BECAUSE

It makes more loaves of bread per sack—by baking tests—and better, whiter, lighter loaves than any other flour they can buy. Because they have compared it carefully and found its results a happy contrast to those obtained with other flours.

The distinct flavor—the wholesome taste of the "bigger, whiter, lighter loaves" made from Puritan Flour has brought about its exclusive use in the best Nebraska homes. So great is the demand for our flour that we have grown in a few years from a 200-barrel-a-day-mill to our present output of 2,000 barrels. That is putting on the ciphers fast, but the largest increase is yet to come. There is but a one-word reason for this exceptional success—QUALITY.
