

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS
After Other Remedies Fail

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 733-8th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.

Mamie Kanaly and Nellie Coupe were initiated into the mysteries of the Daughters of Isabelle, at Falls City Thanksgiving night.

A very pleasant social event which took place at the home of Mrs. Bessie Brinegar Monday night was a session of night school in which about 20 of her friends took part. After the entrance examination which entitled each pupil to a seat in the school room, school was called to order and a general examination held to get the classes organized. First came the reading class in which were produced books of all sizes and colors ranging from Jack and Gill to Webster's Unabridged was appropriate to select from. This class recited creditable, except two girls who had to stand on the floor, and when Freddy Marsh was asked by the teacher to replenish the fire, he rebelled and had to stand in the corner to think on the error of his way. Next came arithmetic which was recited very creditable except one smart boy saying, eggs at 2c a dozen would be rotten. Then followed physiology, when Willie Graves said he only had four teeth. The teacher thought he was too young to attend school, but as he seemed exceptionally bright he was allowed to remain, and his work showed that he was well qualified. Then came the noon hour before which the teacher gave the school a talk on the beauty of generosity, and those whose parents were well to do should share their lunch with those not so fortunate. After all had been divided, Miss Graves and Miss Kirk who had been punished during the forenoon were heard discussing the practicability of giving something nice to the teacher, one favored the plan saying maybe she wont be so mean to us again, the other did not favor the plan, but her council prevailed, for when the afternoon session was called the best attention was given. The subject was grammar. George Ward was selected to write a composition on the blackboard on dogs and Miss Hart to write one on cats, but got so interested in hearing the rest of the class tell stories that she could think of very little on cats, but George Ward got so interested in telling of the big dog which he had when he was a little boy that he insisted the teacher had enlarged the blackboard. But the teacher knew that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, thus winning the appreciation of her pupils. The switch was also kept in a conspicuous place, but to the honor of our school it was not taken from its place during the entire evening, this was owing to the patience of the teacher and not the good behavior of the pupils. But of all the studies geography was what delighted the hearts of all, for each pupil was allowed to take any journey they wished. While some were content with a trip to New York and other cities, some ambitious ones wanted to go to Fortescue, Preston, Fargo and Falls City, and as each had to change cars and had never traveled before, the conductor heaved a sigh of relief when the last passenger from Rulo was safely disposed of. But when we found the hands of the clock were pointing close to midnight we brought our school to a reluctant close. Mrs. Brinegar said the tuition fee of $10, payable in smiles had all been paid, but some of the smiles escaped in giggles, and some in roars of laughter, and as we voted Mrs. Brinegar not only an excellent teacher but entertainer as well, we happily wended our way home, from one of the jolliest evenings we had enjoyed since we were a score of kids.
