Murdock Man Has Close Call from Mad Bull

William Schleuter Attacked as Driving Cattle to Barn; Has Fierce Struggle With Animal.

William Schleuter, who resides west of Murdock with his two brothers, Ernest and Gustave, had a very close call from fatal injury on Sunday when he was engaged in driving the cattle in from the pasture to the barnyard.

The stock had gone along in excellent order until some sixty feet from the gate that led to the barnyard, when suddenly a two-year-old bull turned on Mr. Schleuter and charged, the driver falling from the effect of the impact and the bull started to trample and butting. Mr. Schleuter pinned helpless on the ground. Fortunately the bull was deborned or else the victim of the attack would probably have been fatally gored.

Mr. Schleuter, struggling, attempted to gouge the bull in the eyes and struggled with it but the bull was able to shake off the efforts of the man. Finally Mr. Schleuter was able to reach a fence and slide under the wire to safety and by this time the two brothers, armed with a shot gun had arrived on the scene and they shot three times at the animal but without stopping his mad attacks until finally he was subdued.

The wounds of the injured man were dressed and he was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Ed Dornemeler near Elmwood where he is being cared for. He was very badly bruised and shaken up by the attack.

HONOR PLATTSMOUTH GIRL

Miss Helen Jane Kruger, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Kruger of this city, was elected to the post of inner guard for the Junior Woodman circle, an auxiliary of the Senior Woodman circle, at the Woodman circle's district convention Saturday, November 18. Those attending the convention from Plattsmouth were Miss Marie Kaufmann, Mrs. Harry Kruger and her daughter, Helen Jane. The convention took place at Lincoln, and delegates from twenty-five nearby towns were present.

Miss Marie Kaufmann, who has been and is a very active figure in the Woodman Circle, held the office of state auditor, and as district reporter she played an important part on the program. She has served as state historian for some time. An active worker in the local unit, Miss Kaufmann has served as the society's secretary for some time.

Miss Kruger, likewise, has been an active figure in the work of the Junior Woodman circle. At the present time she is the local unit's chaplain and is a seventh grade pupil in the Plattsmouth schools.

The election of Miss Kruger as inner guard and Miss Kaufmann's various posts is an evidence of the splendid work and success that the Plattsmouth Grove No. 90 has achieved for itself.

ATTENDS SOJOURNER'S MEETING

William F. Evers, superintendent of the Nebraska Masonic Home, with J. R. Reeder, master of the local lodge, were at Omaha Tuesday evening. They attended the meeting of the Sojourner's club of which Mr. Evers is an honorary member. The club, composed of army and navy officers of the United States, members of the Masonic order, stationed in and near Omaha, has in the past few weeks suffered the loss of a large part of the members by transfer to other points for service.

FATHER SINKULA HOME

From Thursday's Daily—
Rev. Joseph R. Sinkula, pastor of the Holy Rosary church, returned to his home at 1610 Pearl street last evening following a twelve-day period spent at the St. Catherine's hospital. Father Sinkula has been taking treatments for anemia, a malady that he has suffered from for some time. His condition is said to be much better.

UNION WINS GAME

From Saturday's Daily—
Last evening the Union high school six-man football team won from the Rulo team at Athletic park by the score of 42 to 26. The game was to decide the mythical championship of southeastern Nebraska, both teams having been outstanding in the play of the year.

The weight of the Union team was one of the causes of their victory as they had much advantage on the lighter Rulo group.

Coach B. A. Hoffman served as referee, Bill Steinkamp as the field judge, James Jones as timekeeper and Warren Allbee as the head linesman.

Dora Fricke Reaches U. S. from Germany

Necessary to Secure Passage From Italy Due to War Conditions—Travels on Conte deSovic

The relatives and friends of Miss Dora Fricke, who since the early part of July has been in Europe, were pleased Sunday by the message that she had arrived in New York on the "Conte deSovic," one of the large ships of the Italian line and which has made the voyage along the southern steamship lane.

Miss Fricke had gone to the old world to enjoy a sightseeing trip and to visit sections of Germany from which her family had migrated many years ago. While there she was able to visit Cassel, Berlin and other of the very attractive cities of the old world. She was there when the war developments caused the requests for Americans to leave the belligerent countries.

The condition of the shipping facilities from the Holland ports as well as the intense mine and U-boat war caused friends to advise the attempt to sail from the Italian ports to the United States. A part of the journey to Italy was made by plane to reach Naples for sailing.

The conditions of the war torn countries has given a great deal of anxiety to the other members of the family over the safety of Miss Fricke and it was a relief to learn that she was again back in the United States. It is expected that she will leave as soon as possible for this city.

MARRIED AT PRESBYTERIAN MANSE FRIDAY EVENING

Friday evening at the Presbyterian manse occurred the marriage of Oliver J. Schneider, of Cedar Creek and Miss Vivian Mae Goss of Omaha. The wedding was performed most impressively by Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, the beautiful ring service being used in the ceremony.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Verna Goss, of Omaha, sister of the bride as bridesmaid and Gerald Ault, of Cedar Creek, cousin of the groom, as best man.

There was a party of some fourteen of the friends from Omaha accompanied the bridal party here to witness the ceremony, they returning to Omaha after the wedding.

The groom is a member of one of the prominent families of Cass county, a son of Mrs. Mary Schneider of Cedar Creek and where he was born and grew to manhood. He is a graduate of the Plattsmouth high school in the class of 1928. He is now engaged as a salesman.

WINTERS IN CALIFORNIA

Frank M. Massie, one of the pioneers of Cass county, is enjoying the winter season this year in California, visiting with his son, F. E. Massie at Sacramento. Mr. Massie is delighted with the west and the very beautiful valley of the Sacramento river as well as the other sections of the state that he has been able to visit.

VISIT CITY FRIDAY

Mrs. J. H. Rogge of Lincoln, and son, Fred H. Rogge of Cheyenne, Wyoming were in Plattsmouth Friday, November 24 and spent the time looking after a number of business matters.

Cass County Bankers Confer Farm Problems

Group of Bankers Hear From Agricultural Conservation Program Representatives.

From Friday's Daily—
Last evening a group of some fourteen of the Cass county bankers gathered at the Hotel Plattsmouth for a dinner and conference on some of the problems that are promised as to crop production.

One of the main objects of the conference was to discuss any cut that might be made in the acreage allotments for corn under the new farm program that will soon be announced. It was the general sentiment that the acreage in Nebraska should not be made less than in 1939 owing to the fact of the shortage of the crops caused by drought over a large part of the state. The other corn states of Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, had been fortunate in having large crops and on which production the cut was figured, while in Nebraska the crop was not sufficient for the immediate need of feed.

Many of the bankers at the conference favored rather a production reduction instead of that of acreage, as a means of reaching the desired result for the government plan.

A well directed thought at the meeting was the urging of a change of crop classification for Nebraska that might aid the acreage shortage in corn for the farmer. This was that the government program permit the farmers of this state to plant forage crops in the acreage taken out of corn cultivation, thus making it possible to secure desired feed for the stock on the farms.

It was the general expression that a further meeting should be held when the allotment of crop acreage had been made and then definite action taken to try and secure concessions for the state.

The bankers had as their guests and to participate in the conference, W. B. Furman and R. L. Green of Lincoln, representing the Agricultural Conservation program, and Glenn H. Le Doyt, former Nehawka teacher and now secretary of the Nebraska Grain Improvement association. Henry F. Nolting, Roy O. Cole and C. L. Wiles were also present as representing farmers in the discussions.

The conference was presided over by W. J. Wunderlich of Nehawka, president of the Cass County Bankers association.

JURY FINDS FOR PLAINTIFF

From Friday's Daily—
The jury in the district court in the Matter of the Estate of Fred W. Casady, deceased, Alpha Rogers vs. Gayle Casady, administrator of the estate of Fred W. Casady, returned a verdict Wednesday night but which was not opened until this morning.

The verdict was opened in court by Judge Wilson today and found for the plaintiff in the case, setting the recovery of the plaintiff as the sum of $1,250.

The suit was one to recover claim for the care of the deceased, which had been denied by the administrator of the estate. On the hearing in the county court the claim had been denied.

The members of the jury hearing the case comprised: Eugene Colbert, V. A. Mockenhaupt, John Dill, Clarence Meisinger, Everett Sudduth, Alda L. Taylor, John A. Libershal, Ed Kohrell, E. H. Wescott, Edward Selker, C. C. Cross, H. D. Fischer.

The case of Carter Albin vs. Lester Shrader, suit on a note which was to have been tried this morning was dismissed on the stipulation of the parties and Judge Wilson then excused the members of the jury panel until Monday, December 4th.

SPEND THE DAY HERE

From Thursday's Daily—
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Manacek, of Omaha, were here today to enjoy a visit at the home of Mrs. Manacek's aunt, Mrs. R. A. Bates. Mr. Manacek, who is employed by the Union Pacific was enjoying a day off from his work on the road.

VISITS IN CITY

From Thursday's Daily—
Harvey L. Statton was a brief caller in Plattsmouth today, visiting with Elmer Webb of the Journal force. The two were roommates in Hamburg, Iowa some 24 years ago, when the former was manager of the telephone exchange there and the latter was employed on a newspaper. Although his home is in Omaha, Mr. Statton spends much time in the southwest, where he has extensive gas and oil well interests. He made a trip here recently with other parties to look over the Goldenrod oil well near Murray.

Garden Club Has Interesting Meet Wednesday

Good Attendance and a Great Deal of Interest Shown in Program of the Evening.

The Plattsmouth Garden club held their meeting Wednesday evening at the dining room of the Hotel Plattsmouth, a very pleasing number of the members being present to take part in the meeting.

A very interesting discussion was enjoyed as the members of the club told of the different varieties of birds that had been seen around their homes during the present season and a very large number were listed as having visited this community.

The club also voted to purchase and donate to the library a book on bird life which will be of the greatest interest to the patrons of the library and patrons of the bird life.

During the evening Stephen Devoe was heard in two vocal offerings, "Where 'ere You Are" and "Shortnin' Bread," Mrs. Devoe playing for her son.

Mrs. R. C. Jahrig and daughter, Miss Fern, gave a very interesting story of the floral exhibits at the New York world's fair, particularly of the Czech glass blowers who were engaged in making artificial flowers and which was one of the features of this part of the fair.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Raymond Recek and son, Rodney and Miss Florence Kalasek of Sanger, California arrived in Plattsmouth Thursday and are to spend the next ten days visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kalasek, Sr. They will also visit with their two sisters, Mrs. Edward Gradoville of this city and Mrs. Ira Inman of Louisville and their families. They anticipate spending a few days visiting with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kalasek, Jr., who returned from California recently, of Bellevue, Nebraska. They are former neighbors.

They will also visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Kalasek and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Kalasek and family of this city, the men being brothers of the ladies.

VISIT IN OLD HOME

From Friday's Daily—
William J. Hesser of Los Angeles departed this morning in company with Sam Hyatt for Hyattville, Wyoming, for the west after a very pleasant visit here with old friends.

They came here in company with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gopen of Hyattville, the party accompanying a large shipment of cattle to the Omaha market and then coming on to this city where the Gopen and Hesser families had been old residents.

Mr. Hesser has been in Wyoming for the past summer with his sister, Mrs. Sam Gopen and family and while here they visited at the Oscar Gopen home and with many other of the old friends in this part of Cass county.

CONDITION QUITE SERIOUS

Vince Kelley, of Joe's New Way, was in Omaha late Wednesday afternoon where he was donor for a blood transfusion for G. E. Nearhood of this city. Mr. Nearhood is in very critical condition and his condition has made blood transfusions necessary.

Name Committee of One Hundred for State Progress

Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce Has Large Part in Proceedings at Grand Island.

Friday at Grand Island was created a "Committee of One Hundred," which will have as its purpose and objective the formation of a Nebraska progress program.

The meeting was sponsored by the Associated Industries of Nebraska at a meeting in Omaha a few weeks ago and to which the cities of the state were invited to send representatives.

The membership of the committee as constituted was from agricultural and industrial groups of the state and designed to advance further the general interests of the state in a broad program which will be carefully thought out and made effective. Charles D. Amon, Lincoln, was named as the temporary chairman of the committee until the membership can select their own head.

Plattsmouth was represented at the meeting by President J. Howard Davis of the Chamber of Commerce, Attorney A. L. Tidd and T. H. Pollock. The Plattsmouth group was called upon and gave their suggestions as to the needs of the state development and stressed the river navigation plans as affecting the eastern portion of the state.  - York—Dick Freeman.
- The meeting placed a number of matters on the list to be studied and which will have the full consideration of the members.
- These included:
- Study of present transportation rates with a view toward obtaining equalization of costs.
 - Water and soil conservation and utilization of water resources.
 - Propagation of outdoor life and development of recreational facilities.
 - Immediate research and investigation into new uses for farm products.

Encouragement of vocational education.

A survey of advertising and industrial promotion activities being undertaken by other states.

A campaign to encourage markets for Nebraska manufactured products and farm products.

A study of the state's corporation laws with a view to needed revision.

Adjustment of state gasoline tax law as it concerns the development of aviation industry.

These suggestions, it was emphasized, were made only for consideration of the committee and not as recommendations.

George W. Olson Files for Office of Congressman

Local Man Who Has Often Entered Lists for Governor and Congressman, Is Again Candidate.

George W. Olson, who has several times appeared as candidate for nomination for governor, state senator and congressman, Friday again entered the political arena, filing as a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in the first district.

Mr. Olson has issued no formal statement of his position or aims on the questions of the day but is expected to favor a stronger policy in regard to the administration of the relief departments of the government on which he made his campaign before, as well as a workable farm program.

Mr. Olson has not succeeded in securing the nominations in the past but feels that on this occasion as the first democratic candidate to file and no incumbent to oppose that he may be successful. The trend of the voters to select officials with Scandinavian names also has encouraged the local candidate in entering the race.

Mr. Olson has in recent months been engaged in farm work and which will permit his campaigning from now until the April primary in the district.

Mynard Club Holds Election of Officers

Richard Spangler Named as the New President of Group—Committees Will Be Named Later.

The Mynard Community club held their annual meeting on Friday at the club building at Mynard and with a very large number of the members in attendance.

The meeting was presided over by Royal Smith, the retiring president, and who conducted the arrangements for the election of the new officers. The officers selected were as follows:

President—Richard Spangler.
Vice-President—Mrs. Glenn Wiles.
Secretary—Mrs. Royal Smith.
Treasurer—Otto E. Lutz.

The committees for this year will be named later by the new president and will take over their work at the first of the year.

The evening was closed with the serving of a much appreciated luncheon and the members departed with feeling of the deepest appreciation for the services of the officers in the past year and for a year of great success for the new officers.

VISITS AT OLD HOME

Mrs. Kenneth Morehouse and Mrs. M. E. Sness and little daughter, Eugenia Mayonne, of Onawa, Iowa, were here Wednesday to visit at the home of Mrs. Sness' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sylvester. Mrs. Morehouse will be remembered here as Wilda Johnson.

AID SOCIETY MEETS WEDNESDAY

Members of the Christ Lutheran church Ladies' Aid society will meet on Wednesday afternoon, November 29 in the church parlors. Hostesses will be Mrs. George Stoehr and Mrs. Clarence Meisinger.

Sons Pay Honor to Fathers in Fine Banquet

Pleasant Event Held at Parlors of the Christ Lutheran Church West of This City.

On Thursday evening the annual Father and Son banquet of the Christ Lutheran church of Eight Mile Grove, was held at the church parlors, the event this year being one in which the sons served as the hosts.

The committee in charge, Ervin Albert, Merrill Meisinger, Emmons Meisinger, Clyde Meisinger and James Schafer, had arranged a very delightful program and the ladies had prepared a delicious menu for the event which comprised:

- Roast Pork
- Mashed Potatoes
- Green Beans - Apple Compote
- Bread - Butter - Jelly
- Pickles
- Pumpkin Pie with Whipped Cream
- Coffee

The group singing was led by David Fowler, Jr., of the Plattsmouth high school faculty, E. H. Wescott being the accompanist.

Rev. A. Lentz, in his usual clever manner handled the role of toastmaster and presented the various numbers on the program.

The fathers were welcomed to the happy occasion by Forest Engelke-meier, and the response given by Otto Schafer.

The male quartet directed by Mr. Fowler and composed of Arthur Hild, Glen Kraeger, Reuben Meisinger and James Schafer, gave two numbers, "Winter Song" and "Going South," in a very fine and artistic manner. Mrs. Fowler serving as the accompanist.

Mr. Fowler also added to the musical portion of the program with two violin numbers, "Cavatina" and "Love's Dream," Mrs. Fowler playing the piano accompaniment.

Milo Price, of the Plattsmouth high school, was the speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting address, his subject being "Price of Peace." The address showed a great deal of thought and study on this important matter.

There were ninety-five fathers and sons gathered around the dinner table and filling the room while the younger sons of the families served as the waiters. The mothers, wives and sisters of the committee members and officers of the ladies' aid prepared the repast.

Many interesting facts were developed as to the members of the oldest father, John Urish the second oldest; the youngest son present was Dean Maatsch of Odell, Nebraska; the youngest father was Arnold Meisinger; the father of the most children was Otto Schafer; the father of the most boys, Otto Puls. The best corn huskers in the party were Elvin Davis and Lewis Puls.

HEAR TRAFFIC CASES

Two new traffic violation cases were heard in the court of Judge A. H. Duxbury. G. N. VanWert was charged by the state highway patrol with reckless driving and on a plea of guilty was fined $10 and costs. complaint was also filed by the highway patrol against L. C. Shymkewich, charging the defendant with reckless driving, to which he pleaded guilty and received a fine of $10 and costs.

CARD OF THANKS

With the feeling of the deepest gratitude we wish to express our thanks for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our loved one, also particularly do we wish to thank all those who took part in the funeral services and sent remembrances.—Mrs. Roy Dew, Children and Grandchildren.

HERE FROM WESTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Molak, of Weston, Nebraska, are here to spend a few days at the home of their son, Dr. F. R. Molak and family. Mr. and Mrs. Molak are long time residents of Saunders county.
