THE PIE EATERS.

The voice of the democratic machine would convey to this enlightened public that the republican candidates are the public "pie eaters" of the age. Let us look into this matter and sift the wheat from the chaff.

George Reichers, candidate for treasurer, has been a resident of the county for forty odd years and has NEVER held an elective office.

Roy Daggett is an old resident of the county, and in the past year has seen more hard luck than any man within her border, and has NEVER aspired for an office. Even at this time it took the combined efforts of numerous friends to get him into the race.

A. R. Scott, candidate for county judge, has NOT held a county office for twelve years.

It has been ten years since W. P. Ferguson was sheriff of this county, and we never had a better or more conscientious official.

F. M. Boss was born in this county nearly forty years ago and has NEVER held an elective office. Four years as register of deeds would not spoil him.

When the republican party selected Albert Sargent as their candidate, they were not looking for a smooth politician—if so, they made a poor choice. But they did select a man who has always taught a good school and would make a capable county superintendent. This is the first time he has ever been before the people asking their franchise.

Dr. G. W. Reneker has held so many inquests over the democratic defeat, and does it so nicely and kindly, that even the opposition would not do without him in the capacity of coroner.

Now let us look at the other side of this picture:

John H. Hutchings has NEVER LET LOOSE since he got his first "toe hold," some ten years ago, on the county board. From there he tumbled into the county clerk's office and has held that for four years. How he would smile one of those smiles that "never rubs off" if the voters would give him a pull at the treasurer's office for about four years. He would then be ready to join his landed interests in another state, where he is planting every dollar he can save from his public salary, and be in perfect form to serve the dear people there until the end of time, if necessary.

George W. Morris never has been able to get further with the machine than a deputyship, which he has held for two terms in the treasurer's office; also one term under the Wyatt administration. The machine tried to shake him for the nomination this time, but he wouldn't stand tied.

Judge Gagnon has presided over the county court so long that the democratic machine think Pontius Pilate's overcoat would not make him a vest and justice could not be meted out unless he be continued at the helm another twelve years.

W. T. Fenton has had four years as sheriff and applies for another.

L. C. Edwards has been recorder of deeds for four years and would make it eight if the voters of the county are willing.

T. J. Oliver has been superintendent of the schools for two terms and could stand another without producing heart failure.

Dr. M. L. Wilson makes his first appearance before the public in county affairs, but as he was mayor of Humboldt one term, we think that sufficient public burden, for a time at least.

The voter can carefully scan the record of the two tickets and conclude who is the chronic office seeker.

THE MACHINE.

The voice of the democratic machine is long on personal abuse, but short on logic or facts, when pointing to the republican party in this county. Never, since the organization of the republican party in the county, has it been so free from bossism or vindictive strife for leadership as at the present time.

On the other hand the collar has been worn so long at the voice kennel that the agent of the democratic system in this county could not bark without it. When the boss told him Gagnon would be nominated, the bouquets were thrown that way, and Mr. James was given to understand that he was a presumptuous mortal to attempt such and act at this time. A democratic aspirant at Dawson was "nipped in the bud" and told that the die was cast and that he would have to wait. Another one of the faithful at Shubert was told that the old gang were NOT THROUGH with the court house yet; his turn would come later.

When politics are thus manipulated by half a dozen men in the county, if the public can be convinced by the voice that a democratic machine does not exist, the man who has worn the collar so many years will have accomplished a wonderful feat.
