Bountiful Dinner Followed by Evening of Hilarity—Decorations in Keeping with Season

The date of the Harvest Festival of the Weeping Water Garden Club was changed, from November 24 to Monday evening of this week, when it was given in honor of four members who are leaving Weeping Water this week—Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Hunt, who left Tuesday for Hamersville, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Wilson, who are moving to Auburn this week.

Mrs. Ole Olsen was in charge of all arrangements and the evening proved to be filled with good things from beginning to end.

A bountiful dinner was served at 6:30, with thirty-six guests seated at the tables. Decorations were in keeping with the autumn season. Pumpkins, gourds, fruit, kaffir corn, bittersweet and pine cones vied with each other in making the Legion hall, where the festival was held, a place of beauty. Autumn leaves also decorated the walls and white tapers were burning all evening.

Whether it was the bountiful dinner and the cheerful surroundings which put the guests at their ease or the gracious committee who had the evening's entertainment in charge—or a happy combination of both—the guests all forgot their dignified positions in the community, their age or any other usual hindrances and had a most hilarious time.

As Mrs. Verne Barton and Mrs. J.

M. Ranney took charge of the fun after dinner and all kinds of contests of skill and wits were introduced, the evening grew merrier and merrier, and it was with reluctance that "good nights" and "good byes" were said.

It was indeed a fall festival and Mrs. Olsen and her two assistants, Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Ranney were the recipients of much praise over their success.

VISIT OIL WELL

Tuesday Joseph Knoflick and Ralph Timm were at Falls City to spend a few hours and looking over the Nebraska oil gusher at the Boice farm, three miles west of Falls City. The local men visited the farm which is now visited by thousands daily from this part of the west. The party brought back with them specimens of the "black gold" and which has a very sharp gasoline smell.

The local people report that the well has not caused a great deal of excitement among the residents of the immediate community although all are hoping that the well may develop into a heavy producing well, the first of its kind in the state.

Smileage Books Offer Much in Entertainment

Weeping Water Making Great Plans for District Convention of the Legion and Auxiliary.

The Weeping Water American Legion post and Auxiliary unit are making extensive plans for the Twelfth District convention of the two organizations to be held here next Wednesday, November 15. The district is composed of Otoe, Cass, Lancaster and Seward counties, and it is estimated there will be around 400 men and women of the two organizations present for their respective annual conventions.

Smilage books to be given registered Legion members contain coupons for entertainment, food and beverages worth far more than the registration price, a splendid example of the fine hospitality Weeping Water is prepared to offer her guests.

The two organizations will hold separate business sessions and separate banquets in the early evening, but will join in the convention hall to be held at the new community building in the later hours of the evening.

The Legion feed will take place at the CCC camp mess hall, where a fine dinner is promised the members. Additional refreshments on the smileage book include sandwiches, malted milk, home style, coffee, pop and beer. Entertainment includes bowling and a picture show. This is the greatest array of free items ever included on a district convention smileage book, the only drawback being that the Legionnaire who cashes in on all his coupons will have little time for convention sessions. The last of some fifteen coupons provide free admission to the banquet and to the dance.

Registration fee is only $1.00, and with the many things provided it would seem that none attending the convention will fail to register.

Auxiliary members will be registered free but pay for their luncheon and banquet tickets.

At the conclusion of the business sessions of the two organizations in the late afternoon, all will stand retreat—something new at district or state conventions, but harking back to service days, when that was one of the impressive daily events in the life of the service man.

If the weather is fair, Weeping Water may expect a large crowd of visitors next Wednesday.

They will reside on the farm of Fred Schumacher, a few miles north of Nehawka.

Welfare Club Active. The Ladies' Welfare club met last Monday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist church when they were looking after some business matters pertaining to the club, also doing some work preparing garments that the poor might be benefited by their work. They also enjoyed the afternoon socially and were entertained at a delightful luncheon. The ladies entertaining as hostesses were Mesdames F. H. Gorder, Mary Momeyer, H. A. Anderson and Ed Lawrence.

Visited Here Last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Watson of Omaha where Mrs. Nettie Amick has been visiting for the past month, were guests in Weeping Water at the home of Stirling P. Amick for the day last Sunday where all enjoyed a very fine visit. Mrs. Nettie Amick who has been visiting in Omaha with the Watson family, accompanied them here when they number of months visiting in the South American countries and where he enjoyed the time notwithstanding the fact it was very warm there.

Hears Mother Passed Away. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snell received an account of the passing of his mother, Mrs. Albin Snell who has made her home in Denmark. She was 88 years of age when she passed away. Only a short time ago the husband celebrated his 87th birthday and is hearty and rugged. It has been twenty years since Henry visited his parents. It was with much grief he learned of the passing of the mother. There are a son and daughter making their home not far from the home of the parents.
