We've got the governor.

The Omaha red light district gave Dahlman 463 and Aldrich 16 votes.

The democrats of Nebraska have one substantial reason for feeling elated over the election, and that is the defeat of their gubernatorial candidate.

Now that the election is over and a normal condition prevails, lets build new houses to accommodate the new people coming to town who cannot be housed.

Aldrich's victory is a distinct victory for reform. It amounts to a declaration on the part of the intelligent citizenship of the state in favor of county option and the suppression of brewery domination.

Dahlman made his appeal to the lower element and to the foreigners. In the first he was successful but not in the second, as the Dane and German sections of Nebraska did not by any means go solidly for him as he had so fondly anticipated. They deserve great credit for their support of the moral issue.

The general results of the election, Tuesday are clearly a protest against tariff revision that did not revise and the attitude of the reactionaries generally. When the people speak even the bosses sit up and take notice. It is to be hoped that this so called spanking given the republican party will have a salutary effect.

The persistent effort on the part of Prof. Wood and others to provide an entertainment course for Falls City is praiseworthy and merits the hearty support and patronage of every citizen. A town the size of ours can easily support a course that will not only be a source of wholesome entertainment but be of real service and an honor to the town. It is to be hoped that the first number of this course will receive the patronage it deserves.

Join the ranks of the home boosters. Lend a hand in the effort to preach the gospel of "back to the old home". It's a good place to be. Our prize contest, now starting will help to get the facts before the people. Will you give your support and encouragement to this effort to get for Richardson county the recognition she deserves. The Tribune can accomplish very little without the good will and support of the people generally.

Not in years, if ever before has such a dirty campaign been waged in the state of Nebraska. Never was mud-slinging carried, to such an extent. Never has there been such a hand to hand fight between the more intelligent classes and the illiterate and lawless class. The democratic victory cannot be pointed to with pride this year; it has been bought at too high a price morally speaking. But after all, the majority of thinking people were not ready to put at the head of the state a man who boasted of his immorality.

NO SMOKING.

The Metropolitan Street Railway Company which controls the street cars of Kansas City, has issued an order, that after November 1st no smoking will be allowed in the cars of this company. All cars are carrying "No Smoking in This Car" signs since Monday of last week, and all conductors have received rigid instructions to see that the order is obeyed. The new order will be hailed with joy by thousands of passengers. The prohibition of the smoke nuisance in public places, especially in places where women and children congregate is one of the signs that speak eloquently of better things. That smoking blunts ones sense of regard for the rights and comforts of others is constantly illustrated by the manner in which smokers disregard every rule of common decency in the gratification of this filthy habit. It does not enter their calloved faculties, that non-smokers may not enjoy the odor and stench of tobacco fumes. They cannot realize that the smell of tobacco smoke causes actual distress to thousands of people. My mother always became violently sick when compelled to inhale only a small amount of tobacco smoke, and would suffer acute misery for hours. As for myself, I have never been able to reconcile my feelings and sense of the fitness of things to this useless and vulgar habit, and suffer acutely whenever compelled to be in company with one who abuses the finer sense of fellowship by afflicting his companions in order to gratify a vile taste.

ABOUT CIGARETTES.

The anti-cigarette laws of Nebraska are extremely severe. Any person giving to a minor the "makings" is liable to severe penalties if arranged. Soon after the opening of school this fall the boys might have been seen amusing themselves by rolling slips of paper into a bell shaped form and after inserting a pin in the tapering end, casting the contrivance, spear fashion at the boy or girl nearest him, the idea being to stick the curiously shaped affair into the others clothing. Upon investigation it was found that the slips of paper used were cigarette slips, and obtained freely by the boys from dealers in Falls City. They were furnished free, obviously by providing a novel diversion for the boys to get them to use them largely and thus familiarize them with the "makings" of the cigarette, and lead them to acquire a taste for tobacco. In the rolling of the tubes it was necessary to wet the one end of the paper. The paper was heavily scented with tobacco, thus giving him a taste of tobacco and the smell every time he put a slip to his lips. For a week or more the practice was almost universal among the smaller boys. The scheme was devilish in the extreme, and clearly against the law.

We are glad to call attention again to the fact that the evil has been suppressed for time being. But, we would urge upon the proper authorities the need of watchfulness. Boys are still getting and smoking cigarettes. The practice should be broken up. This will be difficult, I admit. But our boys should be saved from this blight.

WE GET ALDRICH.

Both The County and State Go Democratic. Hope for Lieutenant Governor and Sec. of State

The only decided victory for the republican party is the election of Governor. Aldrich's majority over Dahlman is at least 12,000. The state ticket is otherwise democratic, though today, Thursday, there is still the belief that we may get the lieutenant governor and state treasurer, at best these candidates will run very close.

The county is entirely democratic. The fact remains however that the democrat gain has been made only by booze dominated districts and in the out-laying and less enlightened districts. The democratic ticket lost some in wards and precincts where the law-abiding and moral citizens held their homes above the head of th party ticket. Where the vote could be swayed by booze or a bid for lawlessness there was a decided gain.

There has been a lesson too in the defeat. Yet in the defeat we see victory, for the state has stood for principal and a careful canvas of the county precincts and our city shows that the better element will not be dominated very much longer by the liquor traffic. Whenever it comes to carrying an election on these lines you will find there will be a strong rally to the front. Though we lose the county and state ticket we are proud of the fact that old Nebraska has repudiated brewery rule.

A PLEA FOR HOME INDUSTRY.

$250,000 Go Out of Richardson County Every Year, To Our Loss.

Brown County, Kansas has often been spoken of as the garden spot of America. Richardson County, Nebraska is a very close neighbor. The majority of the people residing in Richardson county, fail utterly to realize that they are living in one of the most favored spots in the whole country. One cause for this lack of appreciation lies in the natural disposition of host people to take the advantages to be found in their environment as a matter of course and to seriously consider only the disadvantages and objectionable features. Another cause is to be found in the history of Richardson County. Conditions were not always so well favored. The time is not long past when the grasshopper was a burden and the hot winds burnt up what had escaped the grasshopper. It was a time that tried the courage of our pioneer fathers. Things have changed slowly. So slowly that many people scarcely noted the remarkable change. Our harvests are not only good, but we might almost add, they never fail. The climate and soil are favorable to the successful cultivation of a very wide range of farm products. Our markets are good and becoming better each year. Prices are higher. The climate is not only agreeable the year round but it is remarkably healthful and bracing.

But all this is an old story to most of our people. They have forgotten the past and seeing only the disadvantages of the present conditions, they are able to find serious fault with one of the most favored spots in all of God's creation. But there remains another course that inclines many to find fault with Richardson county, and it is only too many instances to sell their holdings here and seek a more favorable place to live. It is the Real Estate agents, who have interests in other parts of the country, paint the good points of those new sections in such glowing colors, that many of our people catch the infection, become restive and fall out entirely with grand old Richardson county, sell out and move away, necessarily to the loss of the county because they take with them the accumulations of many years.

Every year our county is robbed of hundreds of thousands of dollars by persons becoming dissatisfied move away taking the wealth they accumulated in the county and investing it elsewhere. This is a serious loss to the county. And some effort ought to be put forth to discourage the evil. We need our capital at home for the exploiting of home industries. Richardson county has wrapped up within her environs undreamed of possibilities. What is needed is capital to finance the development of home industries.

We are investing our capital too largely outside of the county and depending too largely upon outside sources for many of our needs. Home industries would provide a larger and more varied home market for the products of our farms. This in turn will encourage farmers to raise a greater variety of products, a thing for which Richardson county is peculiarly suited and which would soon result in increased farm values, a breaking up of the large farms because of the necessity and demand for more intensive farming. Our population would double and treble and our wealth be immensely increased.

There is one way by which this disposition to invest outside the county might be greatly modified. It is by showing the people the excellencies of the county. Instead of finding fault let us begin to seek out the good points and hold them up for every one to look at. It is the purpose of The Tribune to begin a vigorous publicity campaign at once. We urge every resident of the county who has the Larger Richardson county at heart, to help us in the effort. We want to know the good points in order that we may publish them and bring before our people a clear and forcible statement of the facts as they relate to the future of this county.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

Its superiority is unquestioned
Its fame world-wide
Its use a protection and a guarantee against alum food

The low-grade powders are made from "phosphate alum," or "sodium aluminum sulphate," which is also alum, a mineral acid, and that makes the food unhealthful.

One pound of the imitation (25c.) powders contains five ounces of alum, a mineral poison.

Food baked with alum baking powders is found to contain a portion of the alum unchanged.

The continued use of alum made food impairs digestion, causing dyspepsia. The careful housewife when buying baking powder, will examine the label and take only a brand whose label shows the powder to be made from cream of tartar.
