

Passes Away Shortly After Death of Spouse

Mrs. Peter Gakemeier of Louisville Dies at Omaha Hospital After a Prolonged Sickness.

When death came to Mrs. Peter Gakemeier, well known Louisville woman on Wednesday, October 11, she followed her husband in eternal sleep by just one day short of two weeks. She had been ill for a year and most of that time had been a patient in an Omaha hospital, where she received the best of care and everything possible was done to make her last days comfortable.

Amelia Louise Caroline Stroy, daughter of John and Johanna Stroy, was born in Port Washington, Wisconsin, March 10, 1865, and was 74 years, 6 months and 1 day old at the time of her death.

She came to Nebraska at the age of eleven in the spring of 1876. Eight years later, on June 26, 1884, she was married to Peter Gakemeier, who, as stated, passed away Thursday, September 28 of this year.

The Gakemeiers had lived in Louisville 14 years, and prior to then on a farm near that time.

Mrs. Gakemeier is survived by two sons, John and Herman, of Louisville, and one daughter, Mrs. Emma Bertrand of California; two brothers, John of Lincoln and Charlie of Murdock; two sisters, Mrs. Conrad Baumgartner, Murdock, and Miss Anna Stroy, besides eleven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Gakemeier on Saturday, October 14, at the Immanuel Lutheran church of which she was a member. Rev. H. G. Cattain conducted the services and interment was in the Immanuel Lutheran cemetery. Pall bearers were Cecil Hobbs, Robert Sweeten, Hubert Stroy, Albert Stroy, Paul Kupke and Louie Kupke.

Annual Arbor Lodge District Scout Meeting

Election of Officers and Other Business at Business Session and Dinner at Nebraska City

Monday evening, November 6, at the Grand hotel in Nebraska City, there will be held the annual meeting of Arbor Lodge district Scouters. Plattsmouth is planning on sending its entire troop committee, Scoutmaster Larson and a number of other citizens who may be interested in expanding the Scouting program here to this meeting.

One of those famous 50 cent dinners is again promised—made possible because of a 25 cent subsidy on the part of the district officers and Scout supporters at Nebraska City.

Principal business will be the annual election of officers, but notices of the meeting state a fine program has been arranged.

There will also be the usual reports from the different troop committees of what has been accomplished during the past year.

Indications are that the year 1940 will be Scouting's most promising year in the Cornhusker Council, of which Arbor Lodge district is a part.

The greatest problem has been one of adult leadership—the finding of men who are willing to give time to the Scouting program. The Plattsmouth troop committee is proud of its Scoutmaster, Raymond Larson, whose logp and faithful years as a Scoutmaster make him one of the deans of Scoutmasters in the Arbor Lodge district. A number have served for longer periods in other lines of the work, but none in capacity of Scoutmaster where regular weekly attendance is required with a longer period of service than Raymond.

E. H. Wescott, veteran Plattsmouth Scouter, was at Grand Island last night to attend a special meeting of the Cornhusker Council. There were seventy-five present and some very important plans were discussed which, if they materialize will mean a greatly enlarged Scouting program throughout the council. The committee appointed to investigate possibilities and bring in a recommendation will report at another meeting to be held in Lincoln on November 11.

Those who will go from here to the district meeting at Nebraska City next Monday night include Elmer Webb, E. H. Wescott, E. G. Ofe, Fred Lugsch and J. A. Capwell, troop committee members; Raymond Larson, Scoutmaster, and the following men not at present identified with the Scouting program: Elmer Sundstrom, Les Thimgan, Dr. W. V. Ryan and possibly one or two others who have not yet been contacted.

With the fine cabin and other facilities here, Plattsmouth could easily have two or three active troops at a sponsorship cost no greater than is now being paid for one. It all reverts to the old problem of adult local leadership, more than the placing of additional field executives on the Council payroll.

The Scouting program itself is the finest thing that has ever been devised for training boys of Scouting age and the work accomplished here with one troop—where there ought to be three—proved so outstanding last year as to win for the local Legion post as sponsoring organization the Dr. Arlo M. Dunn trophy at the Legion state convention.

The Bible teaches us clearly that the Christian is a new creature when he is born again; and as a normal child grows to maturity—not by stages—but like a seed planted, a constant growth until ripe to be garnered. In the abnormal we find the backslider, who may have a second, third or fourth blessing, but after all makes little progress in the divine life. As a child, we are as a child; when we grow to manhood, childish things are put away. (I Cor. 13:11). We find at county and state fairs, the perfect boy and girl, etc. May we with Paul say: "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended—reached the goal—but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth to those things which are before." (Phil. 3:13). When the foregoing suggestions and teachings are fully understood and carried out, righteousness in the kingdom will have full sway.

"Jesus shall reign, where e're the sun Does his socessive journeys run. His kingdom spread from shore to shore Till moons shall wax and wane no more." Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life. (Rev. 22:14).

Who, for instance, could do all that is taught by Jesus in verses 38 to 42, except he was filled with the spirit of Jesus Christ; who did all that and so fulfilled the law and the prophets. It is not an easy thing to love your enemies and pray for them that persecute you; but Jesus did and so did Stephen—and if we are not the spirit of Christ, we are none of His. (Romans 8:9). As the sermon on the mount conforms to the Decalogue, one table to God, the other our conduct to man, so the first part of our lesson deals with our conduct with our fellow man; the next part is our attitude in our spiritual life—between us and God in our prayer life. In the lesson material (5:17; 6:18) we have the Lord exhort the disciples regarding their conduct in prayer. It should be just the opposite from what the Pharisees did. (See 6:5). Prayer is close communion with God; it con-

Caught on dishabille as she prepares for one of the frank tableaux in the Marcus Show which comes to the Paramount, Omaha, Nov. 10

Whether it be consoling a petite dancer whose boy friend gave her the go-by for a town girl, plucking a statuesque mannequin from the sinister clutches of a maharajah, or smoothing the irked feathers of a star because the house electrician failed to spell her name correctly in the sign on the front of the theatre, all are in a day's work to Mrs. A. B. Marcus, whose showman-husband is the proprietor of the Marcus Show, which comes to the Paramount Theatre in Omaha Friday, November 10.

Without official title Mrs. Marcus might aptly be described as "Lady Lubricator." No more than a quarter-of-a-million dollar streamlined Diesel electric can function without the services of the gent in overalls can an organization of 75 temperamental actors and personable choristers. All the complex inventions of producers, composers, courtesiers, scene designers and dance directors would gum and stall but for the oleaginous benison of co-operation.

Not only endowed by nature with the gracious character that pours oil on the troubled waters, but likewise long experience enabled Mrs. Marcus to keep peace and harmony in the big company that Marcus twice piloted on foreign tours. The first hegira occurred in 1934 when Japan, China, Philippines and Straights Settlements were visited. The second opened in New Zealand in 1937 and terminated at Hong Kong in 1939. Australia, South Africa, India, Burma, Malaya and Java were played in the interim.

Mrs. Marcus' most difficult task was holding a tight rein on the beauties in India.
