A. H. Rife is organizing land buyers for Canyon City, Texas. He looks like a man who does business on the square. Texas land is in demand and the investment seems safe.—Hiawatha World.

The womens clubs are giving our people the best of entertainments. A week ago they engaged the noted reader Prof. Clark of Chicago, who proved to be an able reciter and now they have engaged Prof. Stephens of Lincoln to give an exhibit on manual training school work.

Hon. Ralph Clark of Stella was a Falls City visitor between trains Saturday. In company with I. W. Harris he was returning from Humboldt where they attended a meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Humboldt. We understand that these gentlemen now hold a majority of the stock of this prosperous institution, which fact will in no wise lessen the strength of the banking concern and will no doubt refuse more activity and push into its method of doing business.

Ruth Bryan Leavitt was granted a divorce from William H. Leavitt by Judge A. J. Cornish, Tuesday. The divorce is absolute and the mother is allowed the custody of her two small children. The ground of the decree is non-support.

A young man by the name of R. N. Harrison who was arrested for burglarizing a store at Horton broke jail at Hiawatha, Sunday and is still at large. He had concealed on his person a saw and sawed an iron bar and escaped.

Mrs. Grant Smith returned to her home in Stella the latter part of the week. She spent several days in this city at the bed side of her father, Mark Goolsby who is very ill.

To The Public

We have bought this year's ice harvest from the Crystal lakes and leased them for a period of five years. We are thoroughly equipped to give you the best possible service and we solicit your patronage. The Crystal lakes ice needs no recommendation, and this year's output was secured under the most favorable conditions and the ice is the clearest ever put up and of very superior quality. Let us know your needs; we will call and arrange for your season's ice supply.

Yours very Truly,
Tel. 38 MAUST BROS.

John Lichty was laid up the first of the week from the effects of a severe fall. He slipped on the icy walk and fell backward striking his head and rendering him unconscious.

—We beg to announce that our display of French Pattern Hats, Tailored Hats and Millinery Novelties is now on. A cordial invitation is extended to you.

PATZMAN SISTERS.

The reporter for the Journal went up street Tuesday morning with full sheets flying in the snow and the wind, but she got there all right, all right.

Rev. Teeter's illustrated lecture on Sunday night drew a large crowd at the Brethren church. In fact they were not all able to gain admittance.

A farmer drove his automobile into town Monday evening and remained over night. He walked home the next day and the car is still here.

Judge Raper convened an adjourned session of court Thursday morning. The case of Spragins against Judy is on trial.

Child Rule for Schools

That the teaching of citizenship in a democracy may soon supplant the present paternal and aristocratic form of government in every school in this country is the object of a general movement that was set on foot in New York recently. Following the principles of self-rule which have made hundreds of the best citizens out of boys and girls sent as "incurables" to the George Junior Republic in that state during the last 14 years, an effort will be made to have all children fitted to be independent and self-reliant Americans before every thing else. With junior republics already established in California, New York, Connecticut and Maryland, and others being set up in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and projected in many more states, the organizers of this new school system are preparing to carry their object lesson into every public and private school throughout the nation.

One of the leading preparatory schools in this part of the country is already making plans to revolutionize its methods and put its pupils on the basis of citizens in a little republic of their own, it was announced at the headquarters of the National Association of Junior Republics at 22 William street. The term "master" is to be abolished and well-bred school boys are to learn to become bosses of themselves instead of servants of a political boss. In the public schools of New York City as well as in a score of private and public educational institutions in that state the junior republic idea is reported to be at present applied substantially as it is in the successful substitute for the reformatory which Mr. George has worked out.

The teaching under a democracy must be different from that under all the other systems of government, said Thomas Osborne, president of the National Association of Junior Republics. We have reformed our methods of teaching somewhat in the schools, but we have not carried the reform to the bottom as yet. We still call the teacher the master. This is a relic of paternalism. Our American system of education has not only the fallacies of paternalism in it; it has the fallacies of aristocracy as well. Go to some boarding school and you will find as charming a little company of aristocrats as ever was. In the public schools you will find paternalism flourishing to a dangerous extent. Why? Because the students are trained not to be citizens but the servants of a political boss. And yet, the very life of the republic depends on them.

"My three year old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Orino Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Orino Laxative saved his life." A. Wolkush, Casimer, Wis., Kerr's Pharmacy.

Said the good old Quaker to his boy: "Nathan, it is not what these reads that makes thee smart; it is not what these eats that makes thee fat; it is not what these earns that makes thee rich, BUT WHAT THESE SAVES."

Read the Label

Under the Pure Food Laws baking powder labels now show the ingredients of which the powder is made.

Those who appreciate the importance to health and good baking of using a pure cream of tartar powder will read the back of the label carefully and make sure that the ingredients mentioned include cream of tartar.

The food law does not force consumers; it merely helps them to protect themselves. All good housekeepers want cream of tartar baking powders, and will not use alum substitutes in the food, if they know it. As the ingredients are printed on the back of the label, all may know the facts.

Good baking powder is one of the most useful things in the kitchen; it is easily obtained at any store; the better it is, the more economical it is in cooking materials, and the more it conserves the health of the family.

No alum, no lime phosphates

As every housekeeper can understand, burnt alum and sulphuric acid—the ingredients of all alum and alum-phosphate powders—must carry to the food acids injurious to health.

Read the label. Avoid the alum powders
