are in full swing now, and the society women would look her best. No woman can be charming if her teeth are in bad condition. It is a blot on her taste and refinement, and a man turns from a bad breath or decayed teeth to the dainty and fetching mouth of a wise woman who has her teeth kept in order by

MARKET LETTER

From Our Regular Kansas City Stock Yards Correspondent

Kansas City Stock yards, Nov. 2
The cattle supply dropped down to 60,000 head last week, including 9000 calves, the smallest week in more than two months, or since the heavy fall business started. The market advanced 10 to 20c first of the week, but was weak afterwards, closing with all of the advance lost. A smaller demand for meats caused packers to reduce the wholesale price in an effort to stimulate trade, and buyers were indifferent for that reason. Another thing, heavy receipts of partly finished corn fed steers especially at Chicago, had a bad effect. The principal decrease in the receipts lately has been in the item of grass cattle from Kansas pastures, which are now about all in, or gone into feed lots. The run today is 9,000 head, market 5 to 15 higher. No prime steers have been included lately; top last week $7, nothing that good here today, fair to good fed steers $5 to $6 50, grass steers $3.50 to $4.75, grass cows $2.75 to $3.75, fed cows up to $4.25, heifers $5, bulls $2.20 to $3.50. Calves are 25 to 50c higher than a week ago, at $3.50 to $7. More than 700 car loads of stock and feeding cattle went to the country from here last week, and the hold over Saturday was the smallest since the fall season set in. Prices softened slightly after the middle of last week, as owners were afraid of the effect of election day, and offered concessions in order to make a good clearance. Stockers are selling at $2.75 to $4.25, feeders $3.65 to $4.50, a few choice feeders as high as $4.80.

The hog market fluctuates mildly, receipts still liberal, at $1,000 head last week. The supply for October was 92 per cent greater than same month last year. The large proportion of light hogs is having the effect of reducing production of lard and salt pork, and will eventually put a premium on heavy hogs. Run is 8,000 market 5 to 10 higher, top $5.97; pigs at $3.85 to $5.00.

Sheep and lambs are still coming pretty freely from the range country but a small percentage of the receipts are fat enough for the killers, and prices are accordingly stronger, 15 to 30 cents higher last week. Run today is liberal at 14,000 head, market steady. Country demand is heavy and prices are about steady with last week, feeding lambs $4.30 to $4.75 weathers and yearlings $3.40 to $3.90; breeding ewes up to $4.25

BASKET BALL

Double Header Played Here Last Saturday Afternoon

Saturday morning the members of both the girls and boys basket ball teams arrived from Humboldt, and were accompanied by a goodly delegation of high school enthusiasts from that place. They were met at the train by the Falls City reception committee and royally entertained.

At 2:30 on the campus at the high school the two games were played and the results were as follows: Girls game, Falls City 17, Humboldt 21; boys game, Falls City 21, Humboldt 20. Each team played good ball and a large crowd of our people witnessed the games.

At night a reception was held at the High school building for the visiting teams and their friends. There was a large attendance and good fellowship prevailed. The sting of defeat was soon forgotten. Wafers and orange punch were served. The Humboldt young people returned home at 10:10 that evening, inviting Falls City to Humboldt for the return game in the near future.

A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

Guy P. Greenwald and Blanche Maddox United in Marriage

Of this wedding, in which all our people are interested, the Montpelier Evening Herald says in part:

A wedding of notable interest and handsome appointments occurred at the home of Mrs. S. E. Maddox on West Huntington street, when her beautiful and accomplished daughter, Miss Blanche Violet was claimed in marriage by Mr. Guy P. Greenwald, a prominent young banker of Falls City, Neb. More than one hundred guests, including relatives and friends of the two families were present at the brilliant event.

Miss Ethel Bonge at the piano announced that the appointed hour, eight o'clock was approaching, by playing Mendelssohn's wedding march and the members of the bridal party slowly descended the stairway to its sweet strains.

The party was headed by little Misses Margaret Brackin and Lucy Hanratty the ribbon bearers who carried the long white satin ribbons from the landing in the hall, through the front parlor in the living room and formed an aisle for the remainder of the bridal party. Both were dressed in white and wore pink sashes and ribbon hair bows. Following them was the officiating minister, Rev. Myers, pastor of the Methodist church, the groom and his best man, Mr. Isaac Lyon of Falls City, Neb., walking together, little Miss Elizabeth Kelley, the ring bearer, dressed in white, with pink hair bow and sash and carrying two gold circlets in a basket of flowers, the maid of honor, Miss Grace Maddox, then the bride leaning on the arm of her uncle, W. M. Maddox and lastly the mother of the bride.

Upon reaching the ceremony room, the members of the party took their respective places in the bay window, banked with tall palms, over which was a canopy of smilax, studded with white chrysanthemums and pink carnations. Here Rev. Myers read the beautiful Methodist Episcopal ring service, and the ceremony was most impressive as the bride and groom knelt on satin cushions before the minister, while he invoked the divine blessing. The bride was given away by her uncle and the double ring ceremony, in which the groom places the wedding ring on the finger of the bride and she in turn places a gold band on his finger, was used. During the ceremony, the music was changed to Schubert's serenade.

The bride was charming in an exquisite lace robe fashioned over taffeta and she wore a long tulle veil fastened with lilies of the valley and carried a bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

The maid's dress was white silk mousseline made semi-princess, and trimmed with pink satin bands and she carried pink chrysanthemums. The bride's mother wore a net robe over lavender, while Mrs. Greenwald, mother of the groom, wore cream messaline silk.

The gifts to the bridal couple were numerous and handsome, among them being Ivers & Pond baby grand piano in mahogany case, from the grooms parents, beautiful set of solid silverware from the bride's mother and and sister, and many presents of cut glass, hand painted china and silver ware from the various relatives and friends, which were displayed in an upstairs room.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenwald left last night on a honeymoon trip through the east, to include Washington, New York City, Boston and other points of interest on the Atlantic coast.

The bride's going away gown, was a blue tailored suit with accessories to match.

After a four weeks' trip the couple will go to housekeeping
