WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS

The Woman's club held the last meeting of the season with Mrs. R. A. Dittman Tuesday afternoon. There were forty-five ladies present. The out-of-town guests were Miss Helen Davies of Towanda, Penn., Miss Miller of Kansas City and Miss Verdi Sage of St. Louis. The program opened with an enjoyable vocal solo by Mrs. Grant Sperry, entitled "Gay little Dandelion." Mrs. Fred Farrington read an entertaining paper on Woman's Four Centuries of Progress. Miss Helen Davies then sang very charmingly "His Lullaby." A paper on Childhood Literature and its value as illustrated in the works of Elizabeth Stuart Phelps and Louisa M. Alcott, prepared by Mrs. Chester Bring of Apple River, Ill. and read by Miss Anita Wilson, was a most excellent paper, in which she said: I could not close without paying some tribute to your librarian Miss Hutchings, who is so thoroughly an example of the beautiful spirit of Louisa May Alcott. Mrs. Dr. Keller then read a pleasing paper on Women in Philadnthrope. Mrs. Dave Davies gave an interesting sketch of the life of John Burroughs. The club was greatly indebted to Miss Helen Davies and Miss Hazel White for several delightful readings. Miss Florence Cleaver was at one time a kindergarten student at Hull House, and gave a very helpful and interesting talk on Jane Addams, which was thoroughly enjoyed. The following ladies were admitted: Mesdames Dr. Mathers, Mike Schiabe, Bert Wright, T. L. Davies, Beaufort, Giannini, Laird, F. Keller, Spragins, Lane, Rhule, and James Powell.

G. A. R. MEMORIAL DAY

May reminds us that the vernal gladness of the year has arrived, nature every where is full of the good and tender sentiments of Memorial Day, and that day, May 30th should be devoted to the commemoration of a great national sacrifice of loyalty and edvotion by our comrades who have gone before.

Once a week in this great and powerful Republic, the devout people gather in their houses of worship to celebrate their Sabbath day by glorifying the God whom they owe all that they have.

Once a year the lovers of the country have their Independence day, when with bursting rockets and booming guns they celebrate the birth of the nation they love and to which they owe their liberty; and once a year Thanksgiving day is fittingly observed by a grateful people, who, acknowledging and appreciating the blessings of God offer to Him their gratitude and praise for His divine gifts.

But greater and dearer than all those days, because it comprehends all, is Memorial Day, founded by the Grand Army of the Republic and observed by admirers of bravery and lovers of liberty all over our land, irrespective of age or sex, race or creed. On that day the living veterans make their annual pilgrimage to the graves of their loved and lost comrades. On that day a grateful people hrong to the cemeteries and with reverent ears listen to the word of God as it falls from reverent lips. On that day the blessings of the Almighty are recognized by the poem of joy and hymns of praise that ascend to His heavenly throne, and on that day our country's foundation is celebrated in common with our country's salvation. Equal honor is paid to its founders and its savers. Washington, the father, Lincoln, the martyr, and Grant the saviour, are eulogized in verse and praise and the whole nation rises in gratitude to the brave men, living and dead, who offered their lives on the altar of personal liberty and national unity.

It is hoped that a vigorous effort will be made to secure a more active and general participation by the public, and a most cordial invitation is hereby extended to the churches, schools, all patriotic orders and the public generally to unite with and co-operate with the Post in the observance of Memorial Day. Comrades of the Post, the W. R. C. and patriotic orders, and friends who desire, will meet at the Post hall at nine o'clock a. m. with flowers and proceed to the Steele cemetery, and there place floral offerings of love and the stary banner on the graves of those who were once so near, and who are now so dear to us.

The afternoon services will be celebrated at the Park auditorium at 2:30 p. m., a fine program has been prepared by able talent for the occasion. The Sunday preceding Memorial day, May 28th has, by long usage become a part of the regular exercises. Divine service will be held at 2:30 p. m. at the Park auditorium under the management of the churches in the city. This speaks for itself and needs no further comment. It is hoped that no one will miss this service.
