Falls City

Landlord Spence's efforts to provide nothing but the best for his guests.

Mr. Little of the Matthews-Little Co., in the short time that he has resided in the city has shown himself to be a man of honest business dealings and a genial social companion. The company is known throughout the county as the "Price Killers"—a very appropriate name.

One hardly knows when hunting for a piece of jewelry which firm to patronize, that of the jolly Mr. Simpson, that of Jaquet, "the old reliable" or that of the courteous firm of Davies & Owens. These gentlemen are some of Falls City's pushing citizens.

J. C. Tanner, another popular and progressive merchant, conducts a large hardware store on Stone street. Here is found the best in the hardware line.

With this brief history of Falls City and notice of its prominent men,

The Public Library.

one is given some idea of Falls City, its advantages and splendid citizenship. Falls City's enterprising citizens readily recognize what is best for the town and anything that is feasible, those citizens attempt to make a reality by putting their shoulder to the wheel. The success of a town depends upon the enterprising spirit of its citizens and it is this spirit or its citizens that has lately taken possession of the town which will make it one of the largest and best cities of the state.
