Now it's the "sweet girl graduate,"

God bless the mothers—every day should be mother's day.

Don't tell us Falls City is not a "live one." A medicine show for the past ten days and no deaths directly traceable to that cause.

Humboldt, according to the Leader, has had more than her share of beggars this spring. Falls City catches them going and coming, we opine, for there is never a day passes that we're slighted by them.

The graduating class of the high school wisely secured their invitations at a newspaper office. Anyway, it wouldn't look just right to send out of town or get them from any other source, when it's the newspaper that is always saying nice things about them the whole year long.

TWO OPINIONS ONE.

A paper down the street says it will print a real daily if the people want it. How much does that paper think the people will stand? Wayfarer and family news once a week is enough for the public. This daily talk is sour grapes anyhow. The Journal is attending to the daily field nicely.—Falls City News.

THE OTHER.

"Judge Isham Reavis, of Falls City, is writing a book called 'The Reminiscences of a Wayfarer,' in which much of the early history of Nebraska is being told, in a style so entertaining that it will be one of the most valuable literary productions of Nebraska. The story is being run through the pages of the Falls City Tribune."—Lincoln State Capital.

Now, gentle reader, which opinion is worth the most? The prejudiced, narrow-minded, selfish, jealous one of the paper up the alley, or the one of the Lincoln State Capital, one of Lincoln's leading newspapers.

It's up to you.

LINCOLN A PIONEER

The prohibition victory in Lincoln, the capital of the state, is significant. This fact must be borne in mind: Lincoln is the second largest city in the United States, of the metropolitan class, located in a state where constitutional prohibition does not prevail, where the preference of the voters, as expressed at the polls, is for a "dry" town. The largest city of the class in the country is Worcester, Mass. Lincoln is a cosmopolitan city. It is a university town. It is a state capital and it is only on the initiative of the citizens that the city is in the "dry" class. Lincoln is unique in this particular. There was no county option, no state vote to make, the capitol go dry. The only deduction is that the vote of Lincoln, as a city, was a vote that was based on common sense. It was rational and shows the tendency of the times. There is a moral uplift, as well as a spiritual uplift abroad in the land. It calls for absolute temperance in all things. It is a revolt against the vicious and is the result of intelligent thought and action of the highest order. We are living in strenuous days and there must be a conservation of the physical, mental and moral elements of manhood to meet the daily problems of manhood to meet the daily problems and ideals of life. The national attitude is opposed to waste. It is the new thought and Lincoln, with the sisterhood of "dry" towns in Nebraska is a pioneer in the vanguard of the movement. The winning of the state capitol to prohibition may be taken as one of the straws which shows the way the wind is blowing.—Auburn Republican.

Our contemporary wants to know what we expect the public to stand from this "family journal"? From our increasing business each year the public appear to take kindly to a clean "family newspaper." The only "hollar" we hear is from up the alley. Talk about sour grapes, the garden is filled with the Davis variety.

FALLS CITY CHAUTAUQUA

To be Held July 24th to August 1st, 1909, at City Park

The third annual assembly of the Falls City Chautauqua Association will be held in the Park Auditorium the last of next July.

Our two 'previous Chautauquas were pre-eminently successful and with the strong program secured for this year we will surely meet with greater success than ever.

The 'head liners' are Secretary Coburn of Kansas, who is too big to become a United States Senator, because it might interfere with his usefulness to the Kansas farmers; Rev. W. A. (Billy) Sunday, the "base ball" evangelist, whose only rival as a crowd getter, is the Hon. W. J. Bryan; Congressman R. P. Hobson, of Merrimac fame; the Hinshaw Grand Opera Quartet.

These star attractions will be supplemented by a list of talent that is hard to outclass. On the program will be found such attractions as Gabriel McGuire, Robert Parker Miles, Toronto Male Quartet, E. W. Lanham, "Drummer" Moore, Booth Lowrey, Mason's Jubilee Singers, Ralph Parlette, Brush, magician, Ash Davis, cartoonist, Judge Sadler, Senior Ramon Reyes Lala, and Miss Martha Clark, domestic science, one week.

This list should please the most fastidious for it is a quality list.

Begin boosting now. The Chautauqua is a home organization, managed by home people in the interest of our own home community.

A REAL MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Held at Convention Hall in Kansas City Monday

A new standard for music in Kansas City was made by two remarkable concerts at that place in Convention Hall Monday. Both afternoon and evening the size of the audiences and their enthusiasm gave the event an atmosphere of a musical festival. There were about nine thousand people present at the concerts.

This was an excellent treat to hear some of the works of Carl Busch and the co-operation of choral societies from Clay Center, Kans., Bonner Springs, Fort Scott, Kans., Falls City, Nebr., and Kansas City.

The program in the evening was a very good one, but the last number "The Four Winds" is the one that particularly attracted the attention of Falls City people, as Mrs. Charles Banks and her chorus took part in it. They made a good showing and our people should indeed feel proud.

Finger Badly Cut

While trying to catch hold of the back of a wagon one day this week, Lloyd Wahl caught a ring that was on his finger on a nail protruding from the vehicle, cutting the finger so badly that it was necessary to call a physician, D. M. Davies was also sent for to file the ring from the injured member.

The accident was a very painful one and should be a lesson to the small boys who are in the habit of hanging onto wagons as they are going up and down the street.

Jackson Gladwell Dead

Jackson Gladwell, an aged farmer living southwest of this city, was found dead in his bed Monday morning. He had not been complaining for several days and his death was a shock to his family and many friends. He had reached the age of seventy-five years, many of which had been spent in Richardson county. He leaves an aged wife and several children and grandchildren. The funeral services were held from the Dunkard church on Pony creek, Wednesday, and the remains laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

Many weak, nervous women have been restored to health by Foley's Kidney Remedy as it stimulates the kidneys so they eliminate the waste matter from the blood.
