Amazing Good-Will Offer to All Journal Readers

98c-Sample Set on Display to the Journal Office.

There is being displayed in the in the mountain country. Journal business office one of the five volume world history sets which this newspaper is offering its readers How Changes in at 98 cents, postpaid-actually less than 20 cents a volume.

While no pretentious claims are made that this is the equal of college or high school text books-we do believe it is the most complete unmatchable value at the price.

Volumes 1 and 2 are devoted to United States history, volume 3 to ancient history, volume 4 to modern bistory and volume 5 to contemporary history. The set is standard library size and covers 3000 years of history, up to and including the year 1937. It is indexed for ready reference and profusely illustrated with portraits of the great, maps and reproductions of famous documents.

We believe it is the finest general purpose history you can buy for at least double and up to four or five times the price we are able to offer it to our subscribers.
