

Weeping Water

Henry Woldt of near Elmwood was looking after business matters in Weeping Water Tuesday afternoon.

Carl Teft of near Avoca was a visitor in Weeping Water Tuesday afternoon, transacting business here.

Cris Lein, foreman in charge of construction work on the community building, made a trip to Plattsmouth to secure some material to carry on the work.

George Wiles, who has been troubled with one of his feet, has been getting about some with the use of a cane and was able to be down town Tuesday.

Paul Ward, who has been working in the quarry at Queen Hill, near the ghost town of Rock Bluffs has completed his work and is looking for another job.

Earl Oldham transported a truck load of household goods to Auburn last week for a family who are leaving here to locate in the Nemaha county town.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Buchanan and children, who reside south of Nehawka, spent Sunday here at the home of Mrs. Buchanan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Asker.

Stuart Rough of Nehawka came this way Sunday and accompanied by his sister, Miss Agnes Rough, drove to Lincoln, where they spent the afternoon visiting a brother who resides in the capital city.

Miss Esther Johnson and sister, Mrs. Robert Moore and little son, Robert, Jr., all of Friend, visited in Weeping Water several days last week, guests at the home of the ladies' mother, Mrs. Oscar Johnson.

Jack Clifford, who has been enjoying a furlough from the navy, is to be back in Los Angeles by Dec. 4, and will leave here Thursday, Nov. 20. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shields, and Jack, who is a son of Mrs. Shields, went to Omaha Sunday to visit relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Shields returned home that evening, but Jack remained for a longer visit.

In the rebuilding of the roadway at an intersection east of town, it was necessary to remove the fences on both sides of the road and do considerable grading, and now with the roadway completed, the fences are being replaced along the property, which is owned by Troy Davis and occupied by Carter Nelson. The grading of the roadway and adjacent property has greatly improved the appearance of the land and provided a good road for those who travel that way.

Here for Charter Night
Ralph Binger, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Binger, who resides in Lincoln, where he is employed, was here last Thursday evening to attend the Charter Night program of the local Lions club, of which he is a member, and to visit over night at the home of his parents.

Rainfall Plentiful at St. Joseph
Ellis LaRue made a business trip to St. Joseph, Mo., last week, and reports that rainfall has been plentiful down that way, with the ground well saturated with moisture and pastures and other vegetation looking green and fresh despite the lateness of the season.

Home, Church and School
That these three institutions are the bulwark of society and civilization is the firm belief of Mrs. Earl Oldham, who, in conversation with the writer, said she believes it should be the duty of every mother to do all they can to help "keep the home fires burning, the church bells ringing and the school house doors open." This obligation should appeal more to the mothers of the land than contract bridge or any other society fad. If we neglect these three important factors of living we will live to rue the day.

Went Deep for Water
Faced with a failing water supply on the farm of Peter Spangler which is occupied by Earl Seby and family, the services of Wiesneth, Louisville well man, were engaged to sink a new well. Down, down, down, the drillers went, undaunted at their failure to strike water, until a depth of 530 feet was reached and a fine supply of water was reached. The well cost over $1,500.

Work Progressing
Work is progressing daily on the community building of the Cass County Agricultural Society. When the job is completed, Weeping Water will have one of the finest buildings of this type to be found anywhere in the state. Of reinforced concrete, it will stand for years as a monument to the agricultural interests of the county and the men who were instrumental in getting it approved as a WPA project.

Friendly Ladies Meet
The Friendly Ladies, a local social organization, met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. Ray Smith. A very pleasant time is reported by all.

Knickerbocker Club
The Knickerbocker club met at the home of Mrs. Edward Dowler on Wednesday of this week. A pleasant time was had, climaxed with a delicious lunch, served by the hostess.

Visited Parents Here
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Oldham have been enjoying a visit from their son Randall Oldham and wife of Los Angeles, who arrived last week. Sunday, all drove to Omaha, where they spent the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pilley, parents of Mrs. Randall Oldham. The visitors expect to leave soon for Chicago, where they will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pilley, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Oldham. En route home, they will stop here again for a brief visit before continuing on westward.

Chorus Rehearses
Members of the Cass County Women's Chorus, a well known musical organization, met Monday at the parlors of the Methodist church for a rehearsal and the conduct of some matters of business. A resolution was adopted changing the meeting dates from the first and third Mondays of the month to the second and fourth Mondays, which will not conflict with other meetings and permit a greater number of the members to attend.

Red Cross Roll Call
Miss Mayme Michelsen, who has attained great success in leadership of the Girl Reserves, was asked to take charge of the Red Cross roll call and accepted. The quota for Weeping Water is set at 125, and aided by the Girl Reserves, Miss Michelsen expects to not only attain the goal, but enroll a considerably greater number for the coming year. When the girls call on you, do not turn them down, but give willingly to this good cause. The American Red Cross has proven itself to be the world's greatest humanitarian organization and is deserving of the support of everyone.

Half of each dollar in membership fees collected remains here to be used in carrying on the local Red Cross work, and the balance goes to the national organization to be used for emergency relief.

One can never tell when his own community may be stricken and need help, and should that time ever come, the Red Cross will uphold its long time record of being first on the ground extending aid to those in need of food, clothing and shelter.

Let us not forget the Red Cross and its urgent appeal for members.

MICHIGAN'S GAME TAKE

OBSERVATIONS AT Weeping Water

By Mrs. Thomas Murtey

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lenker are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Lenker's mother, Mrs. Naomi Miller, of Lincoln, who will remain until after Thanksgiving.

The Ed Lorensen family enjoyed a visit Saturday from Mrs. Lorensen's sister, Mrs. R. L. Blevens, and her niece, Mrs. Charles Carpenter and baby, all of Lincoln.

H. H. Birdsall, formerly of Alliance, visited with his niece, Mrs. E. L. McCartney and Mr. McCartney Sunday on his way to Iowa, where he has been transferred.

Mrs. George Schroeder, of Atchison, Kansas, was a visitor at the home of her brother, Thede Davis and Mrs. Davis Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Ole Olsen left Monday morning for Oak Park, Illinois, to visit her daughters, Miss Dorothy Olsen and Miss Pauline Olsen. She will remain until after the holidays. Her address while there will be 895 Randolph street, Oak Park, Illinois.

Miss Doris Marshall, who is attending the University of Nebraska, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall. Miss Marshall is a pledge at the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority house and is enjoying her companionship with the university girls, and the class work very much.

The Jolly Mixers entertained their husbands at the L. P. Wolcott home Monday evening to a dinner which was served from tables decorated with fall fruits and grains, and with tapers glowing, the dinner took on quite a Thanksgiving air. After dinner the evening was spent playing pinochle and visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keckler were hosts to their dinner club Friday evening at a dinner at Rest Haven hotel, after which the evening was spent playing bridge at the Keckler home. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Wolcott, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crozier and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Abrams, of Plattsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Atkins, of Kearney, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Atkins's cousin, Mrs. S. Ray Smith and Mr. Smit. On Sunday a family reunion was held at the Smith home, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Domingo, John and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Domingo and family and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Domingo present.

Mrs. Laura Barrett, 81 years old, was rushed to Bryan Memorial hospital on Monday night of last week for an emergency appendectomy. Her condition was fine for the first few days. Word has since come that she was not so well the first part of this week, but it is hoped that the condition is only temporary and that she will soon be able to return home.

Mrs. John Hossle, of Emerson, Iowa, has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Fred Gorder for the past week, and Miss Elizabeth Keller, of Ackley, Iowa, arrived Saturday and will remain with Mrs. Gorder for a visit of several days. Miss Keller and Mrs. Gorder were schoolmates in Iowa, and have always retained a warm friendship, so they anticipate a fine visit.

Enjoyable Dinner Party
As Mrs. Ole Olsen was to leave Monday morning for Oak Park, Illinois, to remain until after the holidays, a No-Host dinner was enjoyed Sunday at the Ed Lorensen home by a group of her friends, in her honor. Twelve guests were seated at the table, having a centerpiece of bitter-sweet and place cards in the shape of turkeys. A bountiful dinner was enjoyed and the afternoon was spent visiting. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ranney, Miss Margaret Ranney, Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wiles, Mrs. Thomas Murtey, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lorensen, Lyman and Jane.

Pleasant Birthday Party
Mrs. Lula McNamee was 76 years old Tuesday, November 21, and her children planned a surprise party for her last Sunday, as her son Bert was unable to be here on Tuesday. About nine o'clock Sunday morning her son Bert McNamee and wife, accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hill, and small son, of Omaha, arrived, bringing with them a roasted turkey and all the good things which are supposed to accompany the bird, and a short time later Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rugha, Mrs. Warren Doty, and Larry, Miss Montes Sloan, Junior and Dale, arrived with more well filled baskets. Mrs. Clarence Perrigue, another daughter, was already at home on a visit so all of the family were at home except Mr. Perrigue, who was unable to come. It was a happy day for Mrs. McNamee, and one which she will remember with great pleasure.

Guest Speaker at Club Meeting
Mrs. E. A. Creighton, state chairman of Art for the Federation of Women's clubs, was an interesting speaker at the regular meeting of the Weeping Water Woman's club Tuesday afternoon at the high school auditorium. She brought with her a large collection of copies of famous paintings, which were on exhibit and explained the different kinds of art. Her definition of the purpose of art is that "the purpose of art is not to make things useful, but beautiful," and speaking of the modern trends of art she said, "They are like some young ladies, Vogue on the outside, but vague on the inside."

As Mrs. Creighton has traveled extensively abroad, visiting many of the famous art galleries, her comments were educational and illuminating. Speaking of modern art, she also said, "I am still old fashion enough to want a picture of a man to look like a man."

As a definition of Art, she gave this poem, author unknown:
"I am Art, the best of every nation;
I teach religion and human relation.
I come in a thousand varieties of form;
I've been with men since I was born.
I bring beauty to the home and peace to the soul;
Knowledge, culture, spirituality are my goal."

Mrs. Creighton's visit to the club is one of the outstanding events in the history of the club, and is an example of what the State Federation has in store for the small town club women.

Many Enjoy Sunset Supper
A beautiful, clear evening made it possible for forty guests to accept the invitation extended by the ladies of the M. E. church to attend the "Sunset Supper" held in the dining room of the church Monday evening, November 20. The ages of the invited guests ranged from 70 to 92 years. The oldest guest present was Mrs. Mary Duhmyer, who will be ninety-two years old next March.

Cars were provided to carry the guests to and from the church and everything possible was done to make the evening a happy one for the honor-order guests.

Seated at three long tables, with centerpieces of low bowls of lavender and white chrysanthemums, they were served to a most delicious "supper" while about forty-five younger guests were served at other long tables.

It was an inspiration just to meet with these people, who, in the evening or sunset of life represent the past several years of our community. Looking back through the years, we have many happy recollections of their helpfulness, their stability, their pride in their community, and of their homes which were always open to their friends. Quoting from Rev. Lenker's talk: "They have been and still are a blessing to our community."

Greetings were extended by Miss Edith Clizbe and Mrs. John Domingo responded for the guests, after which two vocal solos, "Good Bye" and "The Lamplit Hour," were sung by Miss Brown, accompanied by Miss Sjolholm.

Ten members of the Girl Reserves, conducted by Doris Hayes, and accompanied by Mary Everett, sang "Follow the Gleam," and Jean G. Jones presented four of his pupils, Maurice Shirley, who sang two tenor solos; Lyman Lorensen, who played a trombone solo; George Olive and Lyman Lorensen, who played a trumpet and trombone duet, and Tom Moulden, a bass solo.

Rev. W. D. Lenker gave an inspiring talk, taking as his theme "Thou Shalt be a Blessing." He spoke of the great blessing which these guests have been to the community throughout the past and the present years.

A piano solo, composed of a group of selections from the light operas, was played by Mrs. Neil Robson. This closed the program as prepared by the chairman, Mrs. W. D. Lenker, but every one was in such a happy mood that they lingered on and sang a number of single verses of old familiar songs, for which requests were made by the guests.

This was the fourth annual "Sunset Party" which these ladies have provided, and Monday evening's gathering, with invited guests above 70 and with most of the entertainers of the high school age, there was a spirit of good fellowship and it was a happy party indeed.

Those who have attained the age of seventy look forward to these invitations with a great deal of pleasure.

Robert Bestor, wife and son Bobbie, were guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Bestor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop. The parents returned to their home at Plattsmouth that evening, but Bobbie remained for a longer visit with the grandparents.

Henry A. Schwartz and George Lopp, who have been farming part of the Mast farm, shelled and delivered their corn to the elevator and feeders during the past week. They found the grain as dry and matured as if it had been in the crib for months.

Miss Dottie McCullock, who is employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Frederick at Nebraska City, visited at home over the week end. Catherine McCullock, who is making her home in Plattsmouth also spent the week end here at the home of the parents.

Rural Carrier Sick
Eugene Roddy, rural mail carrier, was unable to make his rounds Monday on account of an attack of flu. Harry Albin, substitute carrier, is carrying the mail until Mr. Roddy is able to resume his work.

Have Hopes of Oil Strike
Stockholders of the Golden Rod Oil company have high hopes that oil will be found in the near future at the well they are drilling northwest of Murray. E. C. Reed from the office of Prof. Condra at the University of Nebraska, was a visitor at the well last Sunday. He has a record of all the different sub-strata through which drilling has progressed and states the chances of striking oil are exceptionally good. Drilling will be continued to a much greater depth than now attained, and is going forward every day. A large number of people visited the well Sunday.

Install Lights in Church
Electric lights have been installed in the Otterbein church north of Nehawka, which are proving very convenient and will permit of holding night entertainments and services at the church with plenty of light.

Gave Splendid Entertainment
Miss Marie Thomason, teacher at the Rock Bluff school, gave an entertainment at the school house last Friday that was well attended. A number of Murray folks went over to attend the entertainment.

Feeling Some Better
W. S. Smith, who is at a sanitarium at Excelsior Springs, Mo., writes that the baths and treatment there are proving beneficial to his health and he now feels considerably better. He expects to remain the balance of the thirty day period for continued treatment, when he hopes to be able to return home much improved in health.

Attended Banquet in Omaha
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Noell and Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Rhoden were guests at a banquet tendered by the wholesale house in Omaha for which Mr. Rhoden works as a salesman and of whom Mr. Noell buys a considerable amount of goods. Patrons of the concern were present from a number of Nebraska and Iowa towns and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Returning to Murray
