Moved to Near Alvo.

John Schlaphoff moved last week to a farm over near Alvo where he will farm. The many friends here while they dislike to lose them as neighbors are hoping that they will like their new home and as well prosper and make many friends there.

Begins Taking Census.

W. J. B. McDonald, who has been selected as the census taker for Elmwood precinct which includes the two villages of Murdock and Wabash started his work early last week and will be required to complete the work by the first of May. When viewed the blanks which are to be used it appeared to us that there was plenty of work to be done before all of the residents of the precinct have been contacted.

Class Has Pictures Taken.

There are fourteen members of the 1940 senior class of the Murdock high school who are to graduate at the close of the school year. They were over to Lincoln last Wednesday where they went to have their pictures taken for the use of the closing days of school and later.

Will Take a Vacation.

I. G. Hornbeck, who has been the general and accommodating agent for the Rock Island railroad for nearly forty years at their local station, departed Monday in company with his brother, Louis Hornbeck, who is a traveling auditor for the Modern Woodmen of America, and was going south to take up his work in the state of Arkansas. Our fellow townsman is going at this time to be with his brother and follow his usual custom of spending some time at Hot Springs each year, taking advantage of the medicinal baths available at that place, and he will spend some three weeks there while his brother works a surrounding territory.

Results of Village Election.

The village of Murdock held their election Tuesday along with other towns and cities over the state. With two places on the town board to be filled, there were four candidates on the ballot, Henry A. Tool, I. C. McCrorey, W. J. B. McDonald and George Cruise, with Charles Long as a "write-in" candidate. George Kruse and Henry A. Tool polled the highest number of votes and were the winning candidates.

With two to be elected on the school board, there were likewise four names on the ballot, I. C. McCrorey, Charles Schaefer, Herman Kupke and Ferdinand Reichman. The two highest were Mr. Reichman and Mr. Kupke, and they will hold office on the school board during the ensuing term.

With all good men running for the various offices, it was difficult for the voters to decide between them and there was no great difference between the number of votes polled by the winners and those polled by the losers. The town and schools are assured of a good, business-like administration of their affairs.

Former Plattsmouth Man Has Coin Collection

Raphael Janda of Kansas City, Exhibits His Collection at Numismatic Week Observance.

Numismatic week is a time set aside, which was observed in Bonner Springs, Kansas, Thursday, March 28 and climaxed yesterday, by collectors of old and rare coins to bring the attention of people to this hobby. To focus attention at Bonner Springs, the Commercial State bank, working with Frank Stuchlik, assistant cashier who is a Plattsmouth high school graduate of the class of 1926 and who is a second cousin of Mrs. Charles Vitousek, had arranged with Raphael M. Janda, 4241 Harrison avenue, Kansas City, Missouri, to have his collection at the bank in Bonner Springs Thursday morning, March 28. Janda has been collecting for the past sixteen years and has many coins which were used at some time as a medium of exchange. The coin collector is very well known in Plattsmouth. He is the son of Mrs. Josephine Janda, who resides at 1423 Main street, and a brother of Mrs. Harold Lillie, who resides at the same address.

It is assumed that the first money was coined in China about 1200 B. C. and bears no resemblance to the money of today. Coins on display included a series of nickels of each year from the first stamping in 1865 to the present time; pennies from the first coinage in 1793; a 1799 dollar; paper money of the denominations of 3c, 5c, 10c, 15c, 25c and 50c, used in this country many years ago. He also has bullet and glass money of the early ages, as well as coins from the Vatican City of the old Roman empire; Spade money used in 800 B. C.; Bar money of 1330 A. D.; and Sword Money of 1200 B. C.

These and many other coins were seen.

Mr. Drumm, three sons and two daughters were born to this union. Up to some eight years ago, Mrs. Drumm made her home at Weeping Water, where she had resided since 1906, when her husband died. Later she lived for about five years at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Marion Thacker, at Rockville, in the western part of the state. During the past three years she has lived at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Coatsman. Two sons, Ora and William, reside in California.

Mrs. Drumm suffered a severe attack of pneumonia and this coupled with her advanced age and feeble health resulted in her death. Besides her own immediate family, she is survived by a brother, Edward Follen, who resides at Scottsbluff, Nebr. Her father operated a mill along the Weeping Water creek in early days, was a minister of the Methodist church. She had been a member of that church for many years.

Funeral services were held Thursday from the Weeping Water Methodist church, and burial was in Oakwood cemetery at Weeping Water.
