Once more! Give us Hurst!!

Who wouldn't have a little "old wheat in the bin."

In a few short weeks The Tribune will be building news items on a linotype machine.

There is a world of difference between being a gentleman and trying to look like an aristocrat.

The saintly thing about a woman is how she can adore a man that nobody else can tolerate.

If each one would just do his own little duty toward "cleaning-up" wouldn't Falls City be a much nicer town?

Mr. Patten, of wheat market fame, must at least be given the credit for giving the cause of cornbread the biggest kind of a boost.

If the bad weather this week prevented that clean up you intended, around your place and in the alley, just bear in mind that it's not too late—get busy.

As we said before, Mr. Hurst possesses the most essential qualifications for the superintendency—he's a leader of the youth, they honor him, they respect him and they'll obey him.

It is wonderful how exceedingly poor in this world many people are when the assessor makes his annual call. If you really desire to put a few hundred out of the assessors' reach, invest in a new church—it is a good work and free from taxation.

The strength of a child.

It is surprising to find how few parents know the great strength giving qualities of good oatmeal. Most of them think of it as a food for the sturdy Scotch or the brawny Englishman, and overlook its value as a food for children. Every now and then a mother will take to feeding her children on Quaker Oats and will be astonished at their improvement in strength and vigor. Of course, she tells her friends, and they prove it for themselves, but every mother in the country should see that her children are strong and vigorous. Plenty of Quaker Oats, eaten often, will do it.

Put up in two sizes, the regular package and the large family size which is more convenient for those who do not live in town.

Don't miss a day; eat Quaker Oats every morning for breakfast.

Quaker Philosophy!

Said the good old Quaker to his boy: "Nathan, it is not what thee reads that makes thee smart; it is not what thee eats that makes thee fat; it is not what thee earns that makes thee rich, BUT WHAT THEE SAVES."

TWO EXCELLENT LECTURES

LECTURES WERE HEARD AT THE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Charles Fordyce of the State University and Pres. J. W. Crabtree of Peru Here

The address delivered by Pres. J. W. Crabtree, of the Peru State Normal, at the teachers association, last Saturday, was of an unusual high standard of excellence.

He took for his subject "School Virtues." Economy he said, is one of the virtues a school teacher should possess and teach her children, and one which is too often neglected. Care of text books, scrap paper, pencils and all school property, is a thing that should be insisted on, as much for the training of the future men and women as the saving expense to the district.

Industry is another virtue which should receive much attention. Children should be kept busy and so should the teacher, but the teacher who does the most fussing, is not always the most industrious. He mentioned honesty as one of the virtues to which too little attention is often paid, and in fact dishonesty encouraged by some. Such practices as giving prizes, and having an honor roll for those who have not whispered during the day, depending upon the student to tell whether he has or not, can only breed dishonesty. The teacher should always be absolutely honest with the pupils. Any attempt at deception in any way, ruins the teacher's influence for good.

The address was overflowing with such helpful suggestions. Pres. Crabtree is one of the most able school men in the state and for the teachers of Richardson county to have an opportunity of hearing and meeting him again, was a rare treat.

Much of the enthusiastic interest in the meeting Saturday was due to his presence. Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, while in our city, Dr. Wilson being a brother of Mrs. Crabtree. They returned to Peru Monday.

Mr. Charles Fordyce of the State University, delivered an address before the teachers association Saturday afternoon, on "The Irrepressible Boy and his Teacher," that should have been heard by every parent and teacher in the county.

He said in part, that at all times the "bottled up" energy was finding means of escape through our bodies. That the greatest possible per cent the brain can use is three, while the muscles use twenty-five and that it is wicked and unjust to expect the children to sit for any length of time quietly studying.

The vicious, bad boy is very scarce, but the American boy, full of energy bubbling over, is plentiful everywhere. This energy when used in the right way makes genius, if properly trained skill, and if neglected or stamped out, criminals. "The laws of the gang" are rules made by the crowd for action. If those rules be broken the culprit is the one who is laughed to scorn by the others. The familiar expression "the fellows will laugh at me" has led many well meaning boys into trouble.

These laws are things the children cannot escape and an outsider cannot reach. The only way to guide them in the right paths is to be one of the "gang." Make them feel you are interested in them and their friends, and you cannot deceive them, you must be interested.

The appetite of the growing lad is almost his master. The boy who steals a watermelon or enters an orchard, does it because he is hungry and not because he is a thief at heart.

The child will naturally develop along the animal lines more quickly than others, as shown from his eagerness to wrestle, to strike and get into the dirt.

This instinct must be trained into usefulness, his animal way of eating trained to good table manners. His regard for the laws of the "gang" trained into a regard for the laws of society and his muscles be trained to skillful work or he is turned out from the home and the school a finished product on the markets of the busy world of business.

Gets Accident Claim

During the month of March, E. E. Coatney of this city was laid up for several days from blood poison of the hand. He carried insurance in the Woodmen Accident Association of Lincoln and this week received a check for the full amount of the claim. They are surely a reliable company and very prompt in acknowledging their claims.
