Organize Study Club

Mrs. Clarence Wilson, of Avoca, was elected president of a new study club, organized at her home Saturday evening, Oct. 19th. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Dick Berner, vice-president; Mrs. Lorenze Roloff, secretary. These ladies plan to meet monthly to study such topics as, "Know Nebraska, It's a Great State," "Life of Madam Curie," "Our Territorial Possessions," "National Parks," and many others of common interest to all.

Can Enter International Show

Cass county farmers have been invited to enter samples of their grain in the International Hay and Grain Show which is held annually in Chicago in connection with the International Livestock Show.

Classes are open to farmers and 4-H club members and Smith Hughes students and there are no entry fees. Classes have been arranged for corn, wheat, oats, barley, grain sorghum, hay and small seeds. Entries are due by November 10.

Samples of Nebred and Cheyenne wheat and Burt 518 oats will be entered in the Chicago show by the crop growers.

New Bindweed Chemical

Commercial mixtures of sodium chlorate and sodium arsenite known as "Chlor-arsenite" or "Meta-chlorate" are being offered for sale for the first time this year. In view of a possible shortage of available supplies of sodium chlorate, the commonly used chemical for bindweed treatment information on the new product should be of value.

The new product, the same as all arsenic compounds is deadly poison to all forms of animal life and must be used with caution wherever children or livestock may have access to a treated area. Special precaution must be taken to prevent breathing the dust when applying the mixture and rubber gloves should be worn.

Tests with these materials, at York, have not progressed far enough to be conclusive but it is possible that chlor-arsenite will prove as effective as sodium chlorate applied at the same rate.

How Healthy Are We?

Reports from various home demonstration clubs, over the county, call attention to the interest displayed by club members in their discussions on "Do We Want Health?" Cass county home demonstration women are studying the health conditions within their own county. Uppermost in their minds is the desire for (1) protection of the family against diseases which the application of existing medical knowledge can prevent or greatly lessen, (2) security against the continuous financial hazards of illness.

Seventy-eight project leaders representing thirty-five clubs have attended leader training meetings held the past two weeks, and are now leading the discussions within their local groups.

Suggestions for School Lunch

Since each meal in the day does its bit toward good nutrition the school lunch should be well-rounded in food value. A well-rounded school lunch should include each of the following kinds of food: Milk; whole grain cereal or whole grain bread; vegetable or fruit; egg, lean meat, cheese or fish; butter or other fat; sweets, as dessert.

Much of the palatability of the packed lunch depends upon the skill and planning of the sandwich maker. Several important points to remember are:

1. Sandwich fillings should be soft but not moist enough to soak the bread. The fillings may be prepared beforehand and stored in jars in a cool place.
 2. Shredded carrots, cabbage, etc. may be used to give a crispy texture.
 3. Day-old bread is preferable since it slices nicely.
 4. Dark breads such as whole wheat, rye, oatmeal, rye, oatmeal and date breads are excellent for sandwiches.
 5. Butter should be creamed before using and spread evenly to the edge of the bread.
 6. All ingredients of fillings should be chopped, ground or flaked. Add a little top milk or salad dressing to give the spread consistency.
- For suggestions for combinations with meat, fish or eggs, cheese, dried fruits and vegetables, and peanut butter, for sandwich fillings, ask for Extension Circular 9911.

Shipping Fever Vaccine Doubtful

As they move stocker and feeder cattle from the range to feed lots this fall Cass county stockmen are on guard against shipping fever, which is most likely to occur at this time of year.

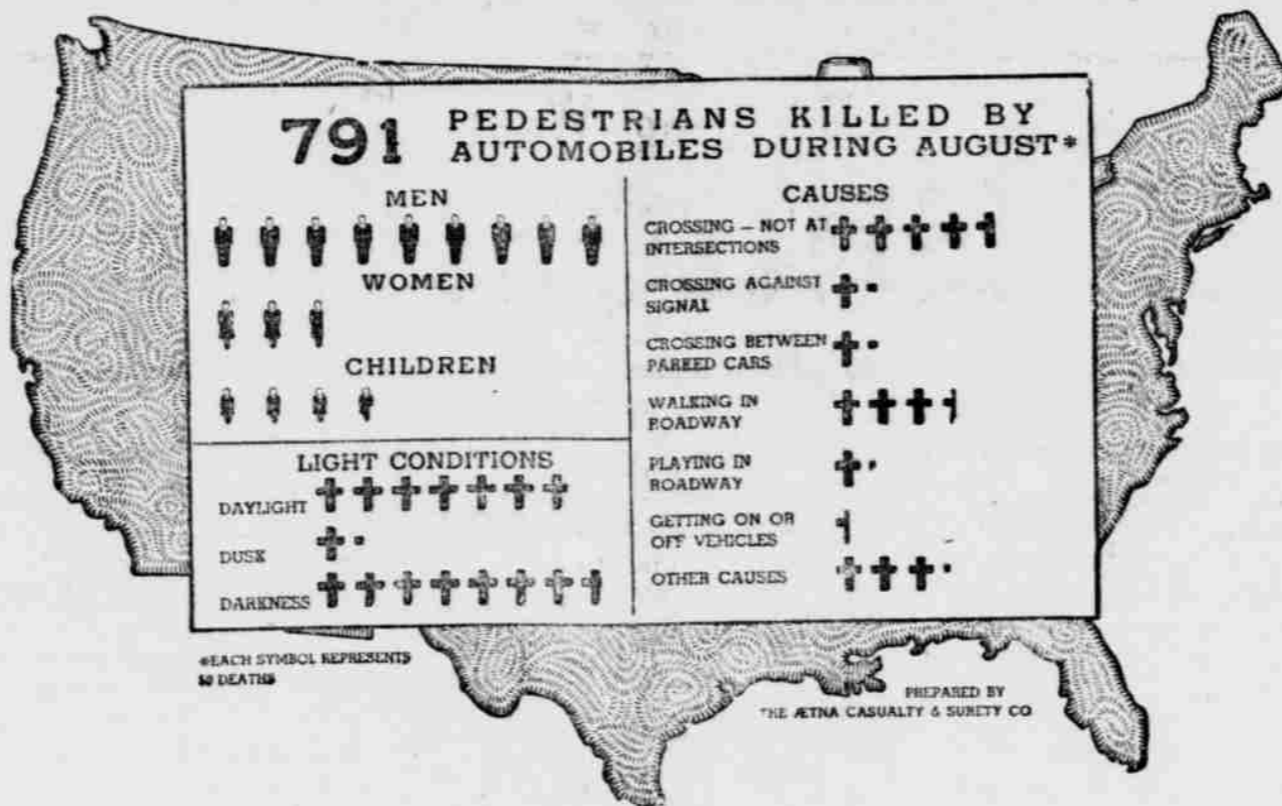

The primary cause of this malady has not yet been determined. Dr. S. W. Alford, extension livestock sanitation specialist, at the Nebraska Agricultural College, informed County Agent Waldo. However, research workers in the United States are making a determined effort to find some specific organism that may cause the disease. There is much evidence against the common practice of causing it hemorrhagic septicemia.

The best means of preventing shipping fever is to give cattle the best of care just before, during and just after shipment. There has been a wide difference of opinion over the question of vaccination as a preventative measure. Dr. Alford points out, "Veterinary literature is full of arguments for and against it. Reports from the field are equally confusing."

Reliable research with the products commonly used for this purpose shows them to be utterly worthless. "The entire history of vaccination in this field will not bear careful scrutiny," Dr. Alford comments. "In general preventive vaccination of cattle against shipping fever may rightfully be looked upon with much uncertainty."

He points out that vaccines are specific products. They immunize only against the specific infection for which they are designed. The specific causative agent of a disease must enter into the vaccine-producing process. Practically never in the history of either human or veterinary medicine has there been produced a dependable vaccine for any disease until the exact cause of the disease had been determined. "What reason is there to believe that shipping fever is an exception to this general rule?" he concludes.

GETS JOB DONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (UP)—Betty Klempa, a housemaid, finally had her way about arranging the furniture but she had to kill her mistress to get it.

Today the 19-year-old girl went to a homicide court. The mysterious murder eight days ago of Mrs. Leah Rubin, wife of a physician, was solved last night by her confession. She said that in a row about placing the furniture she clubbed Mrs. Rubin to the floor of her apartment with a baseball bat, then "finished" her with a butcher knife. Police revealed they had suspected her from the start because the attack on Mrs. Rubin must have been ferocious yet all the furniture was in place.

To perform all the duties devolved upon a national society by each nation which has acceded to the Treaty (The Treaty of Geneva) . . . To act in matters of volunteer relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their Army and Navy. . . . To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities, and devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."
