BEEHIVE MADE OF CONCRETE

Anyone With Little Ingenuity Can Make Them—Set of Molds Will Last Indefinitely.

Among the occupations which offer profit and amusement, and at the same time entirely suited to women, is that of bee raising. Its advantages are that little space is required, there is no great expense and the work is light, requiring only a limited amount of time and care. Much of the apparatus required may be made at home and where the facilities for this are not present, the things may be purchased without any great outlay of money.

There have been many improvements lately in the manner of constructing the beehives and probably the most interesting is one which is made of concrete. A patent has been recently issued covering the manufacture of concrete beehives, but anyone with a little ingenuity may easily make them, and a set of molds once having been made satisfactorily, may be used indefinitely and any number of hives made from it. Anyone attempting to make a hive of this material should acquaint themselves with the character of the cement and should also be familiar with the habits of bees.

HANGING-SHELF FOR CELLAR

Curtain Hung Around Fruit Jars Excludes Dust and Keeps Out Flies to Great Extent.

(By J. WESLEY GRIFFIN.) We used to wrap all of our glass fruit jars with paper to exclude the light. Now we have a curtain hung around the shelf as shown by the dotted lines in the drawing. It is tacked along each side joist to the edge of the center joists. What light gets in between the joists amounts to nothing and the arrangement makes a good ventilation for the closet. Try a curtain around the cellar shelf and see how well the fruit keeps. It also keeps out dust and flies to a great extent.

The Gipsy Brown Tail. Every farmer should take pains to learn to recognize at sight the various stages of the gipsy brown tail and many other of our insect pests, and they should be instructed by the state how to manage the war against them. If farmer A—keeps his orchard and trees free from brown tails and neighbor B—just over the fence leaves a lot of these pests on some of his trees that are out of the jurisdiction of the town or state, how can farmer A—expect to get ahead in his fight against the pest?

The well filled silo forestalls dry pasture worry.

One and one-half bushels of wheat are ample to sow an acre.

The successful farmer finds weeding to do in the flocks as well as the fields.

You can find many chunks of wood about the farm. Save them all for the stove.

Every weed that is killed before going to seed makes next year's field the cleaner.

Manure that is spread upon the field will not waste its fertility. This is not the case with the piles in the barnyard.

Bees use water to dilute the heavy, thick honey left over from winter to make it suitable for the young larvae, and also to make the cell wax pliable.
