Former Resident Dead.

Whitesboro, N. Y., Aug. 17—Word has been received here of the death of a former resident, B. Rudd Williams, who passed away at Los Angeles, Cal., Friday night, after a long illness from Bright's disease. Mr. Williams was born in the town of Rome, Aug. 6, 1851, but came to this village with his parents in early childhood. He had been employed here as bookkeeper for the lumber firm of Law, Williams & Co., now Denton & Waterbury. Later he managed a branch mill for the firm at Ilion. After leaving this village twenty-eight years ago he traveled extensively in the west. He served as station agent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad at Falls City, Neb., and the Southern Pacific Railroad, at Riverside, Cal., until compelled to resign because of illness. While in the west he was married.

He is survived, besides his widow, by three sisters and a brother—Jesse Williams, and Mrs. Fred W. Haynes of this city, Mrs. Frank Payne of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Frank P. Halsey of Walesville.
