

Death of B. G. Seydlitz, an Old Resident Here

Passes Away at Country Home Near This City Apparently From a Sudden Heart Attack.

B. G. Seydlitz, a resident of this city for over a half century, passed to his final reward early Sunday morning at the Seydlitz farm southeast of Plattsmouth. Death apparently was due to a heart attack as Mr. Seydlitz had not complained of being ill and seemed to be in a good condition when he retired Saturday evening.

Fernando Guido Gustav von Seydlitz was born on March 30, 1855 in Steidlin, Germany. When he was twenty-one years of age he came to America to make his future home. Arriving in the United States Mr. Seydlitz came west and settled in Seward county, Nebraska where he lived for about five years. Following that period he came to Plattsmouth and was married here to Miss Augusta Helwig on March 11, 1882 and since their marriage the couple have made Plattsmouth their place of residence. Mr. Seydlitz' main occupation was that of farming.

In 1932 Mr. and Mrs. Seydlitz celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At the time of his death the couple had been married fifty-seven years.

Eight children were born to this couple, six surviving the father's passing, two having preceded him in death. Besides the wife, Augusta, there is two daughters, Mrs. Henry Jasper and Mrs. Arnold Johnson of this city; four sons, Verner and Frank of Plattsmouth, William of Nebraska City, and Guido of Lincoln.

Two sons, Ernest, who died in infancy, and Otto, who passed away three years ago, preceded Mr. Seydlitz in death. Seventeen grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Seydlitz died Sunday morning, November 5 at the age of eighty-four years.

who have not contributed and wish to do so, may bring fruit on Sunday morning.
