TARIFF.

Our present tariff system was established and defended by such men as Hamilton, Clay, Webster and all the early prohibitionists that our various manufacturing industries might be established. So must all new countries. Canada established such a tariff and this tariff furnishes revenue until the infant industries are well established, that is until they can produce the commodities as cheap as the foreigner can produce and sell them in this country. Transportation charges must be added to the goods produced in a foreign country. When our manufacturers can produce the goods as cheap as the foreigners can, the tariff still protects but ceases to produce revenue. This gives us a tariff for protection only, and is the logical outgrowth of the infant tariff. These infants grow up and learn how to combine and fix prices. When combination is possible. Competition is impossible. The greater the number of industries that have reached this point, the greater will be the demand for increased protection, for the reason that increased cost of living growing out of the increased prices increases the cost of production. There are many illustrations of this in our country. There are old men who can remember taking the horse to the blacksmith shop; the blacksmith would make four new shoes, make the nails, shoe the horse and charge one dollar. Now the smith takes factory nails, shoes the horse and charges two dollars. Tariffs of this kind always increase prices. Our system has grown to be a tariff for protection. During the time of the civil war and later we had an average tariff of about 20 per cent. Now we have an average of more than 50 per cent.

Benefit Social for the Baseball Boys.

Tuesday evening the ladies of Falls City gave a benefit social for the baseball club. Many of Falls City's citizens came out to help the boys. The social was held in the city park and ice cream and cake was served at the price of 25 cents per person. The Humboldt band furnished very nice music which also assisted in drawing the crowd. About $50 was realized clear of expenses. The park has twenty-five new benches which makes it a much more desirable place for picnics and socials. The new fountain was also a nice improvement.

Live Stock Show.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., has decided to have an exhibit at the Inter-State Live Stock and Horse Show which will be held at St. Joseph, September 25 to 30.

The exhibit will be principally along meat inspection lines as handled by the bureau of animal industry. A number of special glass jars have been ordered and a large glass refrigerator will be used. The exhibit will also contain a large number of photographs showing the various diseases in meat producing animals.

The show management is highly elated over securing this exhibit as it will be a very attractive feature.

SHE GAVE THE WRONG NAME

How "Susan Westford, Spinster," Narrowly Escaped Losing Her Eyeglasses at the Optician's.

A woman who has her mild little eccentricities always designates herself "Susan Westford, spinster." It has grown to be a habit with her, and she says it automatically whenever she has occasion to give her name, whether to a pupil, a casual acquaintance or a shopkeeper.

Recently she broke her eyeglasses, and took them to an optician for repair. She gave directions to the clerk and promised to call for them at the end of the week.

"Name, please," said the clerk. "Susan Westford, spinster," said the lady, and the clerk made the entry in his book.

When Miss Westford called another clerk was on duty. A search was made, but no glasses were awaiting any one of her name.

"But they must be here. I was told two days ago they would be ready. Won't you please look again? I need them badly."

The clerk searched in vain. "Nothing for Westford," said he, and the lady moved toward the door sorely vexed in spirit.

Not until she was well on her way down the block did it occur to her that the clerk might possibly have misunderstood. She hastened back. "Would you mind looking through the S's. Is there by any chance a pair of glasses for Spinster?"

"Certainly, madam; here it is—'Susan W. Spinster.' You gave the wrong name by accident. Three dollars, please. Thanks. Good afternoon."

SAFER METHODS OF MINING

System Used in German Provinces to Lessen the Number of Disastrous Explosions.

There have been so many disastrous explosions of dust and gases in deep coal mines in various parts of the world, caused in many instances by the use of explosives in tearing the coal asunder, making it easy for the workmen to remove it with their tools, that a great effort has been made among engineers and mechanics to find a safer method of putting the coal in condition to be easily removed.

In Germany a system is being used that promises to go into general use. Instead of the powder or other powerful explosives being used, holes are drilled deep into the coal vein just as if blasts were to be inserted; but instead of the explosives that so often set off a lot of accumulated gas or dust, a pipe is inserted and a heavy pressure of water forced into the block of dry coal. The water finds its way into the crevices and produces others, and in a short time such a pressure has been brought to bear on the coal that it opens up and is ready for the men with their picks and shovels, and no dust or dry gas has been formed. It is stated this method is much safer, and is healthier, even more rapid, as there is no loss of time by the men waiting for a mine or shaft to clear itself of the poisonous fumes produced by the explosives.

A Spanish Remedy.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt was congratulated, on the sailing of the Amerika from New York, upon the huge programme of work she had achieved this year.

"We Americans," she said, smiling, "set more value on time than do some of the people I shall visit in my tour round the world."

"A Spaniard, for example, is amazed at the American's regard for time. I know an American who, having won a law suit in Madrid, complained bitterly about the time this law suit had cost him."

"Three days lost forever," he said to the judge. "Time is money, and those three lost days can never be restored."

"Oh, you Americans!" cried the Spanish judge. "You amuse me, always saying that time is money. And do you want to know how to get your three days back? Well, I'll tell you. Take them out of next week. Surely there are plenty of days to come."

Art of Letter Opening.

Secret service agents of certain of the foreign offices and police departments of foreign countries have raised letter opening to a fine art.

Some kinds of paper can be steam-opened without leaving any trace, and this simple operation is followed by refurbishing the flap with a bone instrument. In the case of a seal a matrix is taken by means of new bread before breaking the wax. When other methods fail the envelope is placed between pieces of wood, with edges projecting one-twentieth of an inch. The edge of the envelope is first flattened, then roughened, and finally slit open. Later a hair line of strong white gum is applied and the edges are united under pressure.—Harper's Weekly.

The Mother of the World.

Marriage is the mother of the world, and preserves kingdoms and fills cities and churches and heaven itself. Marriage, like the useful bee, builds a house and gathers sweetness from every flower, and labors and unites into societies and republics and sends out colonies and feeds the world with delicacies and obeys their king and keeps order and exercises many virtues and promotes the interest of mankind and is that state of good things to which God hath designed the present constitution of the world.—Jeremy Taylor.

Ballard's Snow Liniment

Is a Healing Remedy for All Ailments of the Flesh of Man and Beast.

The speed with which this splendid liniment heals up a bad wound or sore has surprised and pleased those who were accustomed to the slower and uncertain effect of less powerful remedies. It mends the lacerated flesh so quickly that there is but little time lost from work. In relieving rheumatic pains, neuralgia, sciatica, it has done and is doing a wonderful work. Many chronic victims of these diseases have found to their great satisfaction that it cures an attack in a fraction of the time required by the ordinary treatment.

It is equally effective in the flesh ailments of animals. Owners of blooded stock value it highly for two reasons: It heals sores and wounds quickly, and leaves no disfiguring scars. This remedy is needed in every home. If its great power and efficacy was generally known, no family would be without it.

Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per Bottle.
