Moves to Improve Athletic Park Being Urged

Fencing of Park, Construction of Proper Seating Facilities and Small Field House.

In the past summer a number of the sport enthusiasts of the community carried on a campaign to secure funds that might be used in securing a fence for Athletic park on Washington avenue. It was given a most favorable response and a considerable amount was pledged. In the past few weeks there has been expressed a strong sentiment for extending the scope of the improvements to include the providing of proper seating capacity and a small field house for use of the players in football or baseball games. A natural setting at the park would make it possible at a very low cost to have a field house constructed at the south side of the field in or against the high clay banks. Here the facilities could be arranged for dressing rooms, baths, storage for equipment for the local team and proper dressing and bathing facilities for the visiting teams. Under the present setup it is necessary for the players to dress at the high school and then after a game to return to the school before they can clean up.

This is the time to give the matter serious consideration so that in the summer the work might be definitely started to give the city and the Plattsmouth high school a modern and up-to-date athletic park for use in many of the outdoor sports.

TURKEY LOSS 380
Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Perry who suffered a heavy loss to their turkey flock in the freezing weather of two weeks ago, report that the total loss was 380 of the birds. The loss will not be entire, however, as they were partially covered by insurance and also they were disposed of to the rendering works. The remaining turkeys are reacting well from their close call and getting over any effect of the near freeze. They are being kept near shelters in case of another sudden change in the temperature.

SUFFERS SEVERE ORDEAL

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Farney do not plan to celebrate Thanksgiving this week because Mrs. Farney is feeling she is lucky that she is living. Mrs. Farney underwent a tonsilectomy operation Tuesday morning and suffered a very serious condition throughout the day yesterday. Mrs. Farney seemed to bleed profusely for almost five hours. The bleeding was finally stopped, although it seemed impossible for a time. Although quite weak from the loss of blood, Mrs. Farney is somewhat better today, but still bedfast.
