Mrs. Ashbaugh Hostess—
Mrs. Carl Ofe was a guest of the Wednesday afternoon bridge club members at their weekly card party, which was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. D. B. Ashbaugh.

First, second, and third prize winners were Mrs. Theodore Ptak, Mrs. Neville Hodson, and Mrs. George Jaeger respectively. The Ace of Spades prize was awarded to Mrs. Herbert Schuetz.

Presbyterian Federation—
Circle No. 2, of which Mrs. Henry A. Schneider is chairman, served as hostesses at yesterday's meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Federation, which was held at 2:30 at the Fellowship room of the church and which was preceded by a prayer service at 2:15. Mrs. E. G. Giles serving as the leader.

Mrs. Wiley Sigler had charge of the devotionals at the business meeting and recited a Christmas story. Mrs. R. C. Shellenbarger sang the beautiful yuletide hymn, "He Shall Feed His Flock" from "The Messiah," with Mrs. J. Russell Reeder serving as accompanist. Mrs. R. W. Knorr presided at the business session and plans and activities for the coming Christmas season were discussed.

Mrs. Glen Valley served as program chairman and presented Emil Weyrich, who showed pictures of the Holy Land and other beautiful pictures of the parks and scenic spots in the Colorado country. The committee served a luncheon

From Friday's Daily—
Golf Club Entertains—
Last evening the Plattsmouth Golf club entertained the members and their ladies as well as a group of the friends at a very pleasant dancing party at the Eagles hall at Sixth and Pearl streets.

The event brought out a large group of the lovers of the dance and who had a most pleasant time for several hours in the pleasures of the latest dancing numbers.

The committee in charge had arranged a very pleasant affair and which was very much enjoyed by those who had the opportunity of attending.

Methodist Federation Meets—
The First Methodist church Women's Federation met in the church parlors Thursday for their general December meeting with a large group of members and guests in attendance.

Mrs. James C. Lawson had charge of the devotionals and she used the Christmas story from the second chapter of Luke. Highlights of the business session were the submitting of reports on the plans and activities of the coming holiday season among the three circles.

The Dorcas circle, of which Mrs. Fred Howland is chairman, had charge of the refreshments and program. Mrs. Lowell S. Devoe served as program chairman and presented the high school sophomore girl's sextette, which comprised Willa Sylvester, Wilma Nolte, Juanita Sigler, Dorothea Duxbury, Gertrude Cloidt and Maxine Graves. To the accompaniment of Miss Ruth Westover the sextette sang "Ciribirim," an Italian folk song. Mrs. C. C. Westcott gave a book review of Lloyd Douglas' book, "Home for Christmas." Mrs. Flora Arn, missionary chairman, introduced Mrs. A. H. Duxbury who brought the missionary lesson by reading a letter from a missionary in China. This missionary was formerly an American girl, who died just recently; however, her letter to her home church in San Jose, California was written and mailed before her death. The program concluded with Charles Newton singing a number of Christmas carols.

The Dorcas circle then served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

From Saturday's Daily—
Card Club Meets—
Last evening the H. M. J.'s card club was pleasantly entertained at a Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McMaken. The evening was spent at cards and in which prizes were won by Mrs. Wilma Hutchison and Mrs. Fred Howland. Guests of the club for the evening were Mrs. Herman Tiekotter and Mrs. Arp. The members after the games, enjoyed the exchange of gifts and followed by the serving of refreshments.

Entertain at Christmas Party—
On Friday evening the ladies of Circle 1 of the St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church Ladies' Guild were entertained at a Christmas dinner party given by Circles No. 2 and 3 as a reward for winning the new membership contest recently staged by the organization. A delicious dinner was served and during the meal they were entertained with a delightful program. The tables were decorated with Christmas colors. It was learned that Circle No. 1 has secured twenty-one new members alone and the total number of new members is forty-four. This brings the membership of the Ladies' Guild up to the total of eighty-two members, making it one of the largest Ladies' Guild organizations in the district. After the dinner devotionals were led by Mrs. S. G. Schick and a business meeting followed. The officers elected for the year 1940 are as follows: Mrs. Frank Horsak, president; Mrs. P. A. Meisinger, vice-president;

Hold Christmas Party—
Thursday evening the members of the young married people's class of the Methodist Sunday school had a very pleasant Christmas party at the club rooms of the church. The members of the group enjoyed games, under the direction of Harry White and also a program, "Battle of the Sexes" was staged in which all were tested as to their general knowledge. Later in the evening the members had an exchange of gifts and at the conclusion very much enjoyed refreshments were served.

Clubs Meet This Week—
Mrs. F. I. Rea entertained the members of her Two-Square bridge club Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. C. Petersen as a guest. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Petersen, Mrs. Lester Gaylord, and Mrs. Henry Starkjohn. Members of the Bi-Monthly pin-

Two guests—Mrs. Rudolph Iverson of this city and Miss Olga Pucelik of Omaha—were present Thursday afternoon at the L. S. Pucelik home when Mrs. Pucelik served as hostess to the Thursday Afternoon II bridge club members. Mrs. William Schmidtman, Jr., Mrs. C. H. Martin were the prize winners.

Mrs. Louis Svoboda served as hostess to the Stitch & Nibble sewing bee Thursday evening. The bee has had a vacation of the past three weeks' and, therefore, brought out all of the members to this week's meeting. The sewing bee will hold their Christmas party next Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Zitka.

Thursday Afternoon I bridge club members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Henry Goos at 617 Locust street and this club's awards were presented to Mrs. Emmons Richey and Miss Verna Leonard.
