Lester Thimgan of This City Is Named President of Council for Ensuing Year.

The 39th annual convention of the Cass County Council of Christian Education, generally known in this county as the Sunday school convention, was held at Louisville on Friday, October 20. The convention was well attended by the churches and Sunday schools in this county and a very interesting and inspirational program was presented. Miss Elsie Wik, state secretary of the Council of Christian Education, was the principal speaker of the day and presented her subject matter in a very interesting and instructive way. The music and group singing of the program were in charge of Rev. Paul Dick who also had charge of the consecration service which came at the conclusion of the program.

J. Howard Davis who has served as president of the Cass County Council for the past two years acted as chairman for the convention, and will be succeeded next year by Lester Thimgan of Plattsmouth who was selected by the convention as president for the coming year. Miss Evelyn Wolph of Nehawka was elected as vice-president and Miss Bessie Murdoch of Nehawka as secretary and treasurer for the coming year. It was voted that the convention next year would be held at the Christian church at Elmwood.

One of the most interesting and instructive portions of the program was the hour devoted to group discussions which were led by Rev. Dickerson of Louisville, Rev. Lowry of Plattsmouth, Rev. Hawkins of Elmwood and Rev. Schiek of Plattsmouth.
