THE GLOBE SIGHTS

A mule and a horse may work well together but they can't be made to look well together.

You may have observed what a noise you make when trying to do something quietly.

As a matter of fact you probably are taking life a whole lot easier right now than is good for you.

A man's conscience doesn't seem to bother him a great deal so long as he can be left alone with it.

You're a long time dead, and also a long time married.

A man out of a job is a poor advertisement for himself.

It is hard to understand why even dogs admire some people.

Does any man like a new hat as well as he did his old one.

Bal pie and not the Lord's vengeance, has killed many men.

"I have catarrh in my head, but I am thankful there is something there," said an Atchison man.

When a young girl is full of life there are always people who remark that she needs watching.

One of the surest things in the world is that an election is never as important as it seems to a candidate.

It would be great for the fish if men went fishing only when fishing is good.

Lots of men have a reputation of being smart simply because they act queer.

Who ever heard of a pretty girl, from 16 to 20, complaining of having corns?

As a general thing, the man who insists on using his napkin for a bib is apt to need one.

Unfortunately, however, a good many cranks have no disposition to lead a hermit's life.

You also have too much hope if you expect to make a ready made suit look as well as the ad illustrator does.

If a man could cash in all the schemes he thinks of when out of a job he would never take another job.

Outside of the comic newspapers and magazines, did you ever know a colored man by the name of Rastus?

A horse trader's idea of a punk sport is one of his profession who will admit it when he gets the worst of a deal.

In view of the fact that they taste just alike, the man who drinks ale instead of beer, acts too superior about it.

No matter how large a family a man may have, nor how small wages he makes, there are always some ready to say he must be a poor manager.

So many people think they could make money writing for the magazines if they had a little spare time, that it is probably just as well they haven't.

One horse hitched to a two-seated rig always looks over-worked, even if it is the family pet which only gets on the job Sunday afternoon.

A boy is not necessarily in deep thought because he scratches his head.

Interest rates always seem excessive to the man who pays them.

Odds of five to one don't make a bet a good one if you lose it.

Half the complaints made are merely baits for compliments.

Liquor men never think temperance men give the town much support.

About all you can say for some children is that they keep on growing up.

And a real booster will welcome his new neighbor, and make them feel at home.

A boy's idea of the most futile waste of time is to delay breakfast for family prayer.

Old fashioned women worry too much because their men folk's don't eat enough; most of them eat too much.

If a man really needs an excuse to go fishing, he ought to be able to find something more up to date than Isaac Walton.

A woman is the only creature with nerve enough to issue an ultimatum to someone she doesn't believe she can whip.

Did any of those fortunes which were to be made raising mushrooms in the cellar, ever materialize?

Possibly there are a few occasions where the refreshments refresh, but they are rare.

It takes a good deal of warm weather in the spring to break some men of the habit of wearing an overcoat.

You can't form an opinion of a man merely because he lifts his hat when a funeral procession passes by.

Early strawberries are not as good as early onions.

It seems easy enough for the other fellow to say "no."

There is a compensation for everything; the harder a man's collar is to button the better it sets.

We live in hopes of always being able to find some more satisfactory way of disposing of our leisure time than playing horse shoes.

No matter if a man isn't any more forceful than a glass of ice water, he likes to have a woman refer to him as a big, strong man.

It is possible that your competitor isn't as touchy as you claim he is.

Do you know of anyone who doesn't understand now and then?

Son Crazy By Drink

Auburn, March 31—George Davis, a farmer from near Howe, assisted by a neighbor, brought to town his 23 year old son and turned him over to the sheriff. The young man has been crazy from drink for some time and the family began to fear that he would do violence to himself or to some one else.

Wayne Goes After Depot

Wayne, March 30—State Railway commissioners were here today in a case between F. A. Berry, representing the Wayne Commercial club, and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway, in which the complainant asked for a new depot in Wayne.

The railway company was represented by Manager Nicols. Several business men of Wayne were called as witnesses and the evidence attained by the examination clearly demonstrated that the present depot quarters of defendant corporation are entirely inadequate for the large passenger and freight business here, which amounted to over $117,000 the last year.

Legal Notice

In the Richardson County District Court, State of Nebraska.
In Re Ruth Z. Oppenheimer.
To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that Ruth Z. Oppenheimer, an unmarried female of full lawful age, did on the 28th day of March 1911, file her petition in the district court of Richardson County, State of Nebraska, the object and prayer of which is to obtain an order and decree of said court, changing her name from Ruth Z. Oppenheimer, to that of Ruth Reavis, for the following reasons:

1. Because the name she now bears is one conferred upon her by adoption, and is not her baptismal name.
2. Because said name is Jewish, or is so understood, and that she has no blood of that race in her veins, and does not want to be known by it.
3. Because she desires to be known by the name of her guardians, who have been such for the last ten years.

Dated March 28, 1911.

J. R. WILHITE,
Attorney for Petitioner.

Legal Notice

In the Richardson County District Court, State of Nebraska.
Suit In Equity to Quiet Title To Real Estate
Elmer Hoselton, Plaintiff vs.
Edward S. Pyle, Sarah L. Baker, Henry Reiger and Wirt Vensonhaler, Defendants.
To Edward S. Pyle, non-resident defendant.

You are hereby notified that the plaintiff, Elmer Hoselton, did on the 6th day of February, 1911, file his petition in the district court of Richardson County, State of Nebraska, against you and the other named defendants herein, the object and prayer of which is to quiet the title in him, to the following described real estate situated in Richardson County, State of Nebraska, to wit: Commencing at the Northeast corner of the Northeast quarter (1/4) of the Southeast quarter (1/4) of Section Twenty (20), in Township one (1) Range seventeen (17) east, thence west forty-two (42) rods; thence south eighty (80) rods; thence east twenty-one and a half rods (21 1/2) rods; thence north forty-six (46) rods; thence east twenty-two and ten-thirty-thirds rods to section line; thence north to the place of beginning, containing twelve acres; and to estop you from claiming or asserting titles to said land, and from taking advantage of any irregularity in the obtaining of a decree in the district court of Richardson county, Neb., in favor of Jennie R. Pyle your former wife, appropriating said land to the support of her and your two infant children, pronounced in a certain cause pending in said court in which the said Jennie R. Pyle was plaintiff and you Edward S. Pyle was defendant, which said decree was rendered on January 28th, 1909, and by a sale had thereunder this plaintiff became the purchaser.

And you are further notified that unless you plead, answer or demur to said petition on or before the 24th day of April, 1911, the same will be taken pro confesso, and a decree arguable to the prayer thereof will be entered accordingly.

This publication is made by order of said district court.
