AS THE VOTER WILLS.

Before another issue of The Tribune shall have reached its readers, the county election will have become history, and all doubts, fears and anxiety on the part of the candidate and voter as to the outcome will have been put to rest by bald facts and figures.

In victory or in defeat, The Tribune has no apologies to make for the part it has taken in the canvass. If confronted with victory it will rejoice; if defeat, it will accept the same gracefully, and maintain its usual poise and cater more valiantly than ever to the army of readers that it greets each week; for, after all, politics and elections and their attendant upheavals, that of a necessity confronts a people from time to time, are but incidents in the great program of life and when these upheavals have subsided, there is still work to do and obligations to meet.

After all is said, it is the voter who is supreme in this matter, and The Tribune bows to that strong will, the majority, and congratulates the successful candidates, and drops a journalistic tear for the defeated.

If Judge Gagnon was honest in his argument four years ago, when he was continually harping against the third term, he should now campaign against himself. He is now seeking the very thing he condemned four years ago. Consistency!

Hundreds of voters—both democratic and independent—who consider their own interests paramount to that of party, will cast their votes with the republicans this year. The

The Tribune wants to go on record regarding the third term proposition. So long as The Tribune shall be published under the present management it will not only refuse to support a candidate who asks for three or more successive terms at public office, but it will do its utmost to defeat him—regardless of party politics.

democrats believe they will serve their party better by putting it through a course of purification, thereby doing a doubly duty; the independents believe in a change of men, regardless of party, every four years.

Those republicans who voted against Judge Wilhite four years ago on account of the third term issue, which they declared they could never and would never endorse, can now apply their objections to Judge Gagnon. He is not only a fifth term, but didn't want the office. He didn't even file until after James was allowed to file and was given to understand that Gagnon would "stay off." But the bosses and their machine were afraid of James, so they forced Gagnon on the ticket.

Nebraska is a republican state. It has a goodly majority of republican voters, of men who stand by and support republican policies and principles which have been the foundation of national and individual wealth and prosperity. To keep what we have gained in prosperity it is vitally necessary to keep republican principles and policies in the ascendancy in state and nation. This can be done in Nebraska only by getting the republican vote in the ballot box on election day, Nov. 2nd next. This is the only place where votes win. Nobody wants a repetition of democratic success in Nebraska as represented by the late lamented democratic legislature. Nebraska is republican. Let us keep it so by polling the full party vote in the ballot box. That is the only place where it counts.

"IS HE COMPETENT?"

Under the above head, with sale bill type and border, the Falls City News last week made a frail attempt to show that Mr. Reichers is not competent for the office of county treasurer.

The tabulated amount of charges as stated in the examiners' statement, Mr. Reichers was fully aware existed at the time, and they were in dispute with the state examiners, hence the fees and commission were not drawn—the proof of which is on file.

We do not, nor will voters, see in the tabulated figures where the least shadow of incompetency was shown; but, it rather confirms the wisdom of Reichers—to be long $621.62 in the cash balance, rather than show a shortage, which has been the case with certain predecessors.

THAT COMPARISON.

In a recent issue of the Falls City News they tried to show by comparison that Hutchings was more competent than Reichers, for the office of county treasurer, because the state board raised the county assessors' valuation five per cent. They say that Hutchings saved the county $8,000, when, in fact, Hutchings had nothing to do with it. It's absurd!

They said that Reichers cost the county $621.62, while bookkeeper for Martin Zook, through ignorance or neglect. This statement was a rank injustice to Reichers—or anyone else for that matter—a red cent that he did not justly earn. That $621.62 was due Mr. Zook, but was in dispute with the state examiner. Rather than have the cash one cent short Mr. Reichers chose to leave the fees and commission until such time as the county board should decide upon the matter. The county board drew a warrant for $621.62 in favor of Mr. Zook.

That's all there is to it. Does it look as though Reichers cost the county anything?

Was Reichers dishonest? Why don't the News prove the competency of Hutchings? Has he in any way demonstrated that he is a financier or bookkeeper?

Why don't the News say a word or two to excuse Hutchings, in the eyes of the taxpayer, for his actions regarding a certain bridge that was built at Rulo across the slough, under his instructions, which cost the county upwards of $1,000.00 to relocate?

Why don't you? Mum's the word! As to Mr. Reichers' competency and honesty, all that is necessary is to ask anyone who has ever had any dealings with him, and you'll immediately be convinced that the county has no better material for the county treasurer's office.

Republican voters who desire to vote the straight ticket this year by placing their "X" in the party circle near the top of the ballot are warned that the democratic circle comes first at the top this year instead of the republican circle as has been the case for several years past, and that the republican party circle appears second from the top of the ballot. The law so provides owing to the fact that the democrats cast the largest vote last year for the head of the ticket (Shallenberger). All republicans hope to replace the republican circle at the head of the ballot by winning this year and replacing the party circle at the head of the ticket for the important election of next year when a complete list of state officers, a United States senator and a legislature is to be chosen.

The Opera House.

The operatic and fashionable event of the week is the appearance of the Boston Ideal Co. This is indeed a musical treat for our people. As this company is so well known, it would be reiteration to add words about their ability and reputation. It suffices to say, however, that a personal of this company will elicit at once the interest of the theatergoers. Opera house Friday night, October 29, in "Said Pasha."

Married in St. Joseph.

Mrs. C. B. Elliott of this city and Mr. Al Pyle of Preston were quietly married in St. Joseph last Thursday. They have gone to house keeping in Preston, where they will make their home. The Tribune joins in extending congratulations.

Hotel Changed Hands.

The Union House changed hands again Wednesday, Adam Vogle is now sole proprietor, Mrs. McPherson having retired.

LEGAL NOTICE.

Jennie R. Pyle, Plaintiff,

v.
Edward S. Pyle, Defendant.

To Edward S. Pyle, non-resident defendant:
You are hereby notified that the plaintiff, Jennie R. Pyle, did on the 19th day of July, 1909, file her petition in the district court of Richardson county, state of Nebraska, the object and prayer of which is to obtain a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony now existing between her and you upon the grounds of desertion for more than two years continuously and for non-support during said time, and praying for a further decree giving her the custody of the two children named in her petition as the fruit of said marriage who are both minors and of tender age.

You are further notified that said plaintiff has asked in her said petition that the court grant an order of sequestration of certain real estate owned by you in Richardson County, Nebraska, to wit: part of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 29, Town 1, Range 17, containing about twelve acres, and a final decree assigning said real estate to her for her support and that of her children and that the decree making such assignment shall stand as a conveyance of your title therein to the plaintiff, Jennie R. Pyle, and a further prayer for such other and further relief as plaintiff may be entitled to, agreeable to the equities of her case.

You are further notified that unless you plead, answer or demur to the petition of plaintiff filed in said cause on or before the 15th day of December, 1909, the same will be taken as confessed and a decree entered in favor of plaintiff accordingly. This publication is made by authority of the district court of Richardson county granted on October 29th, 1909.
