The Fiery Necklace Serpents

The Duel of Death. The Circle of Fire. The Flower Garden. The Weird Skulls. Tons of special scenery, properties and electrical embellishments carried.

Prices, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1