

THE FALLS CITY TRIBUNE

Entered as second-class matter at Falls City, Nebraska, post office, January 12, 1904, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1879.

Published every Friday at Falls City, Nebraska, by

The Tribune Publishing Company
E. F. SHARTS, Manager

One year ..... $1.50
Six months ..... .75
Three months ..... .40

TELEPHONE 226.

The Sultan of Turkey has 240 cooks. No wonder his broth is spoiled.

Now let every brave woman stand up in defense of her own waistline, wherever she chooses to draw it.

It's time to look over the home and see that it is properly screened. The naughty fly is health's worst enemy.

That American newspaper man charged with being a spy in Constantinople, may have been performing his duty. He won't be shot in a hurry.

When you hear a merchant kicking on business, nine times out of ten you are safe in concluding that he is not a regular advertiser.

A Falls City father said of his son, (we won't mention any names): "I don't know what is the matter with——. He eats regularly, seems to sleep good, but he just can't work." What's the matter with this man's son?

Secretary Wilson's remark that Joseph was the only man who ever succeeded in cornering grain, set Wall Street guessing. Brokers broke even on whether Arthur Joseph, Joe Leiter or Joseph of old, who wore the coat of many colors, was meant.

THE TRIBUNE TO BE

When The Tribune's linotype machine is installed, The Tribune will be the best equipped printing office in southeastern Nebraska.

The Tribune already prides its self on its equipment, which is now far superior to that of any other Falls City printing office. Every case of type is almost brand new, our presses are new—in fact the whole office, was selected with care and purchased very recently.

Our facilities for turning out strictly up-to-date commercial and society printing are now far superior to those of any other Falls City printing establishment.

With the addition of the linotype machine the possible output of the office will be double its present capacity.

Watch us grow.
The Tribune is just different, that's all.

Quaker Philosophy!

Said the good old Quaker to his boy: "Nathan, it is not what thee reads that makes thee smart; it is not what thee eats that makes thee fat; it is not what thee earns that makes thee rich, BUT WHAT THEE SAVES."

Try one of our Vest Pocket Banks and watch results. It will help you save many a dollar.

THE Falls City State Bank

Capital and Surplus, $70,000.00

THE EDUCATION OF THE BOY

With These Precepts Instilled It Is Very Certain He Will Not Go Far Wrong.

Teach your boy to be true to his word and work; to face all difficulties with courage and cheerfulness; to form no friendships that can bring him into degrading associations; to respect other people's convictions; to reverence womanhood; to live a clean life in thought and word as well as in deed; that true manliness always commands success; that the best things in life are not those that can be bought with money; that to command he must first learn to obey; that there can be no compromise between honesty and dishonesty; that the virtues of punctuality and politeness are excellent things to cultivate.—Exchange.

BEDSTEADS WORTH FORTUNES.

A well-known French actress is the happy possessor of a bed valued at $5,000. It is, of course, very ancient, but in an excellent state of preservation, and its adornments carry out to the full all the lavish beauty of the bed itself. Draped at the back from a ring in the ceiling are beautiful curtains of antique brocade, plumes of ostrich feathers looping them up at the corners. The bedspread is of richest satin, veiled with valuable lace in exquisite design. The fashionable and rich of Paris are now on a level with the trans-Atlantic art lovers in their search for the antique and beautiful, whatever its price, and if it possesses authentic historic interest all the better for the salesman, as the bidding for its possession is very keen. Several old English country houses own antique beds which are the envy of the connoisseur.

LANDIS MERELY NERVOUS.

When Judge Landis of Standard Oil fame was starting his legal career he was a nervous young man. He had not been practicing long when he unexpectedly found himself called on to conduct an important case. The young lawyer showed his nervousness so plainly when he rose to address the court that the presiding judge said kindly: "Do not be afraid, Mr. Landis." The embryo advocate replied promptly: "Your honor, I stand in awe, but fear not."

HAY ON AN AUTO TRUCK.

Probably there is no street sight that sets more folks to noticing than an auto loaded with bales of hay. Up around the stable section in the East Twenties this is not uncommon, and very often the automobile laden with hay is seen in Columbus Circle.

The contrast is marked and almost always leads some one to say something about the passing of the horse as exemplified by the fact that even his provender doesn't come to him any more horse-drawn.—New York Sun.

HIS COSTLY HEADGEAR.

"I was surprised to hear that old man Coopers told Jimmy Faulkner that he wouldn't let him marry his daughter under any circumstances. What was the trouble?" "I understand the old man noticed that Jimmy was wearing a green hat." "Will Jimmy give up the hat?" "Not Jimmy. He's too proud of it. He says it cost him $200,000—that's the amount, you know, that old Coopers will give his daughter when she marries."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MEAN TO KEEP UP QUALITY.

French walnut growers in the neighborhood of Grenoble have formed an association to maintain the reputation and guarantee the quality of the walnuts commonly known as "Grenobles."

THEIR USE.

Said He—What good are rich relations, anyway?
Said She—Oh, they are all right when you want something to point to without pride.

ANOTHER TRUST PLANNED.

Growers of the cocoa bean in South and Central America are planning a trust to control the price of cocoa.

DEFINED.

"Tommy, what is a nuisance?"
"Please, ma'am, it's something belongs to somebody else."

FIRST AMONG THE NATIONS

Duty of Every Citizen to Maintain and Increase America's Proud Position.

America is the throne of the world. On her east is the greatest ocean of the present; on her west is the greatest ocean of the future; on her south the greatest of gulfs; on her north the greatest of lakes. She can command the trade of the world in material things; she can lead the march of the nations in spiritual things, writes Senator Albert J. Beveridge, in Appleton's Magazine. Let us do both. With more schools where the learning of man is taught; more churches where the word of God is preached; more nerve and brain and pure resolve than all the world combined, let us keep the leadership that now is ours and captain mankind to the practical realization of humanity's highest hopes.

PRESIDENT JACKSON'S RETORT.

The Irish-American humorist did not appear in literature before the time of the civil war, though when the occasion called for a remark that would outlast more pompous expressions he generally said something that enriched the language. It was the son of an Irishman, President Andrew Jackson, who, when his secretary of state, Van Buren, proffered him unasked advice as to how the president should receive a visiting foreign nobleman, replied, paternally:

"Van, I once knew a man in Tennessee who made his everlasting fortune by minding his own business." The humor here is not very subtle, but the speech was intended rather to be effective than amusing.—The Sunday Magazine.

NO PLACE FOR PICTURES.

An incident in which humor and pathos were combined occurred in the Italian settlement of Philadelphia the other day after a mission worker had handed a little Italian child a picture card.

"Here, little girl," said the woman, "you can take this home and hang it on the wall of your home."

"We has no walls in our room," said the child.

"No walls," said the worker, looking amazed.

"That's right. There are five families in the room where we live, one in each corner, and we live in the middle of the room, so you see we ain't got no walls to hang anything on."—Philadelphia Press.

QUITE PROBABLE.

It is evident that the young man who writes the news items in the Willowby Times wishes always to be on the safe side and exercise due caution in his statements.

"When Mr. Lemuel Hawkins entered the bedroom on the ground floor of his farmhouse one day last week," wrote the careful news-gatherer, "he found that a cow, probably astray, had made her way there from the open door."—Youth's Companion.

BUG'S-EYE VIEW.

Bill Bug—Hi! Here comes another one of them blamed automobiles.

THE EDITOR'S SALLY.

City Editor—What do you mean by saying in this robbery story that "Brown was knocked down and relieved of a hundred dollars?" Were you ever robbed yourself?

New Reporter—No, sir.
City Editor—That accounts for it. If you'd been robbed you wouldn't describe the loss of a hundred dollars as a relief.

HIS RECORD.

Tommy Wrott—You told Dora Hope that you had refused me at least half a dozen times. What a whopper!

Lotta Guph—It wasn't a whopper, either. Don't you remember that you proposed to me six times last Thursday evening?

LESSON TOM DID NOT NEED

Col. Ochiltree Early Showed Precocity Along Lines on Which He Afterwards Became Famous.

Col. Tom Ochiltree, long time famous for his brilliant exaggerations, facetiously by some called a champion liar and never denying his right to the title, once said:

"Although I was always modest, quiet and retiring, even as a child, my father sometimes administered rawhide applications to my back, for my general improvement. On one occasion, as he was taking that sort of exercise, he exclaimed:

"I'll teach you to lie, and steal, and smoke, and use profane language, you young rascal!"

"Never mind, father," I howled enthusiastically, "I know all them branches already."

A REAL CONVERSION.

A member of the Union League of New York was praising the character of the late Oliver Hazard Perry. He said:

"Here was a man of sincerity. He was talking one day, I remember, of a maid servant who had got religion; and it seemed to me, as I listened, that his own character was of the same thoroughgoing sort as that which followed the maid's change of heart.

"So you are converted, Maggie?" this maid's mistress said to her.

"I don't know, ma'am," said the maid, seriously, "but I seem to be. A great change has come over me."

"How great a change?" said the lady.

"Well, ma'am," replied the maid, "since that there revival I always sweep under the mats now."—Washington Star.

HIS DREAM CAME TRUE.

In 1865 a German predicted that he would be a victim of a war that would take place in 1866. The war occurred, but did not affect him.

The other day—42 years later—he was laughing at his old-time prophecy, and boasting of his good health. In his happy mood, he bought an old cottage from a friend, and straightway went to inspect it.

In the garden there was a quantity of old iron, and among it a shell dating from 1866. He picked it up, and was examining it when it exploded, and he was killed on the spot. The prophecy had come true.—Zeitung, Bielefeld, Germany.

LOGIC.

"Madam," said the attorney for the other side, "you seem to have an exceedingly sharp temper."

"Yes, sir," answered the complaining witness in the divorce case. "It comes to me by direct inheritance from my husband's ancestors."

"That's absurd, madam. How could you inherit an irritable disposition from your husband's ancestors?"

"I inherited my husband from them, didn't I?"

AS MODIFIED.

The usual crowd of loafers were seated around the stove in the village grocery.

"I never lied to my wife in my life—" began one of the bunch, when he was interrupted by a unanimous laugh that was loud and long.

"That I didn't get caught at it," ended the speaker, after the laugh had subsided.

Whereupon silence reigned supreme for nearly 23 seconds.

THE DANCING SEASON.

The Young Lady (who was sitting on a sofa which she had all to herself, to her favorite admirer)—I thought you were a mind reader.

"Rather! I'm an expert," said the young man, pluming his evening dress tie.

"Well," looking at the vacant space on the sofa, "I don't believe it!"—Illustrated Bits.

THE DEBUTANTE.

Guest at the Coming-Out Crush to Quiet Old Person in a Corner—Awful plain girl, this new bud, don't you think? Has her mother's looks, hasn't she?

Quiet Old Person—Thank you, I guess she has. I'm her father.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

John Alden was soliloquizing. "And yet," he mused, "before we were married Priscilla asked me why I didn't speak for myself." Herewith he tried to get a word in edgewise.

GEHLING

The Great Character Comedian

J. C. LEWIS

and an Excellent Cast in

"Si Plunkard"

One of the Best Rural Comedy Dramas on the American Stage produced with a wealth of appropriate scenery

Complete Band and Orchestra

Actual Scene showing a Monster Machine in Operation

5 - Big Specialties - 5

Hear the Home Quartette

2 - Free Street Concerts Daily - 2

5 - Big Song Hits - 5

Announcement

We are pleased to announce that our Spring campaign of the biggest values in Farm Machinery for 1909 is now on. You are invited to call and inspect our lines.

A complete line of John Deere Farm Machinery, Hay Loaders and Stackers.

McCormick Binders and Mowers.

Avery Cultivators and Planters.

Sharples Tubular and DeLaval Cream Separators.

Litchfield Spreaders.

Gasoline Engines. Old Hickory and Avery Wagons. Keys Bros' and Vehlre Buggies.

No trouble to show our goods.

Loucks & Jones

FALLS CITY

NEBRASKA

Ready to Deliver

Crystal Lakes Ice

ICE

Phone 38

MAUST BROS.

RUSTICO

28633

Percheron Stallion, Dapple Grey, foaled August, 1899. Bred by Keiser Bros. of Keota, Iowa. Got by Defi 21452 (39271), he by Bonlard (20089), he by Senateur (2381), he by Picador, belonging to M. Dupont. Dam, Dakota Quality, 24781 by Bambin 16688 (34654), by Bayard (21009), he by Picador 5042 (6919), he by Cheri (5464), he by Mouton, he by Coco of Misse-sur-sarthe.

Rustico is 16 hands high and weighs 1700 pounds when in good flesh. Rustico has proven a sure foal getter and has a great many good colts to his credit. His disposition is fine and his action good. Don't fail to examine this horse before breeding.

JUMBO is 7 years old this spring. He is of Mammoth breeding, jet black with white points, splendid head and ear, extra heavy boned and is a splendid individual. He is 14 1/2 hands high and weighs 950 pounds when in good flesh. He is a sure foal getter and you will make no mistake in breeding to him.

RUSTICO and JUMBO will be at S. B. Miles farm, known as the Joe Holmes place, 2 miles south and 5 miles west of Falls City, on Monday and Tuesday of each week. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at my place and on Saturday at Chapman's Feed Yard, Falls City, Neb.

TERMS—$10 to insure colt to stand up and suck. Service fees due if Mare is sold or removed from County before time of foaling. Mare and Colt held for service. Care will be taken to prevent accident, but will not be responsible should any occur. I secured this stock from J. G. Whitaker of Kansas City, who has tested them thoroughly and you will find them worthy your patronage.

Phone 212 NN
R. F. D. No. 1

Thos. J. Whitaker.
FALLS CITY, NEB.