MO. PACIFIC SHOP NEWS

GATHERED DAILY BY TRIBUNE REPORTER

Many Interesting Items Reported By Employees of Missouri Pacific Division Yards

Engine 2604 broke an axle at Verdon yesterday.

Mr. L. H. Dilley, train master, is in Falls City today.

Mr. King's mother of Atchison is in Falls City visiting.

B. Hanson, the round house foreman, has gone to Verdon.

Jim Logston, of Kansas City, reported for duty this morning.

Harold Gilbert, traveling freight agent, is in Falls City today.

A large gang of men has started the oil supply house this morning.

Ed Moser, of the dispatcher's office, has a slight touch of the gout.

C. A. Dunn has gone to St. Louis to settle for damages with the company.

Engineer Lord Roberts is going to move his house hold goods to Falls City.

There is now a new office in the yards. It is called the "Hostlers' Bungalow."

W. C. Swinnerton, a travelling engineer for the Omaha Division, was at the yards this morning.

Martin Coffee returned from Auburn last night. Some put it down that he saw a feminine friend while there.

The new water pipes will soon be laid and will supply all engines with water at the new water places next week.

A gasoline stove blew up at the home of F. L. Brown yesterday and Mr. Brown had one his hands badly burned.

Prof. "Hardface" Evans of the Round House Concrete Co., gave a concert at Goolsby's hotel last evening.

Frank Bell is the pool shark of the round house boys. He is also a boxer of repute, sparring against all-comers.

The new water tank will soon be completed and will be in shape for using in a few days, if the weather continues fine.

Frank Bell had one of his fingers badly hurt in performing his duties at the round house recently. Company Physician Boose is kept busy of late.

It is claimed over in the dispatcher's office that "Red" Holland will be as popular with the Falls City "hello" girls as he was with those of Atchison.

The "hello" girls of Falls City made a very pleasant call at the engineer dispatcher's office yesterday. "Red" Holland introduced them to the intricacies of his office with a gusto.

A. W. Painter has a new job. He is what is called supply boy. It is his duty to supply all of the cabooses or train crews with oil and anything they call for.

There is strong talk, as to putting on a gang of new men at the coal chutes at night, for there are new engines coming here every day and must have more coal for them waiting.

Loses Valuable Mule.

A team of mules owned by Dan Wamsley was tied on Chase street last Friday while Mr. Wamsley was attending to business. They began fighting with another team beside them and the neckyoke was pulled off the pole of the wagon when one mule slipped and fell on the neckyoke which penetrated its body to such a distance that the intestines were out with the yoke. The poor, suffering animal was killed at once and put out of its misery.

MANY LIVES LOST

Volcano On Philippines in Violent Activity

Mount Taal, on the Philippine Islands is in violent activity, at present. Many of the natives were drowned by the tidal wave which accompanied the outburst. All of the towns within a radius of twenty miles were damaged by the shower of rocks and mud. An American school teacher, who is in the vicinity of Lake Taal reports 300 as dead. The inhabitants have fled from the vicinity of Lake Taal. Mount Taal rises 1,050 feet in the center of Lake Taal and is in the province of Luzon.

"THE WOLF"

A Splendid Attraction At the Gehling Soon.

Saturday evening, February 4th at the Gehling Theater will be a gala event among amusement seekers, the occasion being the second presentation in his city of "The Wolf" the latest play of Eugene Walter, and the one that created such a furore in New York and Chicago, where it enjoyed long runs, to audiences that tested the capacity of the theater.

"The Wolf" is said to be strong in execution and vitally interesting all through. I tell a story of that wonderful Hudson Bay country and of the primal, eternal struggle between men for the possession of a woman. Dark passion and pure sentiment are set in opposition, but there is nothing hackneyed. The men are not of familiar stage type, nor are the scenes of a mechanical order.

The father of Hilda McTavish is a Scotchman whose narrowness of mind drives his wife into the world. The child, Hilda is left behind. McDonald, a handsome American engineer appears, he covets the simple girl and engages old McTavish in a plot to lure Hilda the way her mother had gone. McDonald is not a villain for the "gods," however, and deeds of violence he leaves to the hero, which certainly seems to be contrary to all the old traditions. It is here that the critics claim the art of the playwright is seen at its best.

Seats are now on sale at the bakery. The story continues and is an interesting one. Don't fail to see it.

The Professor.

He argued well beyond a doubt; He talked all day. What was it that he talked about. He didn't say.

PULLS UP HIS ORCHARD

MORE THAN SEVEN HUNDRED APPLE TREES

For Some Unaccountable Reason The Orchard Did Not Bear Fruit

Phineas Fisher, one of Ohio township's prosperous farmers, is pulling up his young orchard of about 700 apple trees. For some unaccountable reason, the orchard would not bear, while orchards in the vicinity carried heavy crops of apples. It appears that the failure to make good this year when other orchards were turning hundreds of dollars of good money into the pockets of their owners, induced Mr. Fisher to pull up the trees with purpose of turning the orchard into a corn lot.

$1.35 a Day For Twelve.

A ten year old boy was arrested in Pittsburg for being on the streets too late at night. In the juvenile court he was turned over to a woman probation officer, who was told to look him up. Next day she came back and said that the boy was one of a respectable family of twelve, and that his arrest was an accident. The father was a working man, earning $1.35 a day, the eldest of ten children was thirteen. Said the probation officer: "They are excellent people, and better home conditions could not be asked for." How was it done. The probation officer didn't know—she was sure only of the facts. Some weeks ago it was told in Collier's how a Missouri woman kept a house and a husband on $600 a year. When that appeared the avalanche started—protests, ridicule: "I wouldn't want to eat that woman's meals." "Think of doing with a pint of milk a day." "I like food to taste good, and not merely fill up." Also stories of even better performances came in upon us by the dozen. Is it not true that two-fifths of the twenty-five million families in the United States live on less than $500 a year.—Collier's.

THE DEDICATION SERVICES

WILL BE HELD SUNDAY AT THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Church Will be Dedicated With Fitting Ceremonies—The Public Is Cordially Invited

The interior work on the new Christian church is being pushed with all possible speed in order to have it as near ready as possible for the dedication next Sunday.

The church is certainly beautiful and when illuminated by the myriad electric lights set in the beautifully designed metal ceiling the effect is marvelous.

The ceiling and walls are tinted very light green and cream with a three foot wainscoting in green, granite finish. All the woodwork is oak, wax finished. The side lights and chandeliers of brass are of very handsome design.

Many beautiful memorial windows have been put in, among these the largest, perhaps, is that to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Orange Kidder, which is a large triple window set in the East wall of the main assembly room, just under the G. A. R. window. This is a splendid tribute to one departed and to Mrs. Kidder, who after her husband's death, deeded her home, which joins the church property, to become church property at her death. The chancel window above the baptistry is a gift and is very beautiful.

There are also a number of windows donated by friends and societies; among these is one given by the Christian church at Reserve; one donated by traveling men, the beautiful G. A. R. window which will be especially dedicated February 12; the farmer's window put in in honor of the farmers who have given the congregation so much assistance on the new edifice; another is in honor of the local C. W. B. M.; still another is the window donated by the I. O. O. F. in honor of Rev. Day, who last year was Grand Chaplain of the order and is at present one of the most active members of the local organization. Numerous windows have been put in by the Sunday school classes and other societies.

Not all of the different rooms will be furnished before next Sunday, though those on the first floor, including the pastor's study and two of the ladies' class rooms are to be furnished.

The kitchen and dining room on the lower floor are not quite complete but are in good shape for the dinner which will be served Sunday to the out of town people and families from the country who come in to attend the services.

The services for the entire day will be under the management of Dr. Z. T. Sweeney of Columbus, Ind., who lectured here last night.

The following program will be carried out:

9:45 a. m.—Great Bible School rally, L. C. Oberlies, State Bible School Man, of Lincoln, will have charge.

11:00 a. m.—Preaching by Gen. Z. T. Sweeney, of Columbus, Indiana.

12:30 —Dinner in the basement of the church.

3:.. p. m.—Great Fellowship Service. Addresses by visiting Ministers and local minister. Address by W. A. Baldwin, state secretary.

6:30 p. m.—Endeavor Rally.

7:30 p. m.—Song Service. Address by Z. T. Sweeney.

A number of well known musicians have been secured to assist in the music, Mrs. J. R. Cain, Jr. of Stella, Miss Ruby Bash of Humboldt and Miss Anita Wilson of this city, will be among the ladies assisting while the gentlemen's quartet of Reserve will sing. The Humboldt orchestra has been secured for all the services.

Among the clergymen expected from out of town are; Dr. Sweeney, Rev. L. C. Oberlies, Rev. Allen Murray, Shubert; Rev. C. L. Wheeler of Pawnee City; Rev. Jacobs, Table Rock; Rev. Beard, Reserve; Rev. J. W. Sapp, Nemaha City and W. A. Baldwin, State Secretary and many others.

Today the ladies of the Church are working with a will and perseverance well known to have the church clean and in order for next Sunday's services. It will be a splendid day if the plans, as now arranged are carried out. There is a welcome to all to join in the services dedicating to God a house of worship that would be the pride of a city many times the size of this. It will be a memorable day in the history of the Christian church of Falls City.

Revival Meetings

The revival meetings at Maple Grove are progressing favorably. The weather has been remarkably fine and the roads in good condition. Rev. Garries of Verdon is assisting Rev. A. Essley.

Acrostic

Grandpa held in awe and veneration the omnivorous,
Right or wrong he designed to observe the pestiferous,
Only to learn from time and sign the carnivorous
Under the ground could only be herbivorous.
Not only herbivorous, but also voracious.
During hibernating he is a cadaverous.

How can he so easily become so vociferous,
On the second of February being a pachydermatous,
Giving us signs when only a non-compositensis.

TRIBUNE CONTEST GROWING

Some New Announcements About The Big Contest in Friday's Paper

With the advent of our daily we have decided to enlarge the contest and make it bigger and more interesting. Friday's issue of the Daily Tribune will give a full account of the changes and explanations so don't fail to get Friday's paper and learn about it.

This contest is open to everyone, man, woman or child living in this territory and not an employee of The Tribune or member of employees' family.

If you haven't sent in your nomination do so at once as an early start may mean much in the winning of one of the big prizes.

BEULAH FRY IS A BRIDE

WILL MAKE FALLS CITY THEIR FUTURE HOME

Miss Beulah Fry and Mr. Glenn Stetler United in Marriage On February 1st

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday, February 1, 1911 at high noon, at the Fry country home when Miss Beulah Fry and Mr. Glenn Stetler were united in marriage by Rev. F. E. Day of the Christian church. The ceremony was witnessed by the near relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride, was gowned in a handsome embroidered robe of tan messeline and looked unusually handsome. The bridal couple were unattended.

Following the ceremony an excellent luncheon was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Stetler, accompanied by the groom's sister, Mrs. Hartman, were taken to Salem in the automobile, where they took the train for St. Joe. They will spend a week there with Mr. Stetler's relatives.

Mrs. Stetler is well known in this city, having lived most of her life on the old home farm south of town and is admired by those who know her for her many estimable qualities. Mr. Stetler has traveled through here for several years for the Hammond Packing Co., of St. Joe and has made for himself many friends.

They will go to housekeeping in the Dorrington house to be vacated by the Litzke family. They have the sincere congratulations and good wishes of hosts of friends.

Work Pushed Rapidly

Work on the Wahl building has proceeded with little interruption and is rapidly nearing completion, so far as the outside or structure work is concerned. It will, however, be a long time before the inside repairs can be completed.

Just So.

"Ain't had no luck with my bear trap yet."
"Well, you'll have great luck if you don't ketch anybody that will sue you."

HORACE GREELY PROGRAM

TO BE HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL ON FRIDAY AT 10:20

The American History Class Will Celebrate 100th Birthday Anniversary of Horace Greeley

Tomorrow, Friday, being the 100th anniversary of Horace Greeley, the American history class of the High school will give an interesting program in the assembly room at 10:20 a. m.

Probably no other man had more to do with the building up of the west than did Horace Greeley by his advice, which has become famous, "Go West, young man, go West." The advice was sound and sentiment is adhered to today as never before. As a statesman he has made for himself a name of renown and he holds a prominent place in history. He is also known as one of the strongest and most prominent journalists our country has ever known.

All these features in the life of Greeley will be dealt with in Friday's program. The friends of the school are cordially invited to be present and enjoy the efforts of the pupils.

Singing, "America," School.

Address—C. F. Reavis.

Reading of Poem—"To Horace Greeley," Prentice—Byrd McDonald.

Story of Life of Horace Greeley —Bessie Wilson.

"Auld Lang Syne," Horace Greeley's favorite song.—Nellie Craig.

A New Location.

Prof. Reynolds has found that an office at his residence is most too far out for the convenience of his patrons and wishing a more central location, has rented the building recently vacated by the Aldrich feed store, just east of the Powell office building. The room has been in the hands of painters and decorators and on Wednesday Prof. Reynolds moved into his new office where he now receives his patrons.

Maud in Midwinter

Maud Muller on a winter's day Helped harvest ice, instead of hay. The judge rode by upon his steed And never even turned his head.

He never gave poor Maud a glance And there, of course, was no romance The judge already had a wife; It often happens so in life.

No Explanation To Mr. Crook

As yet no further word has come from the postoffice department to Mr. Crook or his bondsmen as to the cause or meaning of the action taken of the department. Unless some explanation is forthcoming Mr. Crook will leave for Washington to investigate. If there is a fault every effort will be made to rectify it. If he is not at fault he has many very staunch friends who will stand by him and see that fair play is given.

GENERAL SWEENEY'S LECTURE

Fourth Number Of The School Entertainment Given Last Night

Gen. Z. J. Sweeney gave his lecture, "The Golden Age," as the fourth number of the school entertainment course at the Presbyterian church last night. A good audience was present to enjoy this highly instructive and entertaining lecture.

Mr. Sweeney referred to the Golden Age of Government and said that it would only be reached when we eliminate the dangers arising from a corrupt ballot, from the opposition to the school system caused by the vicious and ignorant classes, from the narrow and untruthful partisan press.

The Golden age of business has been deterred these many centuries by the selfish greed and oppression of the rich employer on the one hand and the lawless violence of the ignorant employee on the other. The co-operative system already put into successful operation by several great corporations was cited as evidence of the approach of the Golden Age of business.

Some of the faults of the home and the church were pointed out and suggestions for their betterment worthy of thoughtful consideration were presented.

The lecture was abundantly interspersed with wit and illustrations, so that it was highly entertaining as well as instructive. It was an occasion profitable to all, and one which none should have missed. Mr. Sweeney will be welcome on a similar occasion. X X X

THINKLETS.

Opportunity knows no law.

Many people wear themselves out trying to keep up with their good intentions.

There is always more room on the sunny side of the road. Let us walk there.

Some folks make themselves lame kicking about things they never try to help. They leave the work to the other fellow.

The milk of human kindness may be spoiled by too much skimming.

Imagination is sympathy in motion. One who has sympathy is ever a defender of the weak, a champion of the downtrodden.

There are enough serious things in life without considering yourself one of them.

Hell is paved with big pretensions. Jealousy is a confession of weakness.

You can lead an ass to knowledge, but you cannot make him think.

Shut your mouth and open your eyes and you will need nothing to make you wise.

It takes hardship a long time to sail out of sight.

SOCIAL CIRCLE HAPPENINGS

AS 'T WAS TOLD TO THE TRIBUNE REPORTER

Various Kinds of Entertainment by Individuals, Lodges, Clubs And Churches

Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver has issued the invitations for the second of a series of parties. A number of ladies will be entertained Tuesday with cards.

Mrs. R. A. Dittmar entertained the Bridge club yesterday afternoon and in her usual cheery, homey manner made the afternoon very pleasant for her guests. Auction bridge was enjoyed until five o'clock when excellent refreshments were served in two courses. The ladies lingered until late, enjoying a delightful visit after the serving of refreshments.

Mrs. A. Keller entertained a large party of lady friends this afternoon with a kensington in honor of her birthday. The delightful weather the cordial hospitality and cheery surroundings combined to make the afternoon a most delightful one. Needlework was in evidence but did not occupy so much of the time that the social side was neglected, for there was a continual flow of pleasing conversation. Delicious refreshments were served, Mrs. Fred Keller assisting the hostess. A number of gifts were presented to Mrs. Keller as tokens of esteem from her friends and sincere good wishes for many happy returns of the day were expressed.

Home Melodrama.

"The cards are marked. Curses on the one who has done this."
"Now, be reasonable John. Why did you let baby get hold of a lead pencil?"

A Suspicion

"I think that girl was chaffing me, don't you know."
"Why so Ferdie."
"She asked me for my recipe for fudge."
