SCHOOL DIRECTORS MEET

THIS PROVED TO BE A LIVELY MEETING

A Number Of Important Matters Were Discussed By Men Interested

There was a very interesting meeting held Saturday in the county court room, participated in by most of the school directors from over the county. Fully a hundred were present, many whose names are given below.

The object of the meeting was to discuss several bills now before the legislature regarding educational matters. This county voted unanimously to oppose the bills for a central Rural high school, to teach domestic science and agriculture in rural districts and to increase the number of county superintendents.

The first is considered impractical for the reason that, no matter where the Central Rural High School was located, the pupils from some parts of the county would have to board while attending school. If their parents cannot afford to board them now in the towns so they may attend school they feel they cannot afford it for the rural school and that the additional taxes to maintain it would become a burden and no real good would be derived.

In the matter of teaching domestic science and agriculture, it was voted down because there is not a district in the county that can afford the additional expense. But very few school buildings have room to spare for arranging a small room for domestic science instructions and $500 at the very least estimate would be required to make the start. Again land would have to be purchased to make the teaching of agriculture a practical study. Even a second county superintendent, who would be paid $1,000 per year, could not visit the schools over the county more than twice during their school year and could not do justice to the work that was costing the district such an amount of money.

The sentiment was generally against the bills and resolutions were unanimously adopted to instruct our senator and representatives to use their influence against, and vote against any such measure.

Also, believing the county get better results from examinations for teachers held in the county, it was voted to request our representatives to frame a bill taking the examinations out of the hands of the state examiner and returning them to the county superintendents.

This was a very enthusiastic meeting and shows that the people generally are taking the keenest interest in educational matters and this is as it should be for the good of our schools.

The following piece of poetry was composed from an engineer's work report on his arrival at the terminal.

Valve stem's blowing
And pistons too.
Rocker boxes loose
Where the bolts go through.
Springs all broken
Making her hard to ride,
Key up back end of Main rod
On the Fireman's side.
Put in the cab window
To keep out the cold
Clean out her nozles
She burns too much coal.
Bore out her flues,
And bore out clean,
Beware the old Pelican
She will not steam.
As every exhaust takes
Four scoops of coal,
That is why the Fireman's all in
At the end of the "go."

Makes Home Baking Easy

Christian Church makes the day one of double importance to the Post and loyal citizens of the community. It was a fitting celebration in honor of the birthday anniversary of one of our greatest heroes.

The members of the local Post and W. R. C. met at their hall and in body marched to the Christian church where special services were arranged. Rev. Day delivered a splendid sermon to the Boys in Blue and at the auspicious moment a cord on each side of the window was drawn by the post commander and the president of the Relief Corps and the beautiful national colors which had veiled the window during the dedication service fell into the arms of two of the Union soldiers who had fought for their country under the glorious flag. It was a glorious moment and for a few moments a pin could have been heard to fall. Then followed the reading of the dedicatory lines by the Post and congregation.

The National music was one of the features of the beautiful service, and all who attended feel fully repaid for nothing was left undone that could have added to the beauty or success of the occasion.
