For Sale

A good residence property; six rooms, three lots and a good barn. See H. A. Messler at Burris' News stand for particulars. tf

Sidney Spence gave a little dinner to a few of his gentlemen friends the other evening, that is pronounced by the favored guests as about the best ever. The service was in splendid taste and the menu as fine as can be served by any caterer in the land. Mr. Spence would be a great success at the head of a much larger and more pretentious establishment than the one he is now so successfully managing.

A crusty old bachelor from Kansas says that a little natural and a little false hair coiled over a wire spring, a few yards of dry goods draped over pads and padding, a little rice powder dusted into the pores of the skin, a valuable tongue and a pleasant smile form the main essentials of a creature that has been raising the devil with men ever since the days of Eve.

We have kept this our Christmas number until this week because we desired to publish it as near to the great holiday as justice to our advertisers would permit.

The Elks lodge that sent fifty dollars in clothing, food and fuel to our unfortunate ones last Christmas, will make a like contribution this year.

Mrs. Tom Draper of Humboldt was the guest of her brother, Geo. Schmelzel and family in this city a few days the past week.

Vincent Arnold was down from Verdon Wednesday. He made his usual subscription visit to the Tribune.

The vaudeville acts at the Lyric are proving very successful. Each change of program brings a good house.

Mrs. J. C. Martin and little son of Council Bluffs are in the city and will remain until after the holidays.

Jerry Marsteller and wife left for their home in Diller, Neb., after spending a few days in this city at the home of J. V. Ratekin.

Charley and John Portrey and Donald McCoy of this city were among the many landseekers who left Tuesday for Friona, Texas.

Mrs. E. G. Whitford returned Monday evening from quite an extended stay in DuBois, and "Whit" is again on good behavior.

Miss Stella Patzman returned Saturday night from Hollenborg, Kas., where she had been for some time caring for her sister-in-law, who was quite sick.

You cannot find a better or more up-to-date stock of jewelry any place than those carried by A. E. Jaquet, Davies & Owens and R. B. Simpson. A visit to these places will convince you.

Rev. R. R. Teeter left Tuesday for a lecture tour through Iowa, where he will fill a series of engagements on lecture courses booked by the Consolidated Lyceum Bureau of Chicago. He will return for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Stumbo are in the city and will remain until after the holidays with their daughter, Mrs. R. P. Thomas. They are on their way to New York, where they are moving from their former home in Colorado.

Joe Varner and wife departed last week for their new home in Beloit, Kansas. During their residence in Falls City they made many close and lasting friendships that will endure notwithstanding the separation. The Tribune wishes for them the best of everything in the future.

There is nothing but laughter in "Peck's Bad Boy" that comes to the Gehling next Friday. Henry Peck, Schultz the grocer, the old Irish policeman and Henry's father are the victims of Henry and his girl and they certainly furnish enough laughter to laugh you through the holidays. There is a lot of clever specialties in the play.

Heacock & Son's mill is about as busy a place as you can find. For some time they have been making every effort possible to get a sufficient supply of flour on hand to enable them to shut down long enough to make some needed repairs, but this seems next to impossible as they are busy almost day and night. The people have learned the good brands of flour made by this firm and will be satisfied with none other.

On Friday of last week John Hossack started to the country to be gone all day, so he took with him a lunch. He tied the bucket which contained the lunch by the bail to the wagon. After working hard all forenoon he stopped to eat his lunch; but on reaching for the bucket he found only the bail. When he discovered his loss his appetite grew ravenous as the noon hour passed away. On his return home he found his dinner setting on a mail box, near by. Mr. Hossack is grateful to the finder of the bucket, as he at once did justice to the contents.

An improved edition of Peck's Bad Boy is offered the lovers of good, clean wholesome comedy, by Al Gould, the man who has made the exploits of Peck's Bad Boy famous throughout the east. Everything is new but the title. Special scenery, handsome costumes, good singers, and clever comedians make the show well worth seeing.

Our old townsman, J. M. Culp, sent us a nice little Christmas check Wednesday from Hooper, Col. This is what Joe says about the Tribune: "I want it and must have it. Keep sending it as I cannot do without it."

The person who delays his holiday shopping is making a mistake. Mr. Lyford gives good advice in his ad in this issue when he urges you to do your shopping at once, and in the morning if possible.

Jack Higgins has bought the upper meat market. Jack is an artist in addition to being a splendid fellow. That his venture will be a success is not doubted by anyone who knows Jack.

The Musical Georgettes will be the attraction at the Lyric next Monday and Tuesday evenings. They are among the highest priced vaudeville artists and none should fail to hear them.
