UNION ITEMS.

A. L. Becker transacted business in Omaha on Tuesday.

L. Morris and family of Otoe were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morris of Union.

Mike Roddy was a visitor in Union last Tuesday, spending a short time with his nephew, Elmer Withrow.

For use at the state farm southeast of Union, the state purchased a new International tractor of the caterpillar type, for use in the general work on the farm.

Miss Helen Gude of Nebraska City who has been visiting for the past two weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. E. Morris, returned to her home last Sunday.

Mrs. Rozella Clarke was a visitor in Council Bluffs Tuesday, being a guest at the home of her brother and sister, A. R. Kennedy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hinds.

Miss Bettie Austin of Falls City, who has been here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoback, is spending this week at the home of her uncle and family, John Hoback, on the farm northeast of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Becker and Mary had as Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ehlers and little daughter Mary Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Becker and daughter Mary Anna, Miss Watkins and Donald Becker.

Amos Hughson, wife and children of Plattsmouth were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Midkiff. Other guests there that day included the Earl Freeman and Oscar Midkiff families of Avoca.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Martin and son, Mrs. C. W. Hoback and daughter Marjorie and Mrs. W. A. Taylor visited friends and did some shopping in Omaha one day last week. They made the trip in the car of Mr. Martin.

Completes Tri-County Recheck
Melvin Todd, who has had charge of the recheck of the AAA program in the counties of Lancaster, Otoe and Johnson, has completed the work, on which he has been engaged since early in June.

Gospel Team Here
A gospel team from Omaha were here last Sunday evening and aided with the union services on the streets by rendering a group of old gospel songs.

Played Ball in Missouri
The fifty baseball players of Union went to Watson, Mo., last Sunday, where they played a spirited game with the Missouri lads. The result was a victory for the boys of the Show Me state. The score was 4 to 3.

Home from Trip to Black Hills
Mrs. Rozella Clarke arrived home last week from a most pleasant trip to Wyoming and points of interest in the Black Hills. She accompanied Mrs. Vesta Clarke and the latter's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Newton. At Hulett, Wyoming, they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Borne, and on their return home were accompanied by Mrs. Borne, who has been visiting here and at Plattsmouth, leaving for her home in the west on Wednesday.

On their trip, they covered over 2,000 miles and enjoyed every foot of the way.

Jack Roddy Walks a Little
Jack Roddy, who has been at St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City, where he is recovering from a sudden and severe illness of some weeks duration, continues to gain, although rather slowly. Frank Bauer and the three nieces were down to see Mr. Roddy last Sunday and found him cheerful although unable to walk but a little at a time.

Advised of Aunt's Death
Miss Gussie Robb, who has been staying on the west coast since she left the Union post office, making her home with relatives at Long Beach, received the sad news of the passing of an aunt, Mrs. Wallbridge at her home at a town in Florida. On receiving the message, she hastened to the home town of the aunt to attend the funeral. While there she met another relative, a cousin, and with her departed for the east, where she will visit for some time, so it will be at least several weeks before Miss Robb returns to Union and her friends in this vicinity, who have missed her.

Funeral of Mrs. Stilwell

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Boyd Stilwell, mother of Mrs. O. D. Easter, was held last Monday at the Wyoming Methodist church. Interment was in the Cowles Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Stilwell, who was 77 years of age, was a pioneer Otoe county school teacher and daughter of an early-day county superintendent. Her death occurred Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Easter.

She was born June 11, 1863, at Maryville, Tenn., and came to Nebraska with her parents when nine months of age. The family located near Nebraska City.

On September 8, 1887, at Dunbar, she was united in marriage to Herbert Stilwell, spending her lifetime in Nebraska except for several years in California and New York.

Educated at Peru and Bellevue, Mrs. Stilwell taught school several years, being considered a very successful teacher. She was also interested in church work and served the Wyoming precinct community as Sunday school superintendent for six years.

Mr. Stilwell died at Lincoln some six years ago. Surviving are the daughter, Mrs. Easter; two sons, Macy Stilwell of Burr, Nebraska, and Chester Stilwell, of Fresno, California; two brothers, John Boyd, of St. Elmo, Ill., and Edward Boyd, of Lincoln.

Preceding the services at the church, brief services were held at the Easter home. Rev. George Randall of Omaha, who was pastor of the Wyoming Methodist church at the time Mrs. Stilwell was active in Sunday school work, and Rev. McGaughey of Union, were in charge.

BOOST KITTENFALL ASSOCIATION

The principal rules and regulations of the Nebraska Amateur Softball association, as explained by L. Remde of Omaha to team managers last evening, were briefly: To keep players from jumping from one team to another; to assure both teams will show up for scheduled games, and to provide a uniform set of tournament rules.

Team managers felt that it would help hold their teams together and provide much more interest in the games.

Several of the colorful Omaha teams such as the Firemen and the Police teams have expressed their willingness to play Plattsmouth and have been waiting for Plattsmouth to join with the amateur association so they may be sanctioned.

Omaha teams and most of the Nebraska teams are sanctioned, they may not play a non-sanctioned team.

INJURED BY BALL BAT

Sunday evening Wilbur Eaton, Jr., who was attending the kittenball game at Richfield between the Timm team and Richfield, suffered a severe injury. The young man was sitting watching the game when a batter let loose of his bat which struck the youth on the side of the face and bruising it quite badly. It has not been determined whether any bones were broken or not.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Friends, relatives, and close associates of Louis A. Puls, who is now stationed in the United States navy, will be interested to learn that he is now at a different address in Norfolk, Virginia. Murray

Frank Vallery was looking after business matters in Murray the fore part of the week.

Miss Clea Little, who is one of the employees at the Murray Garage cafe, spent Sunday with friends in Omaha.

Bert Latta, a cousin of Uncle James Latta, came down from his home at Kenesaw last Wednesday for a visit here.

We are advised of the birth of a fine baby son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lee, who reside between here and Union.

Henry A. Schwartz completed the threshing of his wheat and oats on Monday of this week and is well pleased with the returns.

Mrs. J. W. Berger, who has been visiting at the home of a daughter in Oklahoma, writes that she is feeling fine and enjoying her visit in the south.

Ernest Suddith and Louis Klemma have completed their harvest and threshing and are well pleased to have it out of the way, also with the returns.

Anderson Lloyd had an increase in the livestock population on his farm last week, when twin calves were born to one of his cows. He was offered $100 for the trio, but refused.

Mr. and Mrs. Gussie E. Brubacher and their daughter Beverly Ann spent last Sunday at Auburn, where they were guests at the home of Mrs. Brubacher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lash.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis, of Ventura, California, were visiting with friends in Murray for a time last week, and were joined by M. D. Davis of Falls City, who spent the day here with friends.

Fred Drucker, who has been farming the Rex Young farm east of Murray, realized a yield of only 11 bushels per acre, but had crop insurance, and the government will make up the difference.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Adams had as guests last week, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Adams, of Ventura, California, parents of Jesse, and M. R. Davis and family of Fairplay, Mo. They left for their respective homes Monday.

As proof of the fact that Cass county is a fine farming territory, we refer our readers to the yield of 46 bushels of wheat to the acre on the Claude O'Connor farm and a yield of 75 bushels of oats to the acre on the William Minford farm.

Mrs. Fred Bourne, of Wyoming, was a guest in Murray last Friday, calling on her friend, Mrs. Earl Merritt. She accompanied relatives back from their visit in the west, for a visit at various points in this vicinity, and is enjoying her stay very much.

Charles R. Troop and wife, of Plattsmouth spent the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cisney. Also visiting there was Mrs. W. A. Lewis, mother of Mrs. Cisney and sister of Mr. Troop, who expects to return soon to her home at Laurel, Neb.

Interested in Natural History

Dr. G. H. Gilmore was a visitor in Plattsmouth Monday afternoon. He is greatly interested in natural history and has made much research throughout the country, being counted as a most thorough natural historian.

Visiting with Friends Here

Wayne Yost of McCook arrived in Murray last Monday afternoon via bus, coming to visit his great aunt, Mrs. Ben Dill and other members of the Dill family. Wayne is a grandson of David Yost, who formerly resided near Murray and many years ago went to the western part of the state to reside. He plans to visit here about a week, calling on various relatives and old friends.

Home from the West

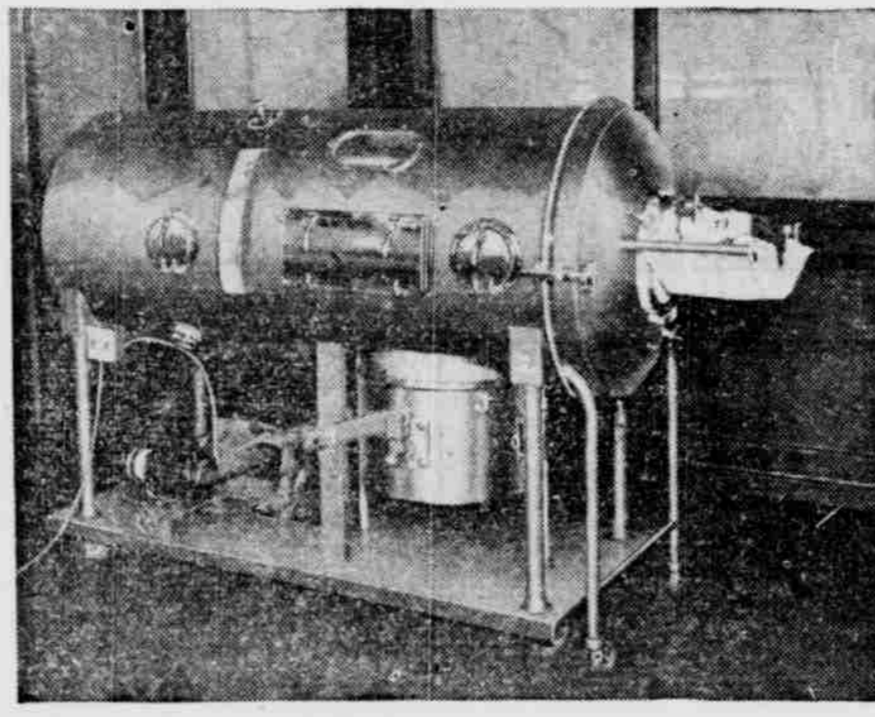

Mr. and Mrs. George Nickles returned home last week from a visit of more than a week at the farm of Mrs. Nickles, located near Holbrook. They found the small grain very poor, but as the wheat was insured by the government, they allowed the government to take the wheat and pay the insurance.

Mr. Nickles says corn out that way looks like it might make a crop, being only about ten inches in height and not far enough advanced for the hot winds to injure the grain like they are beginning to do in the more advanced fields of this section. Like here, the weather there has been very dry, and if this condition continues

IRON LUNGS ONE OF PRODUCTS OF COLUMBIAN STEEL TANK COMPANY

TO SHOW "IRON LUNG"

Many visitors attending the state fair this summer will have their first opportunity to see an "iron lung" which is pictured above. This life saving device is known as the Columbian Respirator. It will be seen in actual operation at the exhibit of the Columbian Steel Tank company.

With a background of more familiar products like Red Top grain bins and stock tanks, this mechanical breather has often been thought to be a chick incubator or some new type cream separator. Since 1929, however, "iron lungs" have been making headlines. They have been a major factor in saving the lives of victims of infantile paralysis and many other diseases which cause paralysis of the respiratory system.

Learning the need of this equipment, many communities, both large and small, are purchasing Columbian Respirators with funds secured by popular subscription. Collection of the fund is usually sponsored by an active civic organization.

the corn crop as well as the wheat will be practically lost. All are hoping rain may come to alleviate the situation.

Henry Heebner Very Poorly

Henry Heebner, who has made his home in Cass county nearly as long as it has been in existence, residing in Murray for nearly twenty years, is reported as very poorly and was compelled to remain in bed all day Sunday. Mr. Heebner has been making his home in the newly constructed residence of George Berger. Mr. Berger takes a great interest in his old friend and on Monday was able to get him up and out on the porch, where he enjoyed resting in his easy chair.

The many friends hope he will soon overcome his indisposition.

United with the Church

Last Sunday morning at the regular services at the Christian church, four members were received into the fellowship of the church. They are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lancaster. They have been regular attendants at the church services as well as of the Bible school and all were pleased to welcome them into the full fellowship of the church.

Urged to "Print It"

A number of our friends in Murray said this week: "Tell about your experience, for that is news as well as any one else's would be." So, here goes:

Our car was refractory Monday, the blue day of the week, and we had to have a cut out placed on the generator before we could get it to operate. Then, when we had gotten as far as the Murray corner, a tire went down. We thought that as a result of long experience we had become rather expert at patching tires, but after three attempts we gave it up and our friend W. L. Seybolt took a hand and with the car got us to Murray, where we purchased a new tube and Mac Churchill assisted us in mounting it. Thank you all—that is the story.

Upset by a Porker

We are all more or less familiar with the Biblical story of the devil entering a herd of swine. Now, we know old Nick is still there, for it manifested itself last week in an obstreperous porker at the W. G. Boedeker farm. Glen was assisting with the work of dividing a herd of hogs for shipment to the Omaha market, when this one made a dash for freedom, upsetting Mr. Boedeker, who suffered a fractured finger and

FUNERAL OF CHILD HELD

Saturday morning, July 20 at 9 o'clock occurred the funeral services for the late Joan Duda, whose death last Thursday noon brought such a profound shock and sorrow to the members of the family. Numerous out-of-town friends and relatives attended the last rites at the Holy Rosary church and Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Among the pallbearers listed were included active and honorary members. Active pallbearers were John Slatinsky, Matthew Sedlak, Raphael Toman, Eernard Kubicke, Thomas and Edward Gradoville. Honorary pallbearers were composed of Joan's Sunday school class members, distant relatives, and close associates, Joan Gradoville, Rose Marie Prohaska, Mary Lou Walling, Mary Irene Libershal, Josephine Sedlak, and Teresa Slatinsky.

Assisted by the church choir and acolytes, Rev. Joseph R. Sinkula, pastor, celebrated the requiem high mass. During the mass Mrs. Ruth Janda McClanahan sang the lovely solo number "Ave Maria"; Miss Dorothy Svoboda served as the organist. Mrs. McClanahan was Joan's godmother at the time of her baptism. Father Sinkula also delivered the sermon.

Out-of-town friends and relatives here for the funeral were Michael Warka, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vallery, Mrs. Gerald Vallery, Lincoln, Nebraska; Mrs. J. B. Bloom, Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. Robert Slatinsky, Seattle, Washington; Miss Rita Slatinsky, Sedalia, Missouri; Miss Nellie Kaufmann, Evanston, Wyoming; Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Richfield, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Thayer and son, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gregg, and John Sutton, Omaha; Mrs. W. J. Taylor, McCook, Nebraska; Mrs. Anna Scott, Wymore, Nebraska; Albert Sedlak, Omaha.

Mrs. Robert Sedlak, Mrs. Charles F. Janda, and Mrs. Hermie Svoboda were in charge of the numerous floral bouquets.

Joan Ruth Duda, eldest daughter of the Michael Duda family, was born in Plattsmouth on May 18, 1930, and passed away from this world on Thursday, July 18 at the age of ten years and two months. Joan died on the eighth birthday of her sister, Florene. In May the deceased child completed her fourth year of schooling.

Besides her parents, there survives two sisters, Florene and Shirley; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaufmann and Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Duda; great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaufmann, all of Plattsmouth, and Michael Warka of Lincoln; two aunts, Mrs. Mary Heffner, Hollywood, California, Mrs. Anna Taylor, McCook, Nebraska; one uncle, Fred Duda of Los Angeles, California.

Card of Thanks
We wish to thank our kind friends and neighbors for their acts of love and sympathy during our recent loss of daughter, sister, and granddaughter, and also extend grateful thanks for the beautiful floral tributes to our loved one.—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Duda and Family and Grandparents.

AN APPRECIATION
I wish to take this means of expressing my deepest appreciation of the many messages, cards, flowers and remembrances, during my illness. They will long be gratefully remembered as expressions of the kind friends.—Miss Helen Warner.

SCOUTS HAVE BALL GAME
Saturday afternoon the kittenball team of the Murray Boy Scouts were here to play a group of the Plattsmouth Scouts, largely composed of the members of the Christian church troop. The game resulted in a victory for the local team by the score of 15 to 11. The pitchers for the Plattsmouth team were Bill Goch-nour, Eugene Sell and Dick Noble, while for Murray, Nickles did the hurling.

Amateur Night to Again Feature Harvest Days

Louisville's Annual Celebration to be Held August 15-16-17—No Fee to Enter Contest.

Louisville is again planning an Amateur Night contest for the second night of their summer celebration, "Harvest Days," which is being held this year on August 15-16-17. Amateurs from Cass and Sarpy counties are eligible. Prizes will be given the winners and there will be a fine gift for every contestant who participates.

There are many capable musicians, vocalists and other artists in this community who have a chance of winning one of the prizes. These are invited to enter the contest. There is no entry fee. The only requirement is that you fill out one of the application blanks and register it with the committee chairman, Miss Lenora Gabel, of Louisville, before August 7th.

For the benefit of prospective Plattsmouth entrants, the Journal has secured a number of application blanks which may be secured at this office.

The Louisville committee is putting forth its best efforts toward making this year's show "tops" in entertainment features. Plattsmouth will send the usual large crowd to our neighboring cement city on the Platte.

SUFFERS BEATING

Judge Herbert Rhoades of Omaha was astounded last Friday by this story of a woman asking divorce in court of domestic relations:

"I was in the bath tub (June 2) when my husband came in and hit me on the head with his fist, and then jumped in the bath tub and started choking me and started to pull me down in the water. When I woke up he was hitting me on the head with a washboard and he broke that to pieces on my head. When I came to again he had left the bath room, and when I stepped outside, he hit me on top of the head again and I ran from the house."

Mrs. Bernice Knutson, 22, won the divorce from Stuart Knutson, 23, an architect. They were married last December 15. Mrs. Knutson gave her address as 3027 North Forty-eighth street. Before her marriage she was Bernice McCool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell McCool, former Plattsmouth residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kalasek of this city were guests of the Mitche-McCools on Sunday, June 2, the date of the beating. Mr. Kalasek accompanied Mr. McCool to an Omaha hospital, where Mrs. Knutson was rushed.
