

BREX Upsets Timm's Tavern in Close Game

Question Is Who Won—Ashbaugh Gets a Home Run—Game Raises Three Questions

By ROBERT COOK

From Friday's Daily—

The score was 7-7, but that doesn't mean a thing. Confusion ran rampant as the game ended with Joe Phillips in the role of "Now he's out, no he isn't."

Will Ralph Timm grow a beard and become a hermit? Will Fay Spidell go into training? Will Joe Phillips pitch camp at third base? Who knows!

TIMM GIVES GAME TO BREX

By ROBERT COOK

From Saturday's Daily— Manager Fay Spidell can lift up his hands and shout because Ralph Timm has decided to let Thursday night's embroglio go on the record.

Last night following the game with the Yeomans, Timm and his players held a conference in the tavern and decided to give this game to the BREX and beat them the next time. Manager Timm said, and I quote:

"I was absolutely wrong. Spidell was right all the time. Phillips was out. No question about it. But we'll beat 'em the next time. Bring me a short beer."

This game puts Pacific Junction in undisputed first place unless Soennichsen's upset them.

Timm's Tavern Takes Revenge on Wes Bass

Beat Yeomans 5-1—Phillips Hurls Excellent Game—Hayes and Jacobs Field Well.

From Saturday's Daily—

By ROBERT COOK

Last night Timm's Tavern re-venge themselves on Wes Bass and the Yeomans by a score of 5-1. Joe Phillips pitched for the locals and gave up six scattered hits. Bass gave up only five hits, but his wildness proved to be his downfall.

BREX entrenched themselves firmly in the sixth. Spidell reached second when Toman dropped his high fly. With two gone, Nelson walked and stole second. Parriott let Shiffer's roller get by him, and both runners tallied.

Then came the supposedly lucky seventh, but it was very unlucky bringing on more disorder and confusion than the famous Plattsmouth-Murphy-Did-it game. Parriott slapped out a ringing double to start the inning. Ashbaugh was safe as O'Donnell fumbled his grounder. Parriott scored, and Ashbaugh went to second when Spidell threw wild at first in an attempt to get Ashbaugh. Hula made a splendid running catch of Noble's bloop. Phillips' high bounding ball went for a single when Hula failed to reach it in time. Hayes was safe when Nelson tried to get Ashbaugh at third. Ault forced Ashbaugh at the plate. Then it happened. Spidell stepped out to give Dew a few instructions, and Phillips walked off third base. Empire Sutton promptly called him out. Ralph Timm ran out protesting that Karr had called "time out" and that Spidell had acknowledged it. This was fiercely denied. The entourage walked to home plate, invited Empire Hall to join the squabble and went back to third. Players and spectators clustered around Phillips who stood like the rock of Gibraltar on the hassock, refusing to budge an inch. Heated words were exchanged, but no one indulged in any fistfights. After about ten minutes of word wrangling, the lights went out leaving the field and yours truly in the dark.

Further information will be acquired through this paper. The game left three questions to be answered.

Plattsmouth Trounces Team from Manley

Hayes, Jacobs Give Only Two Hits—Errors Let the Manley Hurlers Down.

From Saturday's Daily—

By ROBERT COOK

Yesterday in a twilight game Plattsmouth turned back Manley 6-1 on the two-hit pitching of Bob Hayes and John Jacobs. Manley did not have a full team. Neither Gruber was here so Welte pitched three innings. Stearns pitched two, and Hicks one. Harry Shiffer played second base for Manley to fill in a vacant spot. Hayes hurled three innings allowing but one hit and getting credit for the win, and Jacobs threw four giving up but one hit. Noble, Phillips, and Petet led Plattsmouth's attack with two hits apiece. Bergmann's double and Welte's single were Manley's only hits.

Plattsmouth scored three times in the first. Hayes was safe when Tyo let his roller into left field and went to second on a passed ball. Noble singled Hayes to third and stole second. Lutz walked to load the bases. Jones lined out a single scoring Hayes and Noble, and Lutz also came in when Isaacs dropped this throw to the plate.

Plattsmouth scored twice in the fifth. Jacobs was safe on Tyo's bad throw. Noble singled and both advanced on a passed ball. Phillips singled, and both runners came in. Manley scored their lone run in the sixth. Welte walked and attempted to steal second, but Parriott's bad throw sent him to third. Stearns walked and stole second. Isaacs was safe on Jones' wild throw at first, and Welte scored.

Plattsmouth also scored in the sixth. Petet doubled for Plattsmouth's only extra base hit and went to third on a passed ball. Parriott walked and stole second. Hayes got on when Welte missed his third strike. Shiffer scooped up Jacobs' grounder and tagged Hayes as Petet scored.

Best fielding came when both Jones and Ault were caught off third in the fourth in which Welte, Tyo and Shiffer figured in the tagging.

STAGE FAITH FAST

ADEL, Ga., Aug. 3 (UP)—Spurred to seek new faith victories by the apparent recovery of a six-year-old girl from a copperhead snake bite, suffered during religious rites, two Holiness church leaders today tasted for "divine deliverance"—presumably from behind the bars.

The Rev. W. T. Lipham, who had shouted the gospel of snake handling for thirty years and No. 1 protege, Albert Rowan hadn't eaten in 24 hours in jail, where they were held on charges of assault with attempt to murder.

They were lodged here Tuesday when word spread around this south Georgia cotton and tobacco town that Albert's daughter, Leitha Anna was dying from the bite of a copperhead that had struck her during rites in the Rowan yard.

JOHNSON SCORES ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UP)—Senator Hiram Johnson, R., California, criticized by President Roosevelt as being no longer a liberal, accused the chief executive today of using "the same old stiletto" and said he could not support the president's "veiled and un-American deeds leading us down the road to war and dictatorship." Johnson, who campaigned for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932, said my record of thirty years is open for everyone to read. It is my treasure. No man, however exalted his position, is with impunity to attack it.

WINDSORS ON SEA

Aboard American Export Liner Excaltur, at Sea, Aug. 3 (UP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, one day out at sea with their entourage and their four dogs, breakfasted at 9 a. m. today on their way westward to the Bahamas.

The day dawned clear and the sea was smooth.

After the ship sailed yesterday, under a clear sky, the duke and duchess dined in their suite. Later they were and dispatched radiograms to friends.

At 10:30 p. m. they took their dogs, three Cairns and a Sealyhan, for a walk on deck. They retired soon afterward.

TAKE MINISTER ALONG

OMAHA, Aug. 3 (UP)—When Betty Christiansen of Bennington, homecoming queen at Creighton University last year, and Dr. Albert Nischke, 22, Chicago, who was graduated from Creighton dental school in June eloped, they took Betty's own pastor along to perform the ceremony.

The elopement occurred June 7 at Seward; Rev. W. V. Churchill of the Bennington Lutheran church, and Mrs. Churchill accompanied the pair to Seward. The secret came out when Betty made ready to go to Chicago to join her husband who is practicing there.

Tornado Claims Two Lives in North Dakota

Village of Dawson Struck; Sixteen Homes and Six Business Houses Wrecked.

DAWSON, N. D., Aug. 3 (UP)—Two persons were dead and a third near death today in the wake of a tornado that wrecked 16 homes and six business houses in this village of 350.

The tornado, roaring along at a 70-mile-an-hour pace, cut a swath through the town's business district half a block wide as it swept in from the west. At least 30 persons were injured, several seriously.

The dead were Forrest Knudson, 34, Kidder county surplus commodities director of Steel, N. D., who almost was decapitated when a flying timber pierced the entire length of his automobile, and George Carlson, 10, Dawson, who was killed by flying debris.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, 36, was near death in a Bismark, N. D. hospital. She and her son were thrown almost 100 feet when the "twister" wrecked their home. First reports were that Mrs. Carlson had been killed.

Knudson was fleeing the Dawson commodity depot when the hugh timber rammed through his car. A companion was uninjured. The depot was wrecked, leaving piles of debris, and cases of canned goods exposed.

The room was swept from the Dawson garage, leaving the cars standing on the concrete floor. The side of the schoolhouse was blown out, the General Store was moved off its foundation, and trees and telephone poles were toppled.

In hospitals at Bismark, which is 55 miles west of here, are Mrs. Lena Everding, 66, Gust Gramlich and his wife, Mrs. Gottlieb Schlattley, 44, and Mrs. Carlson, all of Dawson.

SLAYING AND SUICIDE

SIoux CITY, Ia., Aug. 3 (UP)—Authorities today sought a motive for the shooting of Bill Messick, 60 year old Sioux City cafe operator, and Winnie Sommermeyer, 13, whose bodies were found late yesterday at Crystal Lake, Neb., resort community five miles from here.

Messick was said to have shot the girl and then killed himself. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sommermeyer, Sioux City.

Messick and the girl went to Crystal Lake yesterday afternoon and went swimming.

Later they went to a beach tavern operated by John Voss and ordered sandwiches and pop. Messick apparently drew two revolvers from a paper bag and fired 11 shots at the girl.

When Voss tried to interfere, he was warned to "go away or you'll get the same." Voss fled to call police and heard two more shots. He returned to find Messick fatally wounded.

The slain girl's parents said Messick had been a friend of the family for several years and often had taken the girl places. They knew of no reason for the slaying.

Canada Finds Indians Eager to Do War Bit

Many Now With Colors—While Tribes Open Money Chests—Fought in the World War.

By ROBERT C. HANSON

REGINA, Sask. (UP)—Strong tribesmen of the prairies—Sioux, Blackfeet and Cree—who fought for each other's scalps when the intruding paleface was scarce, are on the warpath again.

But their own weapons and feathers and warpaint have been left behind in tribal lodges for the edification of tourists. This time they are fighting with white men's weapons and against the foe of their great White Father.

Settlers of another generation found their worst enemies were the rugged Indians of the prairies. Pioneers crossing the west coast had more difficulty with the plainsmen than with any other—whether they crossed the continent in what is now Canada or the United States. Local history for every town between the 95th and 115th longitude has pages on the frontier wars and the savage attacks by the red men.

Fought in World War

But with the passing of years, the red man has accepted his lot. In some cases, he won wealth, sometimes fame. He played his role in the last war of Canada and the United States with Germany. And now, the red man of Canada is even more patriotic.

The way in which the Indians have enlisted in the army since last fall turns some of the outbursts of the Voelkischer Beobachter into sour nothings. Early in the year the noble Nazi Journal spoke at length of the mistreatment of the "Indian minority" in Canada and the growing discontent of the native red men.

However, there were no uprisings; no demands for plebiscites or requests for German "protection." Still vividly remembering the visit paid them a year ago by King George and Queen Elizabeth, the Indians have shown their willingness to fight to the "last ditch." Witchmen of the tribes have put their pet hexes on the German leader and soothsayers have been forecasting most disagreeable fates for the No. 1 Nazi.

No Yearning for Past

A chief of one of the bands living near Regina told of a tourist who visited the tribe's camp. The tourist asked the chief's son, now in the army, if he wished he were a brave in his grandfather's time. The youth replied: "I'd rather be a machine-gunner shooting Hitler!"

Health of the western plainsmen is generally on a higher standard than that of the Indians of the east and they find places in the armed forces with comparative ease. Many of them are serving in England with the Saskatoon Light Infantry. Units at home and in training have a good percentage of these "natural" fighters.

On many reservations, chiefs and councillors have been authorized, by popular vote, to convert large sums of tribal funds to war bonds and savings certificates. In addition, nearly all bands have voted to turn "interest money" into war savings of one kind or another.

The "interest money" is interest received each spring from lands sold from reservations to white settlers through the Indian department. The money is held in trust by the federal government, which deals with the Indians as minors in such affairs.

Indians at Crooked Lake turned over $2,500 to the war chest. At Fishing Lake, the Indian community voted a donation of $1,000. Piapot tribes bought $800 in war bonds. Several other groups made smaller gestures, while quite a few were refused permission by Indian agents, because band funds were too low.

They are strong for the Red Cross, too. One reservation held a field day and raised $420. One Indian put his only cow on the auction block. Squaws recently sent a bundle of Red Cross headquarters here containing 54 pairs of socks for soldiers and 12 sets of pajamas.
