The revival meetings as announced commenced at the city auditorium on Sunday, led by Evangelists Lockhart and Lintt. There were fifteen added the first day of the meeting with a good crowd Sunday night. Evangelist Lockhart demonstrated that he was a leader of men and a splendid evangelist. While he scores unmercifully the cold, forward church member, he is loving and tender with the repentant sinner. He has no hobby to force upon the people, but in tenderness and love he holds up the Great Loving Christ as the true divine magnet, calling all to follow the Christ and the Book.

Prof. Lintt is a master at chorus leading. He now has a large chorus of from 75 to 100 voices, that make the old auditorium ring with soul inspiring songs from night to night. His solo Tuesday was fine and caused the large audience to cheer.

F. Ellsworth Day, Pastor.

QUESTION HARD TO ANSWER

Interrogation of Little Son Was Embarrassing to His Over-Confident Mother.

Gustave Eberlein, the famous German sculptor, said the other day in New York that in beauty of face and figure the American woman excelled all others—that the American type of beauty approached almost absolute perfection.

"In intelligence as well," the sculptor resumed, "the American woman excels. But now and then she has the defect of the intelligent—she is overpositive, she is overconfident. In that case I like to see her taken down.

"I once met a beautiful and brilliant American woman on shipboard. She talked splendidly, but she was very positive—positive, indeed.

"I am a good reader of faces," she said one day at luncheon. "On first sight of a person I form my opinion of that person's character; and I am never wrong. I am positively never wrong."

"Mother," her little boy called shrilly from the other end of the long table, where he sat with his nurse.

"Well, what is it, my son?" said the mother, indulgently.

"And we all turned to hear what the little fellow had to say.

"Mother," he piped, "I want to know what was your opinion, mother, when you first saw me?"

"MAY I USE YOUR TELEPHONE?"

We have received the following sample of Canadian telephone humor. The telephone borrowing nuisance, unfair alike to the subscriber and the company, does not seem to have attained similar proportions here:

"This telephone is yours; we only pay the rent for it. It is more blessed to give than to receive.

"Please scribble on the walls as they need decorating.

"Long-distance calls our specialty; kindly do not offer to settle.

"Our family are prohibited from using the phone except between six and seven a. m. Sundays."—London National Telephone Journal.

MODERNITY'S TRIUMPH.

Papa was about to apply the strap. "Father," said Willie, firmly, "unless that instrument has been properly sterilized I desire to protest."

"This gave the old man pause.

"Moreover," continued Willie, "the germs that might be released by the violent impact of leather upon a porous textile fabric but lately exposed to the dust of the streets would be apt to affect you deleteriously."

As the strap fell from a nerveless hand, Willie sloped.

Wheat Ruined by Rust.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint." ## GAINED ONLY BRIEF RESPIRE

John Henry's Cleverness But Put Off the Evil Time of Carpet Lifting.

"John Henry," said Mrs. Peddicord to her husband, "as soon as you get through your supper I want you to take up the carpet in the sitting-room, so that I can have it cleaned."

"Maria Jane," replied John Henry, "let me tell you of a sad occurrence which happened a few days ago."

"Well?"

"A man whose name I have forgotten, but which can be ascertained if necessary, for the newspaper in which I saw the account printed it in full, undertook to take up a carpet. In some way the tack-extractor slipped, and a rusty tack pierced his thumb. He thought nothing of it at the time, but in the night his thumb began to swell. The pain became excruciating. A physician was sent for, who did his best to alleviate the poor man's suffering, but without avail. Blood poisoning set in, and the poor fellow died in great agony."

"Well?" again remarked Mrs. Peddicord, as her husband ceased speaking.

"Well, dear, you surely do not still insist upon your husband taking up the sitting-room carpet and exposing himself to such a dreadful fate? Are you prepared to be a widow?"

"Yes, John Henry, I still insist upon having that carpet taken up; but I will let you postpone the operation until to-morrow night, so that during the day you may get your life insured for $2,000."

A HUMMER.

The teacher had carefully expounded the meaning of the word "extinct," and to make sure that the class had got a proper grip of the subject said:

"Now, each one of you must make up a sentence containing the word 'extinct,' and write it down carefully in your exercise-book."

Some few minutes subsequently the teacher read, set forth in the shaky round hand of Johnny Smith, "We had eggs to breakfast this morning, and my egg stink!"
