A. N. Cook returned home from the western part of the state last Tuesday to spend Thanksgiving with his family. This was the first Thanksgiving spent with his family in seven years. Mr. Cook returned to Ruskin, Neb., Monday of this week to look after business there.

The citizens of Auburn are again agitating the question of a sewerage and water system. A special election will be held January 2 for the purpose of submitting to the voters the proposition of borrowing $75,000 and pledging the property and credit of said city on its negotiable bonds, for the construction of said city. We wish them success.

One of the most important official acts of Governor Sheldon's administration was his recent appointment of four new judges on the state supreme bench. The appointment of Judges Sullivan, Faucett, Root and Rose to fill the new positions created on the bench, no doubt, will be quite generally approved. Judge Sullivan has served on the supreme court bench and was considered a good judge; Root is at present, a commissioner, and Faucett and Rose were men of acknowledged legal qualifications. But one month more remains of Governor Sheldon's term of office, and no doubt this one act is more important than any other which he will be called upon to do. Time will either approve or disapprove his judgment.
