Two Saw Football Game

Last Saturday four young men of Weeping Water, Russell VanEvery, Robert Rains, Billy Van Every and Ralph Rains, went to Lincoln expecting to see the football game, but found the admission price was $2 for a bleacher seat. Having only slightly over $4 between them, they drew lots to determine which two of them would see the game. We did not learn which of the two saw it, or the two who didn't.

Played a Unique Game

Miss Mamie Michelsen, who is the guardian of the Weeping Water Campfire Girls, accompanied the group to the old mill southeast of town, and with this historic old building as a starting point, instituted the game of Hare and Hounds. That portion of the girls who were designated as hares, departed first and as they continued their way through the woods, left a bit of something here and there, which the girls designated as hounds and starting later in pursuit were to use as clues in following the trail of the hares. It was a most interesting game.

Standard Bearers at Omaha

Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick, accompanied by eleven members of the Standard Bearers, went to Omaha last week to attend the Young Peoples meeting in connection with the meeting held at the Pearl Memorial church. Provisions of 1940 AAA Have been Approved

Provisions Will Be Made Known to Farmers in Plenty of Time to Plan Cropping Operations

Provisions of the 1940 AAA farm program have been approved and will be made known to farmers in plenty of time for them to plan cropping operations before planting time. It has been announced by the Cass County Agricultural Conservation committee.

Committee members called attention to a recent statement by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace concerning next years' program. The secretary said that "Thorough consideration was given to the present European situation and its possible effect on American agriculture when the 1940 program was drafted. The aim of this program is to maintain a production of farm commodities in the country which will balance with the demand, whatever that demand may prove to be, and to maintain and improve the fertility of our farm land. Farmers' interests are carefully guarded in this program, which also serves the public interest."

The provisions of the program dealing with agricultural conservation measures closely follow those in effect this year and are based on farmer recommendations.

The wheat allotment of 62 million acres—seven million acres larger than the 1939 allotment—already has been announced, as have tentative wheat conservation and price adjustment payments which will total from 18 to 22 cents per bushel next year. Acreage goals for other major crops together with rates of payment will be established later in view of developing conditions. The 1940 range program will also be announced later.

Changes in the 1940 program recognize special conditions in certain areas and emphasize soil conservation on all farms the country over.

An important provision which will encourage further soil conservation on small farms insures that as much as $20 may be earned on every farm participating in the program. Another important conservation provision will encourage the planting of forest trees on farms by allowing farmers to earn up to $30 for tree planting, in addition to the regular soil-building allowance for the farm.

Soil-building practices have been provided to meet more adequately the needs for soil observation and special emphasis will be given to conservation of wildlife.

She found a special interest in the activities of the Ladies' Aid society of the Trinity Lutheran church, of which church she was a member for many years.

Many are the memories of hours and days of neighborly kindness and helpfulness in time of sickness and need, memories that linger in minds of so many who have called her neighbor and friend.

Seemingly in good health for her years and going about the daily task with a zest and joy that lightened every task, she was suddenly stricken on the evening of October 4th and passed away the morning of the 6th at the age of 71 years, 9 months and 21 days.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, George Julius of Meridian, California and Arthur Ried of Hastings; five daughters, Mary Adams of Lincoln, Fred and Caroline of Eagle, Matilda Lee of Los Angeles and Elizabeth Plymale of Millard, Nebraska.

Besides this immediate family two brother and one sister share the sorrow of her passing, Christian F. Ried of Palmyra and Charles W. Ried of Syracuse and Mrs. Ricka Johnson of Merna.

"I fear no foe, with Thee at hand to bless; His have no weight, and tears no bitterness; Where is death's sting? where, grave thy victory? I triumph still, if Thou abide with me!"

"Hold Thon Thy cross before my closing eyes; Shine thro' the gloom and point me to the skies; Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee; In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me."

Funeral services were held Monday, October 9th at 2 p. m. in the Methodist church with R. E. Ranger officiating. Burial in Eagle cemetery.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, October 15th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"The Temptation of Jesus"
Matt. 4:1-11.

The time had come for Jesus to begin the great work of redeeming the world, for which he had been thirty years in preparation; having been officially announced by John the Baptist as: "The Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world." (referring to Leviticus 16:20-22. Please read) and divinely anointed with the Holy Ghost, and by his Father declared as: "His beloved son." So, there remained only the testing or proving of his qualifications.

The test or trial is: Will he be able to overcome the prince of the powers of darkness, the adversary, the enemy of God and man, who caused man to break God's holy law and so forfeited his life. To this end, the Holy Spirit takes a hand in the testing; it is not the devil that brought on the testing, but God himself. The devil would bring out through temptations the bad in man; God by testing the good qualities! The devil becomes involuntarily the instrument in this drama, in which Jesus proves by overcoming the devil, and by the Father's approbation that he is well qualified to be the world's Redeemer. The devil by tempting man in a garden, turned man out into a wilderness; Jesus being tempted in a wilderness, brings man back into a "prepared place for a prepared people." (See John 14:1-3; Rev. 21:1-5).

The temptation takes on a threefold character, just like Adam and Eve: "The lust of the flesh, the lust of the eye, the pride of life." (1 John 2:16). So, the holy writer tells us that Jesus was tempted "in all points... like as we are," therefore he can succor or sympathize with them that are tempted. (See Hebrew 2:18; 4:15).

The analogy between the temptation of Adam and Eve and Jesus is very clear. The approach of Satan in each case is the same, namely, to create a doubt in the mind of his victim: "Hath God said?" "If thou be the Son of God!" The devil appeals in both cases to the appetite—the lust of the flesh. In the case of Jesus, it looked more reasonable, as he had fasted forty days—like Moses and Elijah—and was hungry. This was not the case in Eden.

We would raise at this point the question: Is it a sin to be tempted? We say, "No!" Many, yes, we say, all the saints have been sorely tempted and tried—just like Jesus.
