A Junior Endeavor Social

The Junior Endeavorers of the Presbyterian church gave a Washington Birthday social in the church basement, Wednesday afternoon. Each child brought as many pennies as it was years old. Something over four dollars was realized in this manner. Light refreshments were served. One of the features of the afternoon was a huge birthday cake set with many candles, all of which were lighted for the children. A very good time is reported.

SOCIAL CIRCLE HAPPENINGS

MANY ENTERTAINMENTS AND SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Daily Social Events Given By Individuals, Clubs, Churches And Lodges

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Bessie Bohrer, Tuesday, when a shower was given for Miss Josie Gilroy, who will be married tonight at eight o'clock. About fifteen young ladies were present. Many appropriate games were played and the evening was filled with many and varied entertainments. At a late hour refreshments were served and the young ladies retired to their homes. One of the features of the evening was a huge white wedding cake containing many hidden treasures. Much fun was had when the cake was cut and several young ladies were disappointed because there were not more rings. Miss Gilroy received many useful gifts.

Mrs. Cade and Mrs. J. A. Hill are giving a Washington birthday party today at the home of the former for the members of the W. R. C. and a few invited friends.

The Knights of Columbus gave a smoke after their meeting last night. There were about seventy five present, several of whom were out of town guests. Almost the full membership of the lodge was present. Cards were one of the features of the evening.

Miss Anna Mason entertained the Five W's at her home on Harlan Street last night. There were guests for three tables present. Whist was the favored game of the evening. Miss Romona Wilcox won the highest honors and carried off the prize, a lovely hand painted creamer. Miss Maybelle Potot won the booby prize, and was consoled with a lovely painting in water colors. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served. Music and dancing were also enjoyed. The guests departed, voting Miss Mason a royal entertainer.

The members of the W. R. C. enjoyed themselves yesterday afternoon at the G. A. R. hall. They entertained in the form of a "tacky party" and many characters were decidedly comical. The merriment continued until five o'clock when a fine supper was served.

The Misses Patzman and Mesdames Will Schmelzel and Will Crook entertained the Methodist Young Ladies Kensington at the home of Mrs. Will Crook Tuesday evening. There were about fifty ladies present and a very pleasant evening is reported. Elegant refreshments were served at a late hour.

Miss Mildred Holland entertained Kaffee Klatch at her home Tuesday afternoon. All the members were present. Miss Holland served dainty refreshments late in the afternoon. Miss Brown was a guest of the club. A very nice time is reported.

The tea given by the Episcopal ladies at the home of Mrs. T. L. Himmelreich on North Stone street Tuesday evening was a splendid success. A large crowd was present and between $25 and $30 was taken in.

Mrs. R. A. Dittmar entertained a few friends informally Wednesday evening for Mrs. Varner of Beloit, Kan. Guests for two tables were present and enjoyed the evening playing auction bridge. The honors were quite evenly divided. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess at eleven o'clock after which the ladies returned to their homes having passed the time most pleasantly.

The offering for both morning and evening services will be given to the Board of Church Erection and we give an inspiration address. Dr. Turner is conceded to be one of the best platform orators of the state and is always a leading and important factor in the State and National Association meetings. We will have a great treat for next Sunday morning.

In the evening Mr. V. G. Lyford, will give his address on The Better Falls City from the standpoint of a merchant. These addresses have constantly grown in power and interest and Mr. Lyford will surely have something well worth while to say and he always says things with splendid enthusiasm. Don't miss this speech.

A cordial welcome to all. Come and help us work for a better city and community. R. Cooper Bailey, Pastor.
