Christmas at St. Thomas Church.

According to ancient custom of the Anglican church throughout the world the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated as usual at St. Thomas church at midnight Christmas Eve. The services will begin promptly at 11:45 p. m. A large vested choir will render the musical portion of this beautiful service. The church will be lighted with candle instead of electricity. Just before the Recessional hymn Thomas Grand setting of the Te Deum in B Flat will be sung. The rector asks for a liberal offering for Diocesan Missions.

Morning prayer will be said Christmas morning at 10:45. The usual night service will be omitted. The people of our city are cordially invited to the services.

The program follows:

Pracessional Hymn 49 Adeste Fideles.

Introit—Wella

Kyrie—Bridge

Presbyterian Church.

Look out for a treat at the church next Sabbath day. Christmas sermons, Christmas Hymns, Christmas Anthems and Christmas good cheer all day long. Come and help us celebrate the world's greatest event.

R. Cooper Bailey.

Dr. Tucker's Lecture.

Those who had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Francis Tucker lecture at the Presbyterian Church last Thursday night feel abundantly repaid and had their minds fed with such facts concerning missionary life and work in China as will be continual benefit to them. Dr. Tucker speaks from absolute knowledge acquired by himself and his estimable wife in their eight years daily association with Chinese people. The stereopticon views were vivid and interesting and impressed the fact by illustration where words would carry less weight. The church was well filled and every member of the large assembly was delighted with the lecture. Those who were prevented from hearing it feel keen regret. On Friday and Saturday the collection of curios was again displayed, this time for sale and the patronage was liberal. The proceeds go to the Chinese Hospital fund, for the improving of the hospital at Dr. and Mrs. Tucker's station.

Don't abuse the rich; we can't all be paupers.

Defeat brings success; half the fights of life, if won, would bring failure.
