SOUVENIR Set of Majestic Ware FREE

If you will call at our store during our Majestic Demonstration week and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great and Grand Majestic Range, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this Set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during demonstration week only.

Reasons Why the Great Majestic You Should Buy

- 1st.—It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy.
- 2nd.—It not only has the reputation, but is the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
- 3d.—It is constructed of Malleable iron (material you can't beat) and of Charcoal Iron (material that resists rust 300 per cent greater than steel), is riveted together air-tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
- 4th.—The reservoir alone is worth the price of the range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left-hand lining, and is movable, and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

MAJESTIC RANGES use less fuel; heat more water--and heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; last three times as long; bake better; easier to keep clean and give better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you knew positively that the above statements were true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic AT ONCE. Come in during Demonstration Week and we will prove it to you.

November 1st to 6th J. C. TANNER Falls City, Nebraska

The Point in Question

THE KINDLY CRITIC

The unusual number of "drunks" upon the streets last Saturday night caused considerable comment, and no little argument. It is customary, you know, in this connection, to remark that "they're from Kansas." But this assertion does not always go unchallenged, as was the case last Sunday when the question came up for discussion at the hotel. "You Nebraska people," remarked the Kansas man present, "endeavor to saddle all your 'drunks' upon Kansas. Now, I know some of the people that were staggering upon your streets last night, and I know them to be 'natives.' In my humble opinion, had they been Kansans, they would have been 'jugged' early in the evening. You people father your own drunks—don't endeavor to shove them onto us. We've troubles of our own."

City can show a good average, and along about Easter time few cities can compare with her.

"Ostler Joe" was the bill at one of the moving picture shows several nights recently. It was a series of pictures depicting the story of that poem made famous by Mrs. James Brown Patter who shocked Washington society by reciting the same. It was a "weezy" series of pictures, and an exhibition in no wise beneficial to the young. The characters in the pictures, in part, were low and vicious, and while a suitable setting for a catchy poem, is far from being the proper exhibition for school boys and girls to look upon. There are many sad and regrettable things in life that need not be thrown upon canvas to be remembered. The printed facts are bad enough—the illustrated facts are like unto an overdose of bitter medicine.

The sweater's the thing now-a-days. It don't make any difference whether they are becoming to your particular style of beauty or not—the sweater's the thing. If you are slightly elongated in build, fair maiden, there are colors and designs that will eliminate all that, and make you look just like Lillian Russell; while if you, oh, fair woman, are inclined to plumpness there's colors and designs that will thin you down to that willowy gracefulness that your Egyptian sister, Cleopatra so delighted in. It's the real thing, is the sweater, and if you haven't one, go and get one right away, and be cheerful and happy again.

Possibly it is not the fault of the local commercial club that Falls City has to look to the Atchison Globe or the Hiawatha World for information concerning the M. P. division here. It may be that ours is one of those commercial clubs that never knows anything along this line until it becomes common gossip; and not knowing anything, can impart no knowledge. Very often so-called commercial clubs are more ornamental than useful.

It seems from statistics recently gathered that your Nebraskan is a poor church goer—hardly up to the standard of some other states, and the reasons therefor is bothering the minds of church workers who seek a solution for this shortcoming and a remedial adjustment of the same. Here in Falls City I find the men the only delinquents in this matter—the women of Falls City are consistent church goers, and take on prayer meetings, social meetings, teas, sewing circles, etc., etc., with avidity. One good citizen was telling me recently that his wife was so wrapped up in church work that she had been absent from home six successive evenings, and was almost worn out. Whatever the reputation Nebraska may have as to her church goers, Falls

City may be that you have plucked oranges right off the tree in far-away California, or perchance luscious-looking plums, persimmons and grapes and their size and tempting exterior led you to proclaim their excellence long afterwards. But how insipid are these fruits of other climes as compared to our own Jonathan apple. Here is a fruit that stands out the king of them all—the Southeast Nebraska variety, we refer to. The Jonathan is in a class to itself. It has a coloring and marking of its own, and a bouquet as fragrant as the spring violet. To one who has access to the noble Jonathan, a wave of pity is felt for he who knows it not. It is all right to prattle of other varieties of apples, and tell of their finer points, but when the peerless Jonathan is in sight it is almost akin to sacrilege. Other apples there are that stew well, that bake divinely, and as a dumpling are a creation that does the housewife proud—but the Jonathan, ah, the Jonathan!

When the Atchison Daily Globe concedes that Falls City is to be the main division point of all Missouri Pacific lines in Nebraska, it would seem that the doubting Thomases at home would take heart and begin to realize that there is "something doing."

"It was just awful. There I sat within sight of half of my Sunday school class, and that 'Blue Mouse' up there on the stage half dressed asking a man to 'hook her up.' Wasn't it just too awful?" Sister Primrose was talking, and she was agitated; her face was red and she breathed heavily. "I supposed it was a nice show. Sister A. and Sister B. said they were going—that it was a 'society play,' and that it had a run in New York and Chicago of months and months. Society play! Good Lord—I mean goodness me—what is a society play? Why, that Blue Mouse thing—I despise and abhor her, and hope she will never come back. My husband said it was refreshing. Refreshing! Good Lord—I mean goodness me. 'Hook me up, hook me up!'"

Is Your Family Reading Worth While

So much of current reading is merely entertaining at best that the question naturally arises, Is it worth while? Your sons and daughters are bound to read something. They hunger for stories which take them into the other half of the world—the world of adventure, of valor, of fortune making. The problem is to give them such reading without putting into their hands the literature that is either silly or demoralizing. The editors of the Youth's Companion believe that a periodical can be made entertaining and yet worth while, and the Companion is conducted on that theory. And that is one reason why more than half a million American families read it. The paper is safe, but not dull. Its tales of adventures illustrate the advantages of fortitude and self reliance. Its stories of character lay stress on the truth that right conduct is never a mistake.

Every new subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $1.75 for the new 1910 Volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Venetian" calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of the Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909 from the time the subscription is received. The Youth's Companion, Companion Building, Boston, Mass.

Sold by all druggists.

IT'S DANGEROUS.

Speaking of the defeat of the republican ticket four years ago, when the third term ticket was defeated, the Falls City News had this to say in their issue of Nov. 10, 1905:

"We are satisfied that THE PEOPLE HAVE WON A VICTORY which will teach the politicians and ringsters a lesson which will prove everlasting. The American policy holds the THIRD TERM proposition as DANGEROUS TO GOOD GOVERNMENT."

Now, if the American policy held the "third term" proposition as dangerous four year's ago, what conditions have brought about a reversal in that said American policy.
