AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

Ronald Kissling, a member of the Great Falls, Montana Flying Club, has been awarded an advance scholarship by the civil aeronautics board as a result of receiving high grades in examinations taken at the completion of studies in the non-college unit of the civilian pilots' training program in Montana. He will go to Helena to take the advanced course after passing physical examinations.

Announcement of the honors won by Ronald and another young man, Bud Jesteadt of the Rocky Mountain Flying Club, was made at a recent meeting of the Great Falls Flying Club.

PLANT KEPT BUSY

The Norfolk Packing Co. plant here has been a very busy place in the past week with the force busy on many of the staple lines of foods. The big demand has been for hominy and spaghetti for which there has been a very strong demand as well as for vegetable soup lines.

The exceptionally good crops of 1940 kept the plant operating strong all of the summer and the fall and winter demands has kept the regular force largely engaged.

District President Visits Local Club Monday

Mrs. W. S. McGrew Here to Formulate Plans for Convention—Girl Scouts Entertain Ladies.

Members and guests of the Plattsmouth Woman's club were entertained by the Girl Scouts at their regular gathering at the Hotel Plattsmouth dining room last evening. The program was held first and was very entertaining and well presented. The Girl Scouts gave a short patriotic play entitled "Sign of America" and sang several songs, assisted by their leader, Miss Dorothy Lightburn and accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Olson. They closed by joining hands together in a friendship circle, giving the Girl Scout law and hand sign and singing a good-night song. Mrs. William Gorder, Girl Scout committee chairman, announced the numbers. All thirteen Girl Scouts were dressed in green costumes with orange ties and looked very trim and colorful.

The business meeting was quite long as there was much to discuss. It was decided that Plattsmouth Woman's club members sell tickets to the moving picture "Cheers for Miss Bishop," which will be at the Cass theater Wednesday and Thursday, March 19 and 20. Mrs. L. W. Eggenberger is ticket chairman, so anyone wanting tickets please contact her.

Mrs. McGrew spoke a few minutes on the Nebraska scholarship fund which is maintained by voluntary contributions. Each club is asked to give ten cents per capita to maintain this fund, but this is not compulsory. Mrs. McGrew commended the Plattsmouth club women on their splendid co-operation for the coming convention.

Devotionals were given by the club chaplain, Mrs. A. F. Moore, and the pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by the Girl Scouts. Hostesses were Mesdames James Mauzy, Fred Fourck, William Gorder, Claude Ruse, Erwin Siemers, and A. F. Moore.

The program for March 17 is expected to be outstanding and non-members will be charged admission. Mrs. Agnes F. Schmitz, of Lincoln, past president of the Nebraska Hairdressers' Association and president of the Nebraska board of examiners for 11 years, will give a talk on "Charm" and illustrate by selecting some member of the audience. This is to be held at Hotel Plattsmouth.

CONDITION STILL SERIOUS

The condition of Charles Sutton, of LaPlatte, victim of the auto accident north of this city Saturday, still remains grave. The young man is at the University hospital and very weak from the injuries he received in the wreck.

Pending the outcome of the case of Mr. Sutton, there has been no complaints filed in the matter of the wreck.

FILES SUIT IN PARTITION

From Wednesday's Daily—This morning in the office of the clerk of the district court a suit in partition was filed in which James Boardman and Dorothea Boardman are the plaintiffs and Orrin Erwin, et al. the defendants. The land sought to be partitioned is located near Union. James and Moran of Nebraska City, appear for the plaintiffs.

RECEIVES GOOD NEWS

Mrs. Hattie Kirker of this city has received the announcement of the fact that she is a great-grandmother, a fine little daughter being born to Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Welch on Sunday morning at the University hospital at Omaha. Mrs. Welch was the former Bernice Kirker of Ashland and where the family now resides.

HENRY GOOS SOME BETTER

Latest reports from the Clark hospital at Omaha are to the effect that H. F. Goos, who a few days ago underwent a major operation, was resting somewhat easier. Mr. Goos is still a very sick man but his improvement is most encouraging to the family and the host of friends in the community.

Scene From Feeders Day Program

Cass County Farm Bureau Notes

Copy furnished from Office of County Agent Waldo.

Feeders' Day Plans Complete

Several hundred farm men and women will probably be in Weeping Water, March 13th for the Cass County Feeders' Day. The program gets under way at 10 a. m. and will include a free lunch at noon. Several well known speakers will appear on the program. County Extension Agents W. H. Waldo and Jessie H. Baldwin predicted this week that 1,000 people will be in attendance providing the weather is favorable.

This meeting is a part of the Nebraska Pasture, Forage and Livestock program and farm people from several eastern Nebraska counties and county extension agents plan to attend the day's program. There will also be visitors from several Nebraska towns and cities and a few will be present from out of the state.

Program Includes Variety

One of the high spots on the women's program will be the appearance of Miss Margaret Stephen, home economics demonstrator for Armour and Company, Chicago. Miss Stephen will feature lard and meat cookery in her demonstration.

Prof. Wm. J. Yoeffel, chairman of the animal husbandry department of the college of agriculture, University of Nebraska, will give a pork carcass cutting demonstration during the forenoon and appear on the men's section during the afternoon. Other speakers include: Marshall Ross of Gibson, president of the Mid-West Wool Marketing Cooperative; Ed Janika, Walter Tolman and Elvin Frolf, all extension specialists from the agricultural college.

Paar Young of Nebawka and DeForrest Brown, Weeping Water will also appear on the program briefly. A motion picture "Meat and Romance" and the appearance of the Cass County Women's Chorus will be other features.

Only Test in State

The morning program on the Brown farm one and a half miles east of Weeping Water will be of particular interest to the men. C. S. Bartlett, Chicago, former world record holder for number of sheep sheared in 8 hours, will demonstrate his speed and spend the balance of the day giving instruction to experienced shearers and beginners on the Australian method. Sheep of different ages including western ewe lambs bought recently to use in breeding flocks for a 1942 lamb crop will be on display.

The swine feeding test, which is the only county trial of its kind in the state, will be of special interest to livestock feeders and dealers. In the test hybrid corn is being compared with open pollinated corn. A comparison of one lot receiving tankage in addition to corn and alfalfa is being made against a lot getting only corn and alfalfa. The results, it is predicted, will be very interesting and valuable to local farmers.

With the hog market going up, there is increased interest in hogs. Farmers who feed right stand a good chance to make more money. Results of the feeding tests should point out ways of feeding to make money.

Cooperating with the Cass county farm bureau and the county extension agents, in making the meeting possible are: State Extension Service, DeForrest Brown, Robert and Melvin Resso, Binger Lumber company and others. The free lunch is served through the courtesy of the Mid-West Wool Marketing Cooperative of Kansas City, and the business and the professional men of Weeping Water.

Women's Session

Farm and town women have not been left out but are to have their own session in the feeder day activities. This meeting will stress the use of lard. "Nebraska's Own Shortening," with Miss Margaret Stephen, demonstrating lard and meat dishes. Miss Stephen is home economist for Armour and Company of Chicago.

Prof. Wm. Loeffel not only has a definite reason for cutting a carcass as he does but he can also clear up any questions one might have regarding lard.

Other features of the women's program include Marshall Ross from the Mid-West Wool Growers on "Wool as It Affects the Consumer," a few numbers by the county chorus and the motion picture "Meat and Romance" by the National Livestock Meat Board.

Baked Foods Show

Another activity at Feeders' Day is the baked foods show which will concentrate attention upon the use of lard in baking. This event is open to anyone who cares to participate and the prizes go to the winners in each of the ten classes. Only products, however, in which lard has been the sole shortening used are eligible. Each exhibitor is required to submit her recipe with each entry. All entries must be delivered to the agricultural building, Weeping Water, by 10 a. m. on the morning of March 13th. They will be on exhibition throughout the day. Detailed information and entry blanks can be secured from the Farm Bureau office.

All in All

With such a variety of activities, Cass county Feeders' Day on Thursday, March 13th, promises to be a real gala event. And everyone is invited to attend—farm and town people alike.

Bill to Hamper Commercial Fishing is Killed

Measure to Bar Commercial Fishing for Catfish Killed in Committee at Lincoln.

There was a large number of representatives from Plattsmouth, Omaha and other Missouri river towns at Lincoln Tuesday to attend the hearing on LB 228, which would have restricted the commercial fishing in the Missouri river for catfish.

The measure was finally killed in the committee by a vote of 6 to 1 and the present laws and regulations remain.

The measure had sought to prevent trapping and selling of catfish and limiting the fishermen to the use of fifteen hooks and was very bitterly opposed by the fishermen up and down the Missouri river.

Among those heard on the bill was Alfred E. Ediger, veteran river man, who retorted to the charges that the catfish were diminishing in number in the Missouri river. Mr. Ediger, a veteran fisherman told the committee that the catfish after reaching a certain size, do not migrate into other streams. Only the spawners leave the river.

Others at the hearing pointed out that at least five hundred families in eastern Nebraska were supported by the commercial fishing in the Missouri river.

Recently a petition had been circulated here by opponents of the proposed bill and which received practically 100 per cent of signers.

SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

Mrs. Carl Kopischka and family received word Monday that Mrs. Yvonne Marechal, daughter of Mrs. Kopischka, was still gravely ill at Portland, Oregon, but her condition somewhat better than earlier reports showed. Mrs. Marechal is suffering from typhoid fever and pneumonia, her condition for days being critical, so much that her brothers, Carl and Louis Kopischka were called to the hospital, but apparently she has shown some improvement. She is at the Humana hospital, 2800 North Commercial Avenue, Portland and her room is 233 in case old friends might wish to send her greetings.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

From Monday's Daily—Today was the forty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Koebel, old residents of the city.

In honor of the event the family enjoyed a fine dinner party at the noon hour and the afternoon in visiting and games.

Those who were here to join the guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Freal of Nebraska City and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore and family of this city.
