

THE FALLS CITY TRIBUNE

Entered as second-class matter at Falls City, Nebraska, post office, January 12, 1904, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1879.

Published every Friday at Falls City, Nebraska, by

The Tribune Publishing Company
E. F. SHARTS, Manager

One year.....$1.50
Six months......75
Three months......40

TELEPHONE 226.

Just watch the democratic legislature repeal the primary law; just watch.

This is the harvest season for the wood and coal man and the man with acres of golden corn to gather.

The new light plant will be in operation in about two weeks and the hard working city officials will ease up a little.

Although we may be intensely partisan during a campaign, the American knows how to submit to the will of the majority.

If any subscriber knows the roosting place of a nice, young fat hen turkey he will do a favor by communicating with the editor.

We have already heard of five Lincoln candidates to succeed Pollard. Lincoln is as long on candidates as it is on democratic majorities.

In Willow precinct, Wyoming there were cast fifteen republican votes and not one democratic ballot. Republican principles certainly are popular there.

Narrow minded people are always in the minority. The majority of people have learned to be fairly liberal with others and to not judge their faults too harshly.

Mr. Taft's vote will be 321 to 162 for Bryan. His popular majority over Bryan is 1,118,363 and we take it for granted that no other proof of Mr. Taft's popularity is needed.

Governor Hughes was elected governor of New York state on an expenditure of $369.65. He certainly is one man who did not spend more than the salary of his office to be elected.

The people have spoken. They have said in Nebraska, that they desired to entrust the democratic party in power for two years, in the state. Let this expression be respected.

Iowa now comes forth with the report of the birth of a baby weighing only one pound and so small that it could stand up in a tea cup. As small as that is, it is larger than the Democratic party in that state which is to be led by them.

It seems I will never speak of W. J. Bryan as a statesman for he is far from one. It will give him credit however as having been a great agitator and the expounder of more false doctrine than any other man who ever was a presidential candidate.

If it were not for the vote of the solid South, which is the only certainly democratic strong hold, the democratic party would die a natural death. The South votes with the democratic party not so much because of its approval of its principles as through its opposition to the negro.

It may be a comfort to Mr. Bryan's friends to know that French E. Oliver, who is well remembered in this city, sees a great opening for Bryan as an evangelist. He says "Mr. Bryan of the Twentieth Century would equal the Paul of the First Century, as a champion of the cause of Christ." Enough said.

The anti-saloon league in their national convention at Des Moines last week, cut loose from the prohibition party for the reason that in the Nebraska election this party was untrue to its principles. While some Richardson county prohibitionists were true; many were not. We have in mind one old fellow here in town that talks himself black in the face every spring for the prohibition ticket, and yet this fall he did everything in his power to beat Sheldon and county option. He willfully misrepresented what county option speakers were talking through the country and ascribed statements to them they never dreamed of making. It is true he was called good and hard on the street one day during the campaign, but he never let up. Next spring he will be bowling prohibition again, but if his (?) party knows what is best they will gag him early in the game. And there are others.

Much of the talk antagonistic to automobiles that a few excitable people have been indulging in recently is very silly. The world does move and with its moving will come motor cars and street cars and perhaps air ships. The drivers of automobiles should exercise every care to avoid accidents and should be held strictly accountable for negligence. But it is well to bear in mind that automobiles have the same right to the road as any other vehicle, and that teams may scare at them in no sense diminishes this right. The shocking accident of week before last is deeply deplored by everyone and by none more than the owners of automobiles. The fearful character of the accident, however, should not deprive our people of their sense of fairness and justice.

The attempted assassination of Prosecutor Henry at San Francisco was a dastardly thing, but at the same time one cannot help sympathizing with the poor devil whose mind was so deranged by what seems an unnecessary exposure of his past on the part of Henry. A man who for seventeen years after his release from prison had led an honest life, who had married and had children, none of whom knew that he was an ex-convict is likely to be somewhat wrought up by the unnecessary production of his picture in convict's garb before a crowded court room.

The letter of President Roosevelt on religious freedom is one of the great state papers of the age and ranks with Washington's letter to the Jews. The agitation against Mr. Taft on account of his religious views was unworthy the American people and received a just rebuke. The president said truly that a man's religious belief is a matter between him and his Maker; a matter of conscience.

The quail season is on and the sports are beating the hedges for the pretty little things. If farmers knew what a blessing this little bird is, if they knew the insects, and seeds they put out of commission, the quail hunters would get a pretty warm reception while in quest of the game.

The subscription list of the Tribune is constantly increasing out there are still many who should subscribe. Not a day goes by that we are not told of the superiority of this paper by some satisfied subscriber, and it is growing better every week. Come in, the water's fine.

Here's hoping that the manager of the opera house will give us some up-to-date opera company, or other musical entertainment during the winter.

Joe Cannon refuses to stay spiked.

Marriage License

Leonard Record, Fargo..... 24
Lelah Hackworth, Falls City.....16

PROBLEM FOR THE MOTHERS

Inconsistencies Always Detrimental to the Proper Training of the Little Ones.

Many mothers find it difficult to train a child on certain points, and often these difficulties arise from the inconsistencies of the parents. A child cannot be expected to be perfectly truthful if the parents tell falsehoods about little things, which children notice quickly.

If you do not respect a child's rights, you cannot be surprised if he is inconsiderate of you in an attempt to look out for himself. If you take something away from a child, which is rightfully his own, saying "I want it," he probably will take away something from the baby, saying, "But I want it." Do not ever teach a child that "might is right."

If you are not polite to your child you will have difficulty in teaching him politeness to others. Efforts to teach a boy to beg pardon when he bumps into anyone will prove fruitless if you do not say "pardon me" when you bump into him. Most children will feel it wrong that they have to say "thank you" for something handed them when no one says it to them.

UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE.

"I've got to make a speech at the club to-night. Can you give me a hint?"
"Yes; just say 'Fillemupagain!'"

MASCOTS UNIVERSAL.

Mascots have had their place in the world for many generations. Cats, as with the ancient Egyptians; grasshoppers, as in Italy, and various other specimens of animal life have in their time been counted as sacred or lucky by different peoples. So it is only a continuance of old customs that has caused baseball teams to take along an animal or a small boy when they go upon the diamond to try their skill with other players. The custom has spread to such an extent that to-day there is not a vessel in the navy of the United States that has not some kind of a mascot. This assertion will apply with almost equal force to the other navies of the world.

WHY HE WEPT.

During a fashionable wedding ceremony one of the old family servants was observed to be weeping as though his heart would break. "Well! Well!" exclaimed a bystander. "It is so picturesque to see old servants weeping at a grand wedding. I suppose you are weeping because you hate to see the bride leave the old mansion?"

The old servant brushed his eyes with his sleeve. "Taint that, sir," he sobbed, "but the blooming duke that's won her borrowed 50 cents from me to get some clean collars and when I asked for it all I got was a good booting. 'Nough to make anybody cry."

COINCIDENCE.

A lady one day remarked to the English novelist, Bulwer Lytton, how odd it was that a dove (colombe) should have been sent out to find the old world, and Columbus (Colombe) should have found the new. Sir Henry Drummond Wolf says in his recent book, "Random Recollections," that Bulwer Lytton immediately replied:

"Yes; and the one came from Noah; the other from Genoa."—Youth's Companion.

STRICTLY BUSINESS.

"What do you think young Hardfast did?"
"What?"

"He asked Miss Flirt for the refusal of her hand, and when she told him he could have it, and then accepted Surething, he sued her for breach of contract."

Letter to Presbyterians

Dear Friends: The last Sabbath announcement was made of a Thanksgiving offering that would be taken in the church next Sabbath morning and evening. It is the intention to make this offering partake of the nature of a sacrifice to the Lord. We have enjoyed an exceptionally good year, both in our family and in our church life. While the newspapers have recorded mining disasters, railroad wrecks, forest and prairie fires, loss of crops from floods and also from droughts, and much crime, yet we have been specially preserved therefrom, and have enjoyed a wonderful freedom from distress. Are we duly grateful to that God who has kept his promise with us? Shall we not only give an offering, but give an offering that shall be representative of ourselves, one that will in some measure indicate our appreciation of our indebtedness to our covenant keeping God.

"Bring ye all the tithes into the store house, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mai 3.10.

"Upon the first day of the week let everyone of you lay by him in store, as God has prospered him." 1 Cor. 16.2.

R. COOPER BAILEY, Pastor.

HAPPIEST MAN ON EARTH.

The old poem about the king seeking for the shirt of the happy man that he might wear it and become freed of his cares—and then finding the man a beggar who hadn't a shirt to his back—might again be realized if any monarch would wander to the village of Suhr, canton of Argovie, Switzerland, where lives Johann Schmid. Across the front of Schmid's cottage is painted: "Here lives the happiest man on earth." Schmid, who is 55 years old, says to interviewers: "I defy you to find a happier man than I. I have never worked, never married, never been ill, never been anxious for the future, I eat, drink, sleep well—what more can you ask? I was left $5 a week and this piece of land on which is my cottage, and I have lived the happy man's philosophy ever since without a care for the outer world."

NEW LIGHT ON HEREDITY.

More than 3,000 doctors of Holland have carried on for a long time a series of observations bearing on the laws of heredity and the results are now published by two of their number, Heymans and Weirsmas. They find that the ability to co-ordinate in most cases comes from the father. Forty-four per cent. of the sons of mathematically minded men inherited the love of scientific pursuits, while only 14 per cent. of the daughters of such did likewise. The gift of clever talk and of self-criticism came from the father. So did the traits of good nature and sensitiveness. Tendencies to crime were referred to the father, also to dementia and melancholia. Interest in all kinds of sports were traceable to the mother usually.

Singing Pigeons.

The queer Chinese change pigeons into song birds by fastening whistles to their breasts. The wind of their flight then causes a weird and plaintive music that is seldom silenced in the pigeon-haunted cities of Peking and Canton.

The Belgians, great pigeon flyers, fasten whistles beneath the wings of valuable racing carriers, asserting that the shrill noise is a sure protection against hawks and other birds of prey.

As a similar protection, reeds, emitting an odd wailing sound, are fixed to the tail feathers of the dispatch-bearing pigeons of the German army. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Coloring Brass.

A color resembling pewter may be given to brass by boiling the casting in a cream of tartar solution containing a small amount of chloride of tin.

Parties wanting tankage call on Heck & Harlow.

Rheumatism promptly driven from the blood with Dr. Swoops Rheumatic Remedy. Don't waste time with common remedies. A test will surely tell. In tablets or liquid forms. Sold by all dealers.

THE LOCAL LORE

Crowded off the regular Local Page.

Mrs. Tom Gist returned Tuesday from a week's visit in York.

W. D. Easley of Kansas City came up yesterday for a short stay.

Miss Louise Fry of Steinauer, is the guest of Mrs. Clarence Heck.

Mrs. Dickerson of St. Joe is the guest of Mrs. D. W. Reid this week.

A baby girl was born to Frank Schuler and wife on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Clara Glines came down from Omaha to spend Sunday with relatives.

Carl Sedlmayer of Kansas City is in the city visiting with his many old friends.

Eph Peck phoned in yesterday morning and ordered The Tribune sent to Will K. Peck at Lincoln.

Miss Rose, who coached "Fairy Land" in this city a few weeks ago, was in the city a portion of the week.

All our neighboring towns were well represented in this city Wednesday evening. "The Devil" was the attraction.

Heck & Harlow will sell you cider made from fine Geniton apples by the gallon, 5 gallon or 15 gallon or barrel lots.

FOR RENT—Good six room house near old water works. Newly papered and painted throughout. Inquire of Dr. Lawrence.

Mrs. Bechtold, the hair goods woman, who has been coming to Falls City for several years, is again in the city on her annual visitation.

Pierce Babb shipped his household goods to North Dakota this week, he accompanied them, having decided to take up his residence in the west. His mother will follow in about two weeks.

A. E. Jaquet and the McMillan brothers are making extensive alterations and improvements in their place of business to better enable them to display the immense line of holiday goods they have for their trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norton and little daughter of Colorado arrived in the city yesterday morning for a visit with relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Custer, who has been their guest for some time.

The quail season opened in this state last Sunday, and since that time our local hunters have been in pursuit of the same. The quail is getting pretty scarce in these parts, and no great bags have been reported. The season closes again on Monday, November 30.

The undivided interest of the late Oliver Hall in the Humboldt Standard was sold by order of the court on Tuesday, to L. C. Edwards of this city at two-thirds of the appraised value. As the title is perfected Mr. Edwards will probably sell the plant to some newspaper man. It is a good plant and would mean money to the right party.

A clergyman writes, "Preventics, those little Candy Cold Cure Tablets are working wonders in my parish." Preventics surely will check a cold or the Grippe, in a very few hours, and preventatives are so safe and harmless. No quinine, nothing harsh nor sickening. Fine for feverish restless children. Box of 48 an 25c. Sold by all dealers.

Hair Dressing Mrs. M. Bechtold and Son

FROM ST. LOUIS

Ladies' Fashionable Hair Dressers and Manufacturers of all kinds of

HAIR GOODS

are again at the Union Hotel. Ladies please call.

A Beautiful Silk Flag

Do you want a beautiful silk flag 2x3 feet? Up to date, 46 stars, made of fine twilled silk, beautiful colors. A nice Christmas present or a souvenir for the home. Send $1.00 and you will receive the Daily and Sunday Journal three months and one of these flags.

Address—Kansas City Journal, Kansas City, Mo.

If you think for a minute that Falls City is a dead one just take the time to glance over our hotel registers any you will be convinced otherwise. There are four hotels in our city, to say nothing of the boarding houses, and each night finds them crowded to their capacity, and in many instances beds in private homes are rented for the accommodation of the overflow.

While moving her ice box yesterday, Mrs. John Spragins met with a very painful accident. In some manner she let the cover fall, crushing her hand and cutting her little finger quite severely.

The service for Thanksgiving Day, according to the prayer book will be held in St. Thomas church Thursday, Nov. 26, at 10:30 a. m. The rector will preach the sermon. He asks for a special offering.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Robb of Verdon were shopping in the city Wednesday. They remained over to see "The Devil" at the Gehling that evening.

The Presbyterian church ladies will conduct their food exchange next Saturday at D. W. Sowles instead of Morsman's as in the past. Remember the change of place.

Heck & Harlow have just received a car of oil meal also rock salt. Parties wanting same in 500 or 1000 lb. lots please call on them.

The Bohrer brothers arrived the latter part of the week from Wilsonville, Neb., having completed their work there.

Sauer Kraut 15c a lb. and Molasses Taffy 10c a lb. Saturday, Nov. 21, at the Candy Kitchen.

Miss Virgie Mead went to Humboldt Wednesday for a week's visit with friends.

A. P. Crosby of Kansas City is the guest of Frank Werner and wife this week.

Mrs. Amanda Beaver came in from Diller, yesterday for a visit with relatives.

Miss Minnie Wolf one of our telephone girls, is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. VanWinkle and daughter Grace were in Hiawatha Wednesday.

Byron Harrison was up from Rulo on Wednesday.

Finding Money

is not to be depended upon

If you spend all you earn, what are you going to do when Sickness, Accident or Lack of Employment causes extra expense or stops the income?

You Can't Pick Up Money

to meet such emergencies. Put a little away each day in A Vest Pocket Bank which we loan you—FREE. Cut out some of the little extravagancies and deposit the money thus saved with this Bank.

THE Falls City State Bank