From Thursday's Daily— Guests Here—

Mr. and Mrs. James Bridgewater had as their guests Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Marquette and family of Kansas City, Missouri, Mrs. Laura Sanders of Peru and Mrs. Maggie Mason of this city. The Marquettes will remain over the week-end.

Carolers Heard Yesterday—

Fourteen young people with Rev. James C. Lowson began caroling at 5 a. m. Christmas day. Members of the Methodist church Epworth League and their friends comprised the carolers. They were Elizabeth Ann Wiles, Mary Ann Winscot, Dorothea Duxbury, Claudene Keller, Phyllis Bourck, Janet Westover, Ronald Rebal, Warren Lillie, Hazel Kelley, John Bestor, Ruth Lowson, Kenneth Armstrong, May McCarroll, Betty Jo Wilson and Rev. Lowson.

A breakfast was served the group at the Masonic Home.

From Friday's Daily—

Jewells Leave Tomorrow—
After spending the Christmas holiday in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jewell and daughter, Nancy are expecting to leave for their North Platte home tomorrow. While here they were guests of Mrs. Jewell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitch, Sr.

Guests at Sulser Home—

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Dew and daughter, Patricia Ann, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Matt Sulser. Mr. and Mrs. Will Egenberger of Lexington and Mrs. Mary Egenberger and Mrs. Sidney Bell and son Richard also spent a short time at the Sulser home and with Mrs. John Hirz and Mrs. Lena Becker.

Tartschs Have Guests—

Holiday guests at the George Tartsch home are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Soucie and two children, Delores and "Maddy" of Lincoln. Mrs. Soucie is a niece of Mrs. Tartsch. Mr. Soucie is employed with the Havelock Water & Light department.

In Lincoln Christmas—

Miss Verna Leonard, local librarian, spent Christmas day in Lincoln with other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Leonard, Mrs. Edward Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bulger of Omaha, and Miss Leonard were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Worley.

Entertains School Friends—

Thursday afternoon, Miss Edna Mae Petersen entertained at her parents' home on Park Hill. Her guests, Fran Clóid, Harriet Goos, Jean Knorr, Pat Minor of Kankakee, Illinois, Rae Robertson, Marjorie Tidball, Mary Kay Wiles, spent the time playing Scotch bridge and contract. A Christmas tree gave light for the eating of refreshments served by Miss Shirley Petersen.

Spend Holiday at Lincoln—

Mr. and Mrs. Jack von Gillern and children, Jack II and Roger Creighton von Gillern, had the pleasure of entertaining the members of the family of both Mr. and Mrs. von Gillern on Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Troop, grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Troop, parents of Mrs. von Gillern of this city, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. von Gillern, Marian and Bobby and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. von Gillern of Nebraska City formed the party. There were two large tables very beautifully arranged with the red tapers, snowy linen and sparkling silver, centered with mission fruits and pines from California, a gift of Jack Troop, brother of Mrs. von Gillern.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Troop and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Troop also received a lovely remembrance from their grandson and son, Jack, in mission fruit and pines.

From Saturday's Daily—

Entertain at Dinner—
Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dobson and family were guests last evening at an informal dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burdie.

Entertains Club Members—

Special guests at the Two-Square Bridge club's meeting Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Emery Doody, Mrs. Charles Petersen, and Mrs. Emmons Ptak. Mrs. Fred I. Rea was hostess. Mrs. Henry Starkjohn held the high score; Mrs. Lester Gaylord, second; and Mrs. Doody drew the Ace of Spades. A luncheon culminated the eightsome party.

To Be Married Next Year—

Announcement was made this week of the approaching marriage of Miss Frances Kanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kanger of Omaha to Charles Skripsky, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skripsky, Sr. Tentative arrangements have been set for March, when "Frannie and Charlie" will march to the altar at the Immaculate Conception church in Omaha. The groom-elect is a nephew of Mrs. Bessie Aschenbrener of this city.

Annual Party—

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kaffenberger were host and hostess at this year's Christmas night party, when a large group of the Kaffenberger clan gathered for their annual get-together. The gift exchange was the main attraction. Bingo, cards, and party games were played that evening. Later the ladies served a luncheon.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kaffenberger that evening were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kaffenberger and son, Junior, Mrs. Margaret Kaffenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Kaffenberger and son, Mrs. Emma Kaffenberger and son, Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kaffenberger and son, Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Svoboda, Mr. and Mrs. George Stoehr, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stoehr, and Mrs. M. Engelkemier and daughter, Arlene.

Christmas Breakfast—

On Christmas morning C. L. Wiles and wife motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wiles at Mynard, and enjoyed a Christmas breakfast with the family.

The dining room was lovely with decorations of pine boughs and silver festooning and bells and a large gaily trimmed Christmas tree occupied the bay window.

After breakfast the gifts were distributed and much fun and frolicking ensued as Grandpa Ted endeavored to help the kiddies with their toys. Needless to say that the fire truck of Baby Alan Thomas got a good working out, but Janice's tricycle was a bit too small for Grandpa Ted. However, the pastry set received a good share of his attention.

This very happy occasion came to a close about noon, when Mr. and Mrs. Wiles departed to go to the home of Mrs. Caroline Cole to enjoy Christmas dinner with the mother of Mrs. Wiles.

Cole Family Dinner—

Mrs. Caroline Cole, of Mynard, was hostess to some of her immediate family at a Christmas dinner at her home.

Her son, Carl and wife of Brule, Nebr., sent her a turkey, dressed for the occasion, and with all the trimmings. Mrs. Cole served a seasonable feast.

The rooms were decorated with bells, festoons and wreaths in the Christmas-time colorings. The table carried out the red, white and blue color scheme, with the white linen table cloth, blue willow-ware dishes and blue water glasses and the red glass sugar, creamer and salad dish. The centerpiece comprised a large footed dish of various colored Christmas candies, with a lower dish of mixed nuts on either side.

Following the sumptuous dinner, everyone assembled in the living room, where the fir tree was awaiting, with gifts for all.

Among her gifts, Mrs. Cole received a box from her son Earle and wife, of Claremont, Calif., and also a remembrance from her granddaughter, Mrs. Fred Triletty of Duluth, Minn.

After the exchange of gifts, the remainder of the afternoon was spent in visiting and reminiscing.

Would that all humanity could have enjoyed "Peace on earth, good will toward men," such as we, in America, are privileged to do.

HERE FROM SOUTH BEND

From Saturday's Daily—
William J. O'Brien, of South Bend was a visitor at the court house today and enjoying a short visit with the many friends. Billy O'Brien is one of the best known residents in this section of the state, serving for many years as head of the state fisheries at Gretna, as well as being an active leader in his section of the county.

FOUR MILE CLUB

December 19th, the Four Mile club met at the home of Mrs. Albert Todd. Mrs. Earl Becker was assistant hostess. Most of the members were present.

The first part of the afternoon was taken up with the usual business session-lesson. In the absence of Mrs. Hugh Stander, Mrs. Leonard Born led the lesson, "Financial Planning is Building a Budget."

Following this the club gave a shower for Mrs. Henry Nolting. She received many lovely gifts. Two games were played, and Mrs. Vivian Wehrlein and Mrs. Anna Meisinger proved to be the most skillful and received the prizes.

At the close of the afternoon the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Four Mile Christmas Party

On the evening of December 19th the Four Mile Study club members and their families held their Christmas party at the Eagles Hall.

The group opened their evening of entertainment and fun with the singing of Christmas carols. Santa then arrived with his pack on his back and a gift for every one. The children spoke pieces for him as he presented them with their gifts.

As soon as Santa departed the group began playing pinocle. There were twelve tables. Prizes were won by Virgil Stander, Hugh Stander, Mrs. Albert Todd and Gene Nolting. Several visitors were also present to enjoy the evening.

The delicious lunch of sandwiches, cake, potato chips, pickles and coffee climaxed the evening, and all departed well pleased with the roomy "hall" as a place for a get-together and it is hoped to have many good times there in the future.

CHASE AFTER SPEEDSTER

A real chase after a speedster was staged through this city Thursday afternoon, the fleeing motorist reaching speed of ninety miles an hour, with Sheriff Joe Mrasek and Patrolman R. H. Beckman in hot pursuit.

The race had started out on highway No. 75 south of this city and continued on down Chicago avenue where the car of the highway patrolman skidded into the curb and was put out of commission. Sheriff Mrasek, fortunately, was in the vicinity and was able to help out the patrolman who grabbed the sheriff's car and the officers were off in pursuit.

The car was stopped finally at the Platte river bridge where traffic held up the motorist until the officers arrived and escorted the man on into the city for trial.

The man gave the name of Dwight D. Thompson and was from California.

The charge was that of reckless driving and speeding, to which he made a plea of guilty, receiving a fine of $20 on the reckless driving and $25 on the speeding charge.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

Judge A. H. Duxbury was at Omaha Thursday to attend the meeting of the County Judges Association of Nebraska, of which he is the president and had the honor to preside over the meetings.

Judge Duxbury is one of the veteran members in time of service in the state and has in recent years been very active in the work of the organization, being honored last year with being named as the president for 1940.

The meetings are held at the same time as that of the Nebraska Bar association so that the members can participate and enjoy the meeting of the attorneys.

PAPERS TO WEST COAST

As a Christmas remembrance the Journal is being sent to Mrs. Sterling Baier at Richmond, California, a gift from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jerry McCord of this city.

James Kozak, local boy, now with the U. S. coast guard at Port Townsend, Washington, is also one of the new additions to our readers on the Pacific coast.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER ILL

Mrs. Ed Thrall and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Koukal are bedfast at this time, both suffering from the effects of flu. They are being cared for at the Edgar Creamer home on West Oak street. Mrs. Thrall has been sick since Monday, and Mrs. Koukal became ill Christmas.

RECEIVE A SURPRISE

Early on Christmas morning while Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullen were peacefully resting at their home, the telephone shrilled out a call that was answered by Mrs. Mullen, expecting to hear a greeting from some local friend. The message was, however, much more pleasant, the son, Emmett, from Galveston, Texas, being on the line when the mother answered, and at once gave the Christmas message. It was one of the most happy incidents of an enjoyable Christmas day for Mr. and Mrs. Mullen.

LEWISTON NOTES

Dec Hostetter, who has been ill the greater part of the fall and winter, with a throat attack, is some better. He is able to be up and around and seeing after his work.

Mrs. John Gearinger, who has been in poor health for some time, is up and around the house and feeling improved.
