Return Engagement

"The Holy City", Clarence Bennett's wonderfully successful Biblical drama, seems destined to take a place among the classics of the American stage. Each year that it is presented it is witnessed by audiences of increasing size. Its popularity does not seem to give any indication of waning and eager demands are nearly always made for a return engagement. One of the reasons for its tremendous popularity is that it is a play which makes a universal appeal. Very few plays do that. Most of them appeal to distinct elements in the community. "The Holy City," however, appeals not only to the jaded and satiated theatregoer, but to that element in every community, which is inclined to look askance at the theatre and which rarely, if ever, attends a theatrical performance. The figure of Christ is only suggested and is never introduced upon the stage. The play is staged with a lavish splendor that is almost barbaric in its magnificence. The costumes are rich and a delight to the eye. The company presenting the play is recruited from among the best known metropolitan players and is capable and thoroughly efficient. "The Holy City" will be presented at the Gehling Theatre on March 3 by the original company, including the author, Mr. Clarence Bennett.

Goes Into Hog Business

A few days ago E. G. Whitford decided to buy a hog to butcher that he might have a nice lot of pork and lard, so he bought one of P. S. Heacock. He made arrangements with a man to go to the yards and get him a nice porker from the lot. In the meantime Louis Buchholz brought seventy-five fine hogs to town to ship and when he arrived at Kansas City he was one short. On returning to Falls City he inquired of Heacock about the hog that was missing and it was afterward learned that Whitford's hog came from the wrong yard, and the result was our genial, good-natured Burlington employee paid the Kansas City market price for his hog. We will swear by Whitford as a railroad official but when it comes to vouching for this nature we beg to be excused.

Goes to West Point

Some time ago Errot Oliver, son of Prof. and Mrs. T. J. Oliver, received an appointment from Morris Brown to go to West Point, N. Y., and enter the Military Academy. He left this week for that place and will report for duty March 1. We are glad to know that he has the courage to say he will be a true soldier boy, even if he must leave parents, sisters and brothers for a period of more than four years to do it.

To The Public

We have bought this year's ice harvest in the Crystal lakes and leased them for a period of five years. We are thoroughly equipped to give you the best possible service and we solicit your patronage. The Crystal lakes ice needs no recommendation, and this year's output was secured under the most favorable conditions and the ice is the clearest ever put up and of very superior quality. Let us know your needs; we will call and arrange for your season's ice supply.

Yours very Truly,
 MAUST BROS.

PostPoned Sale

On account of inclement weather, Chas. Stump postponed his sale of household goods until today, Feb. 26, at 1:30 o'clock, sharp. He will sell at the A. J. Weaver house just east of the Harlan street school. Remember the time, Friday afternoon, at 1:30.

A BAPTIST ELDER

Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.
 Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cod's livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood. In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, overworked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unexcelled.
 All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.
